New Deal 'Afraid of Peace'—Dewey

WARNS THRONG OF CONTINUED WAR CONTROLS

10,000 Cheer Talk in Philadelphia.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Picture on back page.)

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 7.—Gov. Dewey, Republican candidate for President, opened his campaign for election in this birth city of American freedom tonight with a declaration for freedom from the New Deal.

Dewey spoke before a throng of 10,000 to 12,000 in Convention hall that cheered itself hoarse at the candidate's criticisms of the present administration. The demonstration at Dewey's introduction was so prolonged that it crowded into his radio time. As he progressed thru his denounciation of the New Deal, he was interrupted frequently with whistles, shouts, and laughter. And the audience was as enthusiastic at the end of the address as it was at the beginning.

Leave for Louisville.

The evening outburst was but a repetition of that Dewey had received upon his arrival in Philadelphia from New York this morning when his motor cavalcade was showered with confetti and ticker tape as it moved from the depot to his quarters in the Bellevue-Stratford hotel.

The governor and his party left for Louisville, Ky., immediately after the rally here. Dewey will speak there tomorrow night.

Dewey tonight accused the New Deal of being "afraid of peace" because it is fearful of a continuance of its own failures to get the country going again.

Personal Security.

He warned that a fourth term victory in November will mean:

1. A dictatorship wheedled from the public on a Hitlerite appeal that liberties must be surrendered to attain personal security.

2. Post-war continuation of war time restraints.

3. A revival of the pre-war depression dole and regimentation.

4. A retention of men in the army and navy, after defeat of Germany and Japan, as an unemployment relief measure.

"Tonight we open a campaign to decide the course of our country for many years to come," Dewey said. "The next national administration will take office Jan. 20, 1945 and will serve until 1949. Those years 1945 to 1949 will be largely—and we pray, wholly—peace time years.

"For nearly three years our nation has been engaged in a world war. Today our armed forces are winning victory after victory. Total, smashing victory is in sight. Germany and Japan shall be given the lessons of their lives—right in Berlin and Tokyo.

"America—our America which loves peace so dearly—is proving once again that it can wage war mightily . . . that it can crush any aggressor who threatens the freedom which we love even more than peace. The American people have risen to the challenge. The war is being won on the battlefronts. It is also being won in the factory, the office, the farm, the mine, and the home.

"Yes, we are proving that we can wage war. But what are the prospects of success as a nation at

Fifty Millions 4th Term Fund Scheme's Goal

BY CHARLES CHEADLE.

A nation-wide scheme to collect 50 million dollars from war plants, labor unions, and federal office holders for the fourth term campaign coffers of both the CIO and the Democratic party in circumvention of the Smith-Connally and Hatch acts was revealed last night.

Picture of bust used in promotion.

The plan, one of the biggest slush fund raising schemes ever devised, was declared by its sponsors already in operation in 12 western states. It involves the "sale" by the Democratic machine and Sidney Hillman's CIO and PAC groups of composition stone busts of President Roosevelt, produced by a "noted sculptor," in mass production.

Admit Aim to Circumvent Law.

The operators of the plan admit in elaborate promotion literature that their plan was devised to circumvent the Smith-Connally act prohibiting political contributions from corporations and labor unions. This printed matter explains in detail how the promotors can make money for themselves and the Democrats and PAC, get around the law, and salesmen can collect thousands of dollars in "commissions."

The plan was revealed in a letter to a Chicago salesman, sought by the promoters to handle the scheme in the middle west, who refused to have anything to do with it and turned the letter and the promotion matter over to THE TRIBUNE.

The back page of the brochure contains reproductions of letters from Democratic committee representatives in California, Washington, and Arizona, indorsing the plan. The California letter tells how county committees "have taken hold of the deal enthusiastically" and adds that "we will distribute in excess of 1,000 of these busts"—for $500,000 to 5 million dollars—in that state alone.

Says "Deal" Is "Cleaning Up."

Following is the letter sent to the Chicagoan by Alonzo Victor Lewis Associates, 1411 Fourth Avenue building, Seattle, Wash.:

"In San Francisco the other day, my friend, —— ——, told me he thought you would be the ideal man to handle some eastern territory for a deal that is 'cleaning up' here in the west. —— was greatly intrigued, but could not spare the time to go east with it himself.

"The story in brief is this:

"We have had Alonzo Victor Lewis, one of the country's great sculptors, make a bust of President Roosevelt. It stands 22 inches high, weighs 30 pounds, and is made of dealstone, a synthetic stone that is durable and looks like bronze."

[Alonzo Victor Lewis is not listed in Who's Who.]

"We sell these originals to the Democratic central committee in

FOR GRAND STRATEGY ON THE POLITICAL FRONT

IF CHURCHILL, STALIN, and DE GAULLE ARE WEARING UNIFORMS THIS FALL, WITH OBLIQUE RIBBONS ON THEIR VESTS AND MEDALS STREWN ACROSS THEIR CHESTS, THEN WHY SHOULD NOT OUR CHIEF COMMANDER BE JUST AS GRAND, OR EVEN GRANDER?

CHEER PLEA IN HOUSE TO SAVE VETS FROM PAYING CIO TRIBUTE

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7 (AP).—A plea that war veterans be reemployed without the "CIO political action committee making our soldiers pay tribute" brought such loud applause from the house galleries today that Speaker Rayburn [D., Tex.] reprimanded the visitors, many of them men in uniform.

Rep. Stewart [D., Okla.] said in a speech:

"I call the attention of congress to the contemplated method of reemployment of our soldiers who are being mustered out of service. The present scheme . . . is to send them to the United States employment service, the left arm of the CIO and Sidney Hillman.

"The G.I. bill has made adequate preparation for the reemployment of the soldiers. I am told that the reconversion bill [now before conferees] is setting up an additional board which will conflict with the G. I. board.

"In the name of high heaven, let us do not have this CIO political action committee making our soldiers pay union dues, fees, and tribute when they return from service."

It was at this point that the galleries applauded.

WHEN A CLOWN ISN'T CLOWNING HE IS DOUBTED

Gus [Ginger] Gilard, 53, of 4521 N. Monitor av., had a little more trouble registering than the other new jurors who appeared for service in the Criminal courts building yesterday.

After getting Gilard's name and address, James Bernardo, the jury clerk, asked his occupation. "I'm a clown," he replied.

"That may be," Bernardo said, "but I would like to know your occupation."

"Clown," Gilard replied. "I have a monkey named Jimmie, but I left him home today. I used to work for the Barnum and Bailey circus. I'm a funny man. You know, clown."

"O. K., if you want it that way," the clerk said, "clown."

Army Board in Hawaii to Investigate Jap Attack

HONOLULU, T. H., Sept. 7 (AP).—Army authorities today announced the arrival in Hawaii of the army board that is making an official investigation of the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. The board, headed by Lt. Gen. George Grunert, was expected to remain two weeks.

Other members of the board are Maj. Gen. Walter H. Frank, head of the air service command, and Maj. Gen. Henry D. Russell of the war department's man power board. It's recommendations will decide the fate of Maj. Gen. Walter S. Short, commander in Hawaii at the time of the Jap attack.

Disabled U.S. Airmen Reach Exchange Port

TRELLEBORG, Sweden, Sept. 7 (AP).—A young American aerial gunner who lived despite the fact that his left arm was torn off by a German shell was among 1,700 allied prisoners of war who landed here today under an exchange agreement.

He was a River View, Ala., staff sergeant whose life was saved when the navigator on the United States bomber raiding Germany applied a tourniquet and tossed the gunner's parachuted figure down into Germany. He landed near Vechta, 32 miles southwest of Bremen.

War department rules prevent disclosure of the airman's name or details of his remarkable experience pending official notification of the family.

Nazi Prisoners Arrive.

The arrival of the wounded and seriously ill American, British and dominion war prisoners at this southern Swedish port followed the arrival in Goteborg of a load of invalided German war prisoners aboard the Swedish ship Gripsholm. The allied soldiers will proceed to Goteborg and embark on the Gripsholm and Arundel Castle.

Included were 239 Americans, mostly airmen shot down in raids over the continent. As the Swedish ships and a German ferry edged into the piers a Swedish military band played "Stars and Stripes Forever."

The men weren't sure where they were until they saw the blonde Swedish girls on the docks, since the Germans hadn't told them where they were being taken.

"Is that an American girl—let me look at her again," exclaimed a sergeant from Philippsburg, N. J., when he spotted Mrs. Martha Cook Wood, wife of Maj. Robert Wood of the American military attache's office in Stockholm.

Dunkerque Veterans There.

The decks were lined with hundreds of battle jacketed British dominion troops, and there was a sprinkling of turbanned Indians. Some of those exchanged were of the Gordon Highlanders rearguard which stood before St. Valery protecting the Dunkerque evacuation more than four years ago.

An American air gunner from Milwaukee, whose shoulder was smashed in a raid on Cologne a year ago, told how he parachuted down and landed in the heart of the city "right next to a beer barrel, and me from Milwaukee, too."

Another American gunner from Cleburne, Tex., was twitted by the others because he was wearing a blue R. A. F. jacket instead of his own lost blouse. "I'd go naked to get back to Texas," he said.

COUNCIL GROUP BACKS FREE USE OF DOGS IN MEDICAL RESEARCH

The city council is expected to act today on a proposed amendment to the city code which would deprive medical schools and hospitals of the free use of impounded animals for experimentation.

A subcommittee of the council's health committee, meeting with Mayor Kelly yesterday, formulated a report which members said would be acceptable to both sides. The aldermen declined to announce all of their recommendations, but they said the following would be included:

1. That medical schools and hospitals be permitted to obtain dogs from the pound without charge.

2. That the fee of $8.40 now charged for redemption of dogs picked up by dog catchers be reduced.

3. That owners of dogs turned over to medical schools or hospitals be permitted to reclaim the animals upon identification.

The subcommittee will report to the health committee this morning, and the full committee's report is expected to be presented to the council later.

The subcommittee is composed of Ald. O'Hallaren [18th], chairman; Ald. Lancaster [37th], Ald. Hartnett [12th], and Ald. Upton [30th].

BUYERS REDEEM 10.64 PCT. OF ALL U. S. WAR BONDS

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7 (AP).—Redemptions of all types of United States war savings bonds as of Aug. 31 amounted to 10.64 per cent of the total issued, the treasury reported today.

The total issued as of that date was $41,275,000,000, of which $4,391,000,000 had been retired, leaving $36,883,000,000 outstanding at current redemption value.

In the popular series "E" type, redemption amounted to 12.57 per cent of the $26,189,000,000 total issued. Redemptions of the predecessor series A, B, C and D bonds amounted to 17.52 per cent of the $4,406,000,000 total issued.

Series F and G bonds had the lowest redemption rate, 3.08 per cent of the $10,679,000,000 total issued.

ALLIES INVADE YUGOSLAVIA ON ADRIATIC COAST

Push Toward Reds; Nazis Face Trap.

ROME, Italy, Sept. 7 (AP).—Allied land troops began an invasion of Yugoslavia a week ago, it was officially disclosed tonight. They penetrated that country from the Adriatic sea on the west, in coöperation with Marshal Tito's Partisans, and struck toward a junction with the Red army thrusting from the east along the Romanian frontier.

The goal of the "land forces of the Adriatic," official designation of these fresh units hurled against Germany's collapsing Balkan fortress, is to seal off all Nazi troops in the lower Balkan peninsula.

[A London dispatch estimated 260,000 Germans faced entrapment.]

U. S. Airmen Hit Escape Tanks.

Coördinated allied naval forces have cut swaths thru dwindling German shipping along the Dalmatian coast, and allied airmen, with Americans strongly participating, have wrecked key rail escape routes of the Germans, said an announcement by Gen. Henry Maitland Wilson's headquarters.

Demolition of one railway caused the derailment of a German troop train and the killing or wounding of more than 1,000 of the enemy.

An allied junction with the Russians would be the first of the war. The statement did not disclose how far inland the allies were, nor did it give any details about where they landed. Whether Americans were participating in the group operation also was not disclosed.

Allies Strike in North.

The allied troops, however, are operating "in the north," the statement said, and have cut enemy lines of communication.

[A junction of the Russians and allies in northern Yugoslavia would seal off most of Yugoslavia, all of Albania, Greece and the Nazi garrisoned Greek Mediterranean islands—an area about 155,000 square miles, the size of California. It also would open invasion paths into southern Austria and Hungary, outflank the German Gothic line protecting the Po valley in northern Italy, and probably open up the Dardanelles strait shipping route thru the Black sea to Russia.]

Tito Cuts Rail Lines.

Marshal Tito's national army of liberation has systematically attacked the main lines of communication in Croatia, the northwestern part of Yugoslavia where Dr. Ante Pavelich's Quisling government has its capital in Zagreb.

[A London broadcast said Tito's headquarters had announced successful coördination with "the Russians on the one side and the 8th and 5th army on the other."]

Railways radiating to Ogulin, Bihac, and Belgrade have been cut in many places, the bulletin from Gen. Wilson's headquarters said.

"Farther south a central attack has been launched on the Brod-Sarajevo-Mostar line, and one line from Uzice to Visegrad," the bulletin added. "The main Zagreb-Belgrade line has been demolished in several places.

"From the air, the Balkan air force and the 15th air force, in addition to giving strong support to land operations, struck at railways and roads thruout the Balkans and particularly at the nerve centers of Nis and Belgrade."

DAD FACES COURT FOR HIDING BIRTH OF QUINTUPLETS

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 7 (AP).—Controversial circumstances surrounding the birth of quintuplets to Senor and Senora Franco de Diligenti July 15, 1943, were referred to Criminal court today to determine whether the father was guilty of falsification of a public document in his original registration of the births.

At the time the two boys and three girls were born Franco reported the births at two separate vital statistics offices so the fact that the babies were quintuplets did not become known until eight months later.

Franco explained later he took this course to avoid publicity. When the existence of the quintuplets became known, Diligenti appealed to the civil court to have the birth registration regularized.

STRONG CARRIER FORCE ATTACKS JAPS ON PALAU

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, Sept. 7 (AP).—American carrier fighter planes struck the Palau Islands in force on Tuesday, wreaking destruction on grounded planes and defenses on that island group forming one of Japan's links to the Philippines.

This thrust into one of the enemy's most secret and useful bases, only 550 miles east of the Philippines, was announced today by Adm. Chester W. Nimitz.

It was the third carrier task force strike reported this week, indicating an increasing tempo in the actions clearing the way for possible invasions. The operations emphasized Nimitz's recent words that "the way to beat the Jap is to keep on his tail."

Japs Stay Out of Air.

The other carrier raids, announced last Monday, were against the Bonin and Volcano Islands, from 615 to 750 miles south of Tokyo, and Wake Island, 2,300 miles west of here.

Nimitz reported that the man made typhoon, as he refers to these carrier borne attacks, failed to stir up enemy air interception over the Palaus. Grounded planes were set afire and anti-aircraft emplacements and warehouses were strafed.

The attack extended to Babelthuap Island, largest of the Palaus and at the northern end of the group. An ammunition or fuel dump there was destroyed and 17 small craft were left burning.

Palau now has been hit three times by carrier task forces. The other attacks were last March 30-31, the first of the war, and July 25-26. Scores of raids have been made by heavy bombers based in Dutch New Guinea.

Japan has lost 238 planes and probably 62 more in defense of the Palaus against allied losses of 34 aircraft.

More Islands Attacked.

Other aerial actions announced today were:

Kurile Islands, north of Japan—Paramushiro and Onnekotan Islands smacked on Tuesday by navy planes. Landing barges and patrol craft strafed.

Volcanos—Iwo Island bombed by army Liberators on Wednesday.

Marcus Island, 1,200 miles southeast of Tokyo—Bombed by army Liberators on Wednesday, making the second land based attack.

Marianas Islands, south of the Volcanos—Pagan Island's anti-aircraft positions subjected to rocket fire and strafing on Wednesday.

Nauru Island, just below the equator and west of the Gilberts—raided on Tuesday by army medium bombers.

Celebes Bombed Again.

GENERAL HDQ. SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 8 [Friday]—(AP).—In a new raid on Celebes, west of New Guinea, more than 50 Liberators smashed 15 Japanese planes on Tuesday, headquarters announced today. American planes continued to roam the Molucca Islands at will, the bulletin added.

At the same time, Gen. MacArthur reported, "It is now obvious that the Japanese 6th air division has been practically annihilated in its attempted defense of western New Guinea."

A Catalina flying boat, striking for the first time near Zamboanga on Mindanao Island, damaged two Japanese naval auxiliaries on Monday night and Tuesday morning. Zamboanga, the second city on Mindanao, is about 230 miles west of Davao. A patrol of Liberators harassed the Davao area.

Heavy bombers in a midday raid on Palau dropped 90 tons of bombs. Air field runways were cratered and fires started. Fighters and bombers swept Halmaera Island on Tuesday, meeting no aerial opposition.

1,300 WACs from U. S. Arrive in New Guinea

GENERAL HDQ., SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 8 [Friday]—(AP).—A contingent of 1,300 members of the women's army corps has arrived in New Guinea, the first to go there directly from the United States, headquarters announced today. This brought the total WAC strength in the Southwest Pacific theater to nearly 3,000.

Park Your Shootin' Arms on V-Day, Sikeston Orders

Sikeston, Mo., Sept. 7 (AP).—This town expects to celebrate V-day in peace and quiet. The city council has put a ban on discharge of firearms inside the city and adopted an ordinance strictly prohibiting sale of intoxicating beverages for 36 hours after Hitler's surrender is announced.

1ST ARMY HALF WAY TO LIEGE; 3D INSIDE METZ

British Along Albert Canal in Belgium.

BY E. R. NODERER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SUPREME HDQ. ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, Sept. 8 [Friday].—Gen. Eisenhower's 1st and 3d armies of the United States and Britain's 2d army today were bearing down on Germany's Siegfried line in drives which yesterday smashed thru fierce resistance in France and Belgium. The day's action:

1. Gen. Courtney H. Hodges' 1st army smashed across the Meuse river at Huy, 16 miles from the Belgian fortress of Liege and 39 miles from the German gateway city of Aachen. Other columns pushed half way thru the Ardennes forest and crushed the last German resistance in Sedan.

2. Gen. George S. Patton's 3d army battled into Metz, 20 miles from the Saar border, put two bridgeheads over the Moselle river, but lost a third, and was reported fighting in the streets of Nancy, at the southern end of the front.

British at Albert Canal.

3. Lt. Gen. Miles C. Dempsey's 2d British army reached the Albert canal on a 10 mile front in a sweeping drive thru northeast Belgium. This army is 35 miles from the German frontier. On the channel coast Canadian forces fought in Calais and Boulogne and prepared to drive east to the Scheldt river and to besiege Dunkerque, Ostende, and Zeebrugge. Polish troops cleared Ypre. Gent, Courtral, and Armentieres have been captured.

Gen. Hodges' 1st army front ran for 75 miles from Wavre, south of Leuven [Louvain] in Belgium to Bievres, 18 miles south of Sedan and four miles east of the Meuse river.

Gen. Patton's front now extends from the border of Luxemburg, 55 miles southward along the Moselle river to the old Lorraine capital of Nancy. Moving along the front in his armored car, Patton watched the fighting, which was the fiercest his army has experienced since it left Normandy.

Strong forces of Germans faced the Americans from across the sheer wooded heights of the river but despite heavy artillery fire the Yanks threw two firm bridgeheads across the Moselle south of Metz. One was in the Toul area west of Nancy; the other was not specifically located. The Germans were shelling the entire Moselle area.

Lose One Bridgehead.

At Pont-a-Mousson, about midway between Metz and Nancy the Americans were forced back across the Moselle after spanning the river under the muzzles of German artillery in the hills. Other assault forces, however, were brought up to the river north of Metz.

The battle for Metz, last fortress between the Americans and the Saar border, was fought in high, chill winds which followed a morning rain. Capture of the city would represent the farthest American advance eastward in this war or the last.

[Radio Atlantik, clandestine German language station whose location has never been officially disclosed, said in a broadcast recorded by NBC that parachute troop emergency alarms sounded in many cities of the German west wall region and single air borne landings were reported.]

Along the 1st army front there was no rest for the harried enemy forces and no chance to dig in along the route over which they rolled four years ago.

The German troops racing for Aachen were under heavy attack from allied war planes, which destroyed or damaged 483 trucks, 217 horse drawn, and 20 armored vehicles out of a column of up to 1,000 vehicles caught on the road leading northeastward from Mons.

Nazis Rush Up Troops.

The Germans rushed in troops from the Netherlands as the British 2d army rolled up to the Albert canal, a natural barrier in northern Belgium, running from Antwerp southeastward to Maastricht in the Netherlands appendix between the Belgian and German borders. The Germans said they wiped out one bridgehead across the canal north of Antwerp.

There were no details of the reported British entry in the Netherlands, but O. C. A. Van Lidth de Jeude, war minister in the Dutch government in exile, said in London that allied troops were pushing deep into the country "and the prospects are that very soon the enemy will be expelled."

GERMAN WAR REPORT.

Following is the Thursday German war bulletin, as broadcast from Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press:

"The enemy bridgehead north of Antwerp was smashed in a counter-attack. Strong enemy pressure continued in the Leuven-Sedan area. Southeast of Sedan, armored assault troops made a surprise entry into enemy positions and turned them. Prisoners were taken.

"East of Verdun, near Pont-a-Mousson and Toul, strong enemy attacks failed. At Baume-les-Dames, the enemy was able to gain a temporary footing on the north bank of the Doubs. In a counter-attack, the enemy was immediately repelled.

"After the strongest artillery fire and air bombings, Americans yesterday continued the large scale attack against the Brest fortress. Only after a very heavy struggle, the enemy was able to enter the forefield of the fortification against bitter resistance of our troops. High losses were inflicted. Dents made by the enemy in some sectors were cut off.

BRITAIN STUDIES PLAN TO PUT WAR VETS ON FARMS

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

LONDON, Sept. 7.—The ministry of agriculture is considering a scheme for training men and women war veterans for farm work and horticulture after the war, it was disclosed today. Details have not been decided upon.

It was predicted also that agriculture, properly supported, probably will be able to make the largest contribution toward solution of the unemployment problem when hostilities cease. J. K. Knowles, president of the National Farmers' union, said that farmers because of their contribution to Britain's war program, deserve post-war treatment equal to that accorded to any other major industry.

Speaking at ceremonies in observance of Birmingham's farm week, L. G. H. Aldridge, the lord mayor, said that the prosperity of post-war Britain depends upon government control of imports of products being grown by English farmers and the coöperation of townspeople.

YANKS DESTROY 2 NAZI TRAINS; WOMEN ABOARD

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

WITH U. S. 1ST ARMY IN BELGIUM, Sept. 5 [Delayed].—Troops of an American spearhead of an armored division discovered two German military trains pulling out from Soissons for the east.

One battery of self-propelled 105 millimeter guns opened fire point blank, smashing up one train car by car and destroying four Mark V. tanks and an 88 millimeter gun on flat cars.

An anti-aircraft fire crew wrecked the second train by riddling every car. Later the Yanks learned their target was a headquarters train and that in one car were women friends of high officers and great boxes of perfume the Germans had been taking home from Paris.

British Flyer Downs 60 Robots in London Battle

LONDON, Sept. 7 (AP).—Highest scoring robot bomb fighter is squadron Leader Joseph Berry, who downed 60 during the battle of London, the air ministry announced tonight. Berry, 24, began his patrols June 28. All his kills were accomplished in a swift Tempest fighter.

YANKS BATTLE TO ANNIHILATE A NAZI ARMY

Thousands of Captives Pour Along Roads.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

WITH THE U. S. 1ST ARMY IN BELGIUM, Sept. 5—[Delayed].—The Americans fighting on this Belgian battlefield are taking part in the annihilation of a Germany army caught in a pocket in the Mons area.

At least 25,000 prisoners already have been counted and more are on the roads leading back to compounds.

Officer Is Amazed.

One captured regimental colonel, who had been left without orders by his division commander, said he was amazed and surprised by the rapid advance of our 1st army.

I saw a mile long column of German prisoners marching eight abreast and in perfect step down one road. There were more than 2,000 men in the column.

One American division counted 9,000 prisoners taken in two days and our armored forces gathered up over 3,000 yesterday. They captured more today. Our battalion alone took 1,800 Germans in the Bois de Laniere. Another reported 1,347 taken, and still another rounded up 2,400 in a day. Other thousands of prisoners have not yet come in from the front.

A German colonel commanding one battle group was taken with his staff by the same division he had fought against in the last war.

Speaks of Washington Friends.

He spoke glibly about many friends in the diplomatic corps in Washington, D. C., and he asked Lt. Carl Oelzle of Cleveland, O., to carry a message for him to his wife in Berlin.

After dining at the officers' mess the colonel gave each waiter a German cigaret and a tip, turned over his collie dog to another soldier, straightened his lean body in Prussian military style, and walked off to prison.

Some of the lower rank German prisoners also were cocky and arrogant; others were morose. There were men from almost every European nation, even "Germans" wearing the shoulder patch of Armenia. Among them were men 57, 59, and 60 years old. They had been given a month's training and then sent out to do noncombatant work, but soon found themselves in the fighting line. They carried outmoded Czech rifles.

Care for 1,200 Wounded Nazis.

At our medical stations weary German and American doctors worked side by side. Most of their work has been on German patients. One division aid station has cared for 1,200 enemy soldiers.

Capt. Frank Lavere, 1130 Lawndale av., Chicago, a dentist, who had been giving first aid, said that there was no shortage of morphine, plasma, medicine, or bandages. But there were so many wounded Germans that there was a serious shortage of blankets, litters, and ambulances.

Socialists Take Down Paris Press Landmark

PARIS, Sept. 7 (AP).—A landmark of the pre-war French press passed today as the six foot letters "Le Matin" on that publication's Paris building were taken down by the new owners of "Le Populaire," organ of the Socialist party headed by ex-Premier Leon Blum, now a captive in Germany. Le Matin, printed during the Nazi occupation, closed down recently.

AMERICANS NEAR NAZI ESCAPE GAP IN SOUTH FRANCE

ROME, Sept. 7 (AP). — Powerful American armored forces from southern France swept up the Doubs valley east of Chalon-sur-Saone today in a smash that carried within 70 miles of the Belfort gap—the lone area along the lower German frontier, where no mountains guard the reich.

It is thru that passage in the lowlands between the Vosges range and the Swiss border that the German 19th army is trying to escape.

[A border dispatch to the Lausanne, Switzerland, Gazette on Thursday said American tanks had entered Montbeliard, only 10 miles southeast of Belfort.]

Rip Convoy Near Border.

An air forces announcement said American Thunderbolt fighters operating from new bases in southern France had smashed a Nazi motor convoy within 20 miles of the German frontier, destroying at least 30 vehicles.

[A German DNB broadcast said: "An American force which is trying to push forward along the Swiss border in an effort to gain access to the Burgundy gate [Belfort gap] was again repulsed in the Besancon and Baume-les-Dames areas."

While United States troops cleaned out the southern edge of the Doubs valley, seizing Poligny and Arbois, 26 miles southwest of Besancon, French forces farther west poured along the upper side of the valley.

French Race Ahead.

After rolling 75 miles in 72 hours thru the one time submarine building base of Chalon-sur-Saone without getting a shot at the retreating enemy, the French thrust on some 12 miles thru Allerey.

[Supreme allied headquarters indicated an early merger of the American 3d and 7th armies is expected in the Dijon area. These forces were said to be less than 50 miles apart. There was no confirmation of a radio report that the armies had joined at an undisclosed point near the German border.]

Shell Riviera Region.

American destroyers shelled the Riviera region between Cape Marpin and Monaco with "very good" results.

[A Berlin broadcast said American troops and French patriots had made repeated attacks on fortified towns in the Alps along the French-Swiss border and acknowledged they had retaken Briancon, just inside the French border 50 miles southeast of Grenoble.

ITALY PUSH STILL SLOW ONE YEAR AFTER SALERNO

Yanks Near Another Tough Nazi Line.

ROME, Sept. 7 (AP). — American troops closed in tonight on the big communications center of Pistoia and other outposts of the Germans' Gothic line defenses northwest of Florence—still fighting a dogged foe on Italian soil a year after Italy quit the war.

Italy surrendered Sept. 8, 1943, and the following morning American and British troops of the 5th army landed at Salerno and began a slugging match with the Nazis up the rugged peninsula.

Today Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's veteran Yanks prepared to punch into the best of many defensive lines the resourceful enemy has constructed since Italy's capitulation.

Near Port of Rimini.

In what an official report described as "very heavy fighting," British forces captured Riccione Marina, a coastal town five miles southeast of the prize port of Rimini. All along a 14 mile front inland from the sea allied tanks and infantry inched forward in a bitter struggle.

British troops crossed the Ventena river within five miles of the eastern border of the little republic of San Marino, southwest of Rimini.

This, the main allied onslaught, continued to receive thundering support from swarms of planes and warships.

Yanks Close in on Line.

American troops methodically closed in on the Gothic line defenses between Florence and the Ligurian sea. Their patrols were reported operating near Monsummano, six miles southwest of Pistoia. Prato, on the road between Florence and Pistoia, was occupied.

In 365 days since the Salerno landings the 5th army has hammered the Nazis back 315 air line miles, but roughly two-thirds of that mileage was covered in seven weeks after May 11, when the enemy was hit a terrific blow on the Garigliano-Rapido-Cassino front.

The weight of that blow sent two German armies reeling back 200 miles. The other 45 weeks of the invasion have seen many prolonged stalemates.

GERMANS TOLD FOE MUST WIN SOON OR NEVER

Broadcasts from enemy controled radio stations and news agencies, heard yesterday in the United States and Britain, included these interesting items:

"An allied victory soon or never." That was the message given to the German people by Joseph Goebbels, propaganda minister, in an article in the current Das Reich and quoted by the German Overseas radio.

"The allies," Goebbels wrote, "have promised their peoples a victory by autumn and on the strength of this promise have been inspired to a last all-out effort. But they cannot keep things up at this high pitch for long."

Asserting that "if the allied objective is not achieved within a given period they will quickly flag and give way," Goebbels added, "they saw another way out of their dilemma of a war policy which had gone off the rails and which must, sooner or later, lead to the gravest conflicts among the allies themselves."

Two new orders issued by Reichsmarshal Herman Goering and affecting Germany's home front were broadcast by Overseas radio. The first ordered that maternity instruments and a proper room for childbirth are to be installed in raid shelters when no facilities are available nearby.

The second order warned the German people it was a criminal misuse of food to feed it to small animals such as rabbits and birds.

The Berlin radio warned the German army that there must be no furloughs at this decisive stage of the war, "as every hour and every minute are precious." The troops were told that conditions at the front now dominate the atmosphere at home and that it was now "all or nothing." The broadcaster said "there are many black sheep among us and they must be rooted out."

Nazi Minister of the Interior Heinrich Himmler yesterday ordered all Romanians over 15 years old now in Germany to "report in person within 24 hours to the nearest police station," the Nazi DNB agency said in a wireless dispatch to the German press. Romanians under 15 must be registered with the police thru a legal representative, DNB said.

Dr. Scharpin, Berlin radio political commentator, said:

"We will not take the example of Bulgaria, Finland, or Romania. We will fight to the last breath of our national existence and for that we must always have confidence in ourselves and our leadership."

A call to German SS [elite guard] troops to gain every possible day for the defense of the reich was broadcast by the German forces radio. It said:

"Every day gained now amounts to a reinforcement of our national strength for the defense of the reich itself. It is therefore the duty of our soldiers in contact with the enemy to delay the enemy's movements to the utmost."

ARRIVES FOR VISIT AFTER 642 HOURS' BOMBING MISSIONS

Tech. Sgt. Charles R. Bespole, 28, of 2143 N. Mozart st., who arrived home after flying 642 hours on bombing missions in the South Pacific as a flight engineer-gunner, said yesterday that Arthur Veysey, CHICAGO TRIBUNE war correspondent, was a passenger on his Liberator, Madame Libby, on a recent run from the Admiralty Islands to Hollandia.

Sgt. C. R. Bespole.

Veysey wrote on Aug. 5 that Bespole was getting a furlough after taking part in flights in which four enemy ships were sunk and three others damaged.

Sgt. Bespole enlisted at a temporary recruiting station in the lobby of Tribune Tower soon after the attack on Pearl Harbor. He said yesterday that the Madame Libby bombed Truk, Bougainville, and Yap, among other targets in the Pacific, and bombed Rabaul nine times in one night. Tech. Sgt. William Prosser of 308 Fillmore st., Gary, was another member of the crew.

RUSSIANS CROSS BULGARIA, ENTER GREECE; NAZIS

Germans Report Reds at Turkish Border.

LONDON, Sept. 8 [Friday]. (AP).—The German radio said last night that Russian troops fanning out across Bulgaria in a drive toward the Aegean sea had reached the area of Demotika, which is inside Greece on the Turkish frontier. Other soviet forces had outflanked Warsaw on the north by hopping the Narew river at a point only 25 miles below East Prussia.

Moscow's war bulletin did not even mention Bulgaria, which already has asked for an armistice after Russia declared war on her Tuesday, nor did it mention the Yugoslav front where a Rome dispatch said the Russians were flooding into that country after capturing Turnu-Severin at the foot of the "Iron Gate" rapids on the Danube.

Report Bulgaria Invasion.

By radio DNB, German official news agency, quoted "news from a reliable source" that soviet motorized forces had crossed into Bulgaria Tuesday at Ruse, opposite the Romanian Danube port of Giurgiu.

One column, DNB said, struck toward Sofia, 156 miles to the southwest, and another headed for the Greek Mediterranean coast, reaching the Demotika sector, which is 175 miles south of the Danube and only 42 miles from the Aegean sea.

Demotika, in Grecian Thrace, is 130 miles northwest of the Turkish port of Istanbul on the Bosporus strait.

Moscow dispatches suggested the Russians were dropping strong parachute units ahead of their columns racing thru western Romania toward Yugoslavia for a junction with the allies.

The Russians announced the capture of 3,000 Germans during Wednesday's sweep thru Turnu-Severin, 170 miles west of Bucharest.

Await Russian Aid.

Meanwhile, in Transylvania, Romanian troops who had suffered a setback at the hands of Hungarian forces while marching on Cluj, awaited the arrival of Russian troops sent to their aid.

In Slovakia, the dismembered part of Czecho-Slovakia between Hungary and southern Poland, patriot forces fighting against great odds are "inflicting heavy losses upon the attacking Germans," a Czecho-Slovak bulletin said.

Gain Above Warsaw.

Northeast of Warsaw the Russians seized a few more localities, and the Germans said the soviet forces had established at least three bridgeheads on the west bank of the Narew, one of them in the area of captured Ostroleka, 60 miles northeast of the Polish capital.

In one sector the midnight Moscow war supplement said 12 straight German tank and infantry counter attacks were beaten off, and 800 German dead left on the field.

Lt. Col. Alfred von Olberg, a commentator for the Nazi Transocean agency, said the Germans had given up Ostroleka and withdrawn across the Narew in order "to avoid the danger of a Russian breakthru on the southern border of East Prussia."

IT IS BULGARIA AGAINST ALL—NAZIS AND ALLIES

Finds Herself at War with Everybody.

LONDON, Sept. 7 (AP).—Bulgaria tonight found itself technically at war with both the allies and Germany.

On Tuesday night the new government of Premier Constantine Muraviev was seeking an armistice with the United States and Great Britain when Moscow, accusing Bulgaria of pro-German neutrality, declared war. Sofia asked Moscow on Wednesday for an armistice, without waiting for the first shot to be fired, and then declared war on Germany.

Action Announced in Turkey.

Berlin acknowledged today that Bulgaria had declared war, but later said it was only a break of diplomatic relations. A correspondent in Ankara, Turkey, said a declaration of war against Germany had been announced there by the Bulgarians.

The Bulgarian telegrapn agency announced that Bulgaria had also severed relations with the Italian Fascist Republican government and Croatia and Slovakia.

Moscow early tonight had not yet granted an armistice to Bulgaria, nor had Britain or the United States. So, technically, Bulgaria was fighting everybody. Actually, however, the Bulgars appeared to be fighting nobody.

Finns Reach Moscow.

Finland's armistice commission has reached Moscow. Romanian emissaries at Moscow were expected to sign terms at once.

A new puppet cabinet in German occupied Albania, with Ibrahim Bicacu as premier, was announced by the Tirana radio.

On the eve of the expected liberation of Greece, the government of Premier George Papandreous, at Cairo, Egypt, with the support of its new leftist members, ordered a truce in the civil warfare among Greeks.

LONDON WINS ITS BATTLE AGAINST GERMAN ROBOTS

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 7.—London's battle against the Germans' flying bombs has ended and any assault by the enemy's V-2 vengeance weapon is not likely to be serious, the battered British capital was told today.

Announcement of London's victory over an 80 day siege by robot bombs was made by Duncan Sandys, chairman of the cabinet committee on counter-measures against Adolf Hitler's vaunted V-1.

The young M. P.'s story of London's travail told of British agents' warnings from Europe 18 months ago and how science and the military services joined to defeat the robots, which admittedly were second only to the 1940 bomber blitz in death and destruction.

25% of Robots Miss Target.

His graphic description of the terror under which London has lived since early on June 13, when the first flying bomb fell, disclosed these figures:

More than 8,000 bombs were launched against England. Approximately 25 per cent were inaccurate. Only 2,300 of the robots got thru to London, but they killed more than 5,000 persons. A total of 92 per cent of all fatalities were in London.

[The London Daily Mail gave these unofficial totals of robot casualties: 5,817 killed, 17,086 seriously injured, of whom the civilian casualties in London were 5,181 killed and 15,550 seriously injured.]

Planes Shoot Down 1,900.

Sandys said American built Mustang fighter planes and late model British craft shot down 1,900 robots. An anti-aircraft belt, which included 800 heavy guns and 2,000 light pieces claimed 1,500 robots. An interarc of 2,000 balloons, which was the last line of defense in Sandys' scheme, intercepted 15 per cent of the bombs which escaped fighters and ground gunners.

The systematic destruction of robot launching sites by American and British bombers was highly praised by Sandys.

"Targets included launching sites, storage depots, and communications in France," he said, adding that more than 100,000 tons of bombs had been poured into these targets in raids which cost the allies 450 planes and 2,900 airmen.

Child Evacuation Plan Ends.

The government announced that evacuation of organized parties of women and children from London and southern England has been suspended.

The health ministry revealed that 23,000 homes had been destroyed by flying bombs and thousands of others were damaged.

INVASION COST ARMY HALF OF EXPECTED TOLL, SAYS STIMSON

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7 (AP).—American army casualties thru the first three weeks of the Normandy invasion were about one-half of the expected figure, Secretary of War Stimson said today.

For July and August they were "slightly less" than had been estimated in advance, Stimson added at a news conference.

Before the initial French landings on June 6 the army had estimated it would suffer 81,000 casualties of all kinds, thru the remainder of June, the secretary stated, whereas the actual total losses were about 42,000. Of these, 33,933 were battle casualties, with the rest made up of accident and illness cases.

The army casualties for all theaters since the start of the war, based on reports to next of kin thru Aug. 21, totaled 305,795, an increase of 20,957 since the casualty report made a week ago.

Navy casualties reported up to now total 59,964, an increase of 1,611 from the previous week. This gives an army-navy total of 365,759.

SLAIN WAUKEGAN HERO OF BATTLE IN FRANCE CITED

WITH 4TH DIVISION IN FRANCE (AP).—Lt. Steve J. Ceskowski Jr., 24, of Lake Front av., Waukegan, Ill., a company commander who served with the 4th infantry division in France, has been awarded the silver star posthumously "for gallantry in action against the enemy."

Ceskowski was fatally wounded by machine gun fire while helping knock out enemy machine gun nests on a strong enemy hill position. His citation said:

"Upon reaching the foot of the hill, Lt. Ceskowski, without regard for his personal safety, moved forward with a few men and knocked out an enemy machine gun nest which was firing on his troops. All this time he was encountering artillery, machine gun, and small arms fire, and was mortally wounded by another machine gun he was attempting to knock out. Lt. Ceskowski's actions were an inspiration to his men who went on to knock out the machine guns and take their objective."

JAPS 12 MILES FROM U. S. AIR BASE IN CHINA

Battle Rages Near City of Lingling.

CHUNGKING, China. Sept. 7 (AP).—Large Japanese forces have closed to within 12 miles of the big United States air base at Lingling and have sent one column in a swift 35 mile surge to outflank it on the west.

[The Tokyo radio claimed the capture of Lingling at daybreak yesterday. There was no confirmation from other sources.]

The Chinese high command said today that a "fierce combat" raged 12 miles northeast of Lingling, which the enemy has tried vainly to knock out from the air.

Other Japanese forces showed up 35 miles beyond positions reported last night. They were within 25 miles of Tungan, which guards Lingling's western approaches. Tungan is about 21 miles west of Lingling.

250,000 Japs in Fight.

The high command said the Japanese were throwing 250,000 men into the Hunan province fighting—possibly a liberal estimate—which is designed to knock out the United States air bases, cut China in half, establish overland supply routes, and guard against an American landing in South China.

[The Berlin radio broadcast a Shanghai report yesterday that 30,000 American troops are in China and "at least three American divisions have taken up positions along the Hengyang front."]

The high command admitted the loss of bitterly defended Yungfeng, 45 miles northwest of Hengyang, one of the bastions in the perimeter of defense for that fallen city. Yungfeng was captured by the Japanese Sunday.

Raid Burma Supply Lines.

SOUTHEAST ASIA COMMAND HDQ., Kandy, Ceylon, Sept. 7 (AP).—Allied air forces ,sweeping the skies over Bura almost at will, have begun widespread, long range attacks on the exposed Japanese lines of supply, a bulletin announced today.

The enemy turned for a stand against the 14th British army plunging into the Chin hills toward the Japanese western Burma base of Tiddim, and bombers assaulted motor transport and river craft feeding these defensive positions.

Far east of this fighting area R. A. F. heavy bombers ranged widely over Thailand and Burma, blasting at the railway lines 40 miles west of Bangkok, supply head on the Gulf of Siam.

Also blasted were other routes along which the Japanese are sending fresh troops and supplies in an attempt to stabilize their positions in Burma after the disasters of their invasion of India.

231 JAP PRISONERS IN AUSSIE CAMP KILLED IN MUTINY

LONDON, Sept. 8 [Friday]—(AP).—Two hundred and thirty-one Japanese prisoners of war were killed and 108 wounded in a mutiny in an Australian camp Aug. 5, John Curtin, Australian prime minister, said in a statement issued in London today.

The Japanese, armed with mess knives and baseball bats, rose against their guards in the early hours of morning. All except a few of those who escaped were rounded up by nightfall.

Of the dead, 20 committed suicide by hanging or strangulation, 9 by stabbing, 5 from other self-inflicted wounds, and 2 threw themselves under a train. Sixteen of the wounded, the statement said, also showed evidence of attempted suicide.

About 900 Japs took part in the mutiny. Eighteen of 20 sleeping huts and two administration buildings were destroyed by fire and inside were found a dozen Japanese bodies.

Australian casualties were light. One officer was murdered by a party of prisoners during the search for fugitives.

WAR SITUATION NOT GOOD, SAYS JAP NAVY'S HEAD

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Emperor Hirohito commanded Japan yesterday to marshal her total strength to meet intensified allied operations, and Premier Kuniaki Koiso acknowledged that the nation must "consider the possibility of an enemy landing on our home soil."

The uneasy pronouncements came at the opening of the 85th extraordinary session of the imperial Japanese diet and were followed by a statement from Adm. Mitsumasa Yonai, navy minister, that "the general war situation cannot be regarded as satisfactory."

Field Marshal Gen Sugiyama, war minister, added that unprecedented battles were developing.

200 AMERICANS INTERNED SINCE '41 REACH PARIS

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, France, Sept. 7.—Two hundred American subjects, including 40 native born Americans, arrived in Paris today after having been interned in a concentration camp since United States entry into the war. Their names will be released on Saturday. They were among 447 Americans who were interned first at Compiegne and later at Clermont, northwest of Paris.

Internees who had lived in French provinces remained in Clermont to await transportation to pre-war homes. At one time there were Americans in the camp representing as many as 23 countries in origin. Two hundred of the camp's internees were born in the United States.

Americans in the Clermont camp were liberated Aug. 29 when their German captors departed. The Germans had selected 90 of the youngest internees to take back with them to the reich, but transportation was not available and they were returned to camp.

Upon leaving, the Germans turned over the camp to the mayor of Clermont. Before the war it had been a newly constructed but unoccupied mental institution.

An American who had lived for years in France before the war and acted as camp secretary, said that on the whole the Germans treated the internees well, but the rations were poor.

An 80 year old man who had been dean of the American colony in Paris before the war and who had not been detained because of his age, made repeated visits to the camp with food, wine, and other comforts. The camp secretary said the Red Cross also helped greatly. A secret radio brought allied news to the camp, he said.

NELSON'S MISSION: 'TO HELP LICK JAPS AT EARLIEST DATE'

CHUNGKING, China, Sept. 7 (AP).—Donald Nelson, WPB chief, said today the primary purpose of the visit he and Maj. Gen. Patrick J. Hurley now are making to China was "to see how we can lick Japan at the earliest possible date," and to survey all the problems, "I from the economic side and Hurley from the military side."

Nelson said this statement could be on or off the record as Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell wished. Stilwell emphatically commented: "That certainly should be on the record."

Nelson and Hurley met President Chiang Kai-shek this morning. The talk lasted 45 minutes. In response to a question, Nelson said he had a mission in his recent visit to Moscow, but added: "I'd rather not discuss that."

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 7 (AP).—Due to a shortage of electricity, the Vatican radio today suspended its night broadcasts to North and South America.

Deny Germany Gives Up or Seeks to End War

LONDON, Sept. 7 (AP).—Denying as "absurd" a Brussels radio report that Germany had capitulated, DNB [official German news agency] said tonight that "foreign news about reported German peace feelers or journeys undertaken by German ministers for that purpose is just as senseless as the reported capitulation."

NOBILITY-LOVING DIPLOMATS HIT IN HOUSE SPEECH

Gavin Raps 'Arrogance' of Great Britain.

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Assailing "social minded, nobility loving aristocrats" in the state department, Rep. Gavin, [R., Pa.], told the house today that the Declaration of Independence has been nullified by New Deal subservience to "British arrogance."

Gavin's floor speech climaxed the chorus of resentment which has arisen in congress since the recall of William Phillips, special ambassador to India on the staff of Gen. Eisenhower in London, reportedly because he had aroused British ire by his reports on India.

"Many of our supposedly able diplomats think more of an invitation to the British embassy to tea than of looking after Uncle Sam's interests," Gavin declared. "When a fellow like Phillips appears on the horizon and publicly informs the American people that we need a diplomatic policy with a backbone to it, he deserves our thanks and recognition.

New High in Arrogance.

"I feel the arrogance of British statesmanship reached a new high when they secured the removal of Phillips. It appears to have been all right for British Production Minister Lyttelton to take pot shots at us and state that Japan was forced into attacking the Americans at Pearl Harbor. Secretary Hull got angry but nothing was done to Lyttelton. However, Phillips courageously presents his views and he finds himself on the way out.

"It appears from our appeasing methods with the British that Union Now [a proposed alliance of Great Britain and the United States] is seemingly a reality and the membership of the house has not been apprised of this information."

Gavin referred to reports that British consuls thruout the United States had been instructed to ask local newspapers to play down the Phillips incident and noted that "evidently they were at work because the Phillips story did not break in some of our metropolitan dailies until several days later."

No New Pearl Harbor.

"I wonder what would happen to our representatives in the British empire if we attempted any suppression of news of a similar nature," he asked. "They would be booted out just as Phillips was booted out.

"If the Phillips policy is carried out, of properly informing the American people as to what is happening in the world, I feel certain we will never again have a repetition of Pearl Habor.

"Now that the war with Germany is nearly over, our full resources will be turned upon the Japanese empire. We must remain united with all the peoples of the world who seek to live under the much publicized four freedoms. India, one of the main arteries of the fighting front, is far from being in accord with us. A hostile India at the backs of our fighting men is equally as dangerous as the enemy they face.

"By refusing the four freedoms to India, the allies are rapidly losing the confidence and coöperation of millions of people in the small nations. The freedoms apparently do not affect the British empire when it comes to India for the Indians, Ireland for the Irish, Hong Kong for the Chinese, and Palestine for the Jews."

Files Divorce Suit

[Wide World Photo.]

LUCILLE BALL.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 7 (AP).—Blue eyed, red haired Lucille Ball of the movies today filed suit for divorce from Desi Arnaz, Cuban star who now is in the army. She charged extreme cruelty, but her complaint did not detail any allegations. Hollywood was surprised at the news, since the movie star and her husband have been seen together as late as Tuesday night.

SCIENTIST CURIE HEADS FRENCH FRONT NATIONAL

PARIS, Sept. 3 [Delayed]—(AP).—Many of France's 40-odd resistance groups have been transformed by liberation into a welter of political groups now shaping the future of new France. "Front National" claims to be the largest with more than a million members, including some of France's leading intellectuals.

Since the inception of Front National, Frederick Joliet-Curie, scientist son-in-law of Pierre and Marie Curie, and husband of Scientist Irene Curie, has been its president. Other members include Henri Wallon, psychologist and general secretary of national education in Gen. Charles de Gaulle's new government; Pierre Blanchard, film and stage star who fought in the streets of Paris; Victor Basch, international president of the league of human rights; Paul Langevin, physicist, and Victor Henri and Rene Zazzo, young scientists. Joliet-Curie's secretary is Victor Henri, son of Mrs. Victor Henri of New York City.

Front National at present is campaigning against what it says is "too many Algiers men" in the new government.

GAS VICTIM RECOVERING.

Mrs. Harriet Scott, 27, wife of a soldier stationed in Panama, was reported recovering in Belmont hospital last night from the effects of her attempt at suicide by inhaling gas yesterday in her apartment at 3054 N. Avers av. while despondent.

POST-WAR CURB FOR ARGENTINA HINTED BY HULL

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7 (AP).—Secretary of State Hull today branded Argentina headquarters for Fascist movements in this hemisphere and a potential source of infection for the rest of the Americas.

His assertions, made in response to questions, apparently form part of the groundwork for a post-war policy of nonrecognition of the present Argentine government. Thus far nonrecognition has been based primarily on the war time attitude toward Argentina as a "deserter" from the allied cause.

The secretary's evident intention to project the policy into the period after Germany's defeat raised the possibility that the Argentine case may be one of the first to claim the attention of the proposed world security organization. This possibility has been seriously considered by American officials who are by no means confident of an early solution of the Argentine problem.

U.S., FRENCH AND NAZI DENTISTS TREAT BOY IN DAY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH U. S. 1ST ARMY IN BELGIUM, Sept. 5 [Delayed]—The day after the St. Lo breakthru, July 27, a 9 year old French boy with a throbbing toothache had expert care from dentists of three nations in Marigny. In the morning a French dentist put in a temporary filling. At noon a German military dentist fitted the tooth with a permanent filling. And at 4 p. m., after Americans had captured the town, Capt. Frank La Vere, 1130 N. Lawndale av., Chicago, pulled the tooth.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or painful passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

MATTOON FIEND FELLS TWO MORE WITH POISON GAS

13 Persons Are Victims of Night Prowler.

Mattoon, Ill., Sept. 7 [Special].—Four more victims were added today to the lengthening list of persons made violently ill and temporarily paralyzed by Mattoon's fiendish night prowler, who has been terrorizing this community of 15,800 persons by spraying a "poison gas" thru open bedroom windows this week.

The four, three of them women, brought to 13 the number of victims of the prowler, who last night extended his operations to the northeast and southwest sections of the city for the first time.

The strange attacks, none of which has ended in robbery or physical violence, provoked intensified vigils by city police augmented by volunteers and brought to Mattoon Richard T. Piper and Francis Berry, Springfield, of the crime bureau of the state department of public safety.

Strangest Case.

"This is one of the strangest cases I have ever encountered in many years of police work," said Piper, who will take back with him to Springfield for analysis a fumes saturated damp cloth found Tuesday night on the porch of Mrs. Carl Cordes, 45. Mrs. Cordes was temporarily hospitalized with facial burns after she sniffed the cloth.

In addition to the saturated cloth as a clew, police had meager descriptions of the prowler from one of his victims and from a witness to his flight. Mrs. Bert Kearney, his first victim last Saturday, reported him as a "tall, thin man, dressed in black and wearing a black skull cap." Robert Daniels, a neighbor of one of last night's victims, reported seeing a "tall man" running from his neighbor's home. The only other possible clews were a skeleton key and an empty lipstick tube found on the porch of one of his Tuesday night's victims.

Victims Interviewed.

Piper today was interviewing several victims, including the four added to the police list today. They are: Mrs. Ardell Spangler, a shoe factory worker; Mrs. Laura Junken, restaurant operator, and Fred Goble, foundry worker, who experienced the attacks last night, and Mrs. Leonard Burrell, who was gassed by the prowler Tuesday but whose attack was not disclosed by police until today.

Mrs. Spangler and Mrs. Junken told police they were made ill and partly paralyzed in the legs and arms for a time by the fumes, which Mrs. Junken said resembled "cheap perfume."

Appears Near Midnight.

Mrs. Spangler said the prowler apparently appeared at her home at 10 p. m. and Mrs. Junken, who lives about 10 blocks away, reported her experience occurred shortly after midnight. Neither woman reported seeing the prowler.

Goble, who lives on the southwest side of the city about two miles from Mrs. Spangler and Mrs. Junken, said he was awakened by the "sweet, sickening" fumes about 1 a. m. He reported he suffered severe nausea but that his wife, who was sleeping farther from the open window, suffered no ill effects. It was Goble's neighbor, Daniels, who reported seeing "a tall man" run from between the two houses about the time of the attack.

Mrs. Burrell, Tuesday night's victim, said she was awakened about 11:15 by "coughing and strangling" induced by the gas. She said her son, Dennis Lee, 18 months old, who was sleeping in the bedroom with her, suffered no ill effects. Mrs. Burrell, however, still had a sore chest.

All but two of the reported victims of the gas attacks have been women and all report suffering nausea and temporary partial paralysis. The prowler so far apparently has been intent only upon gassing his victims because no robberies or physical attacks have been reported.

MARY LOU CAMPBELL.

Mary Lou Campbell, 18, has been selected for a possible leading role in a Hollywood movie. Miss Campbell, who has been working in Chicago as a model, has danced since she was 6 years old and is pleased that the role she seeks calls for dancing. She said a friend of hers sent her picture to Universal Pictures, where it was seen by Walter Wanger.

"What I really want to be is a newspaper reporter," she said yesterday. "I had planned on entering Wisconsin university this fall to study journalism."

Miss Campbell is very blonde, 5 feet 5 inches tall, and weighs 103 pounds.

She leaves for the coast today, under contract, where she will have a movie test.

FREE NEGRO WHO HURLED MISSILE AT LIBERTY BELL

Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 7 [Special].—A Negro who walked into Independence Hall and threw a quartz paperweight at the Liberty bell during the Philadelphia transit strike a month ago today was exonerated by a quarter sessions jury of charges of violating the state penal code.

The man, Charles White, 40, told the jury that an "uncontrollable emotional outbreak" caused him to hurl the missile.

The strike, which tied up Philadelphia's public transportation system for six days until the army took over, was in protest against the upgrading of Negroes to car operators. However, seven of the eight Negroes scheduled for such promotion are now operating cars. The eighth Negro, a minister, quit his job shortly after the strike.

LIMIT DEMANDED ON DRAFT AFTER GERMANY QUITS

BY LAURENCE BURD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Demands that selective service regulations be overhauled to limit the draft to young men with no dependents after Germany is beaten were heard on Capitol hill today in the wake of yesterday's announcement by the army of its plans for discharging soldiers.

While the army program for mustering out men on a priority basis, with credit for dependents, service, and other factors, met general approval, members of congress declared it is equally vital that draft age civilians be told what to expect.

No Program Indicated.

The house military affairs committee today heard testimony behind closed doors from Draft Director Hershey, but members said that apparently no definite selective service program has been drawn for use when Germany capitulates.

Rep. Harness [R., Ind.] a committee member, urged that such a policy be laid down as soon as possible, so that millions of men here at home will know where they stand.

"There certainly would be no excuse for drafting men with children after the war ends, when trained soldiers with dependents are being released from service," said Harness. "I think the draft should be limited strictly to single men under 26 or possibly a lower age."

Harness said he had read in today's papers that a 29 year old father of six children in Washington, D. C., had been classified 1-A. Such actions, he said, are "silly" and reflect continued confusion in the draft setup.

Ex-War Workers a Source.

Rep. Elston [R., O.], another committee member, who said he also favored limiting the draft after Germany is beaten to single young men, said many thousands of such men probably will be found in "deferred" jobs in war plants which shortly will be reconverted to peace time production.

"Any draft policy certainly must call for cancelling job deferments for young men without dependents who are no longer in war work," Elston added. "The drafting of these men will hasten the release from the army of older men with dependents who already have served their country."

Committee Chairman May [D., Ky.] also urged prompt adoption of a clear-cut draft policy, and expressed confidence that one will be announced as soon as the effects of Germany's impending fall can be dovetailed with the selective service machinery.

Job Order Assailed.

Meanwhile, May and Elston assailed a recent edict of the war man power commission, which they said authorizes the United States employment service to order returning veterans to take any job it may designate. May termed the ruling a "clear violation of the intent of congress."

Elston said the so-called G. I. bill, recently adopted, clearly states that veterans are to be given maximum opportunity to obtain jobs of their own choosing when they come home.

DEMOCRAT FOES OF F. D. R. FIND REVOLT SPREADS

Illinois Leader Says New Deal Deserted Party.

Anti-New Deal Democrats in Illinois were invited yesterday to make use of the American Democratic national committee's organization as a means of joining the revolt against a fourth term which committee workers report is spreading thru the north as well as in the southern and border states.

In Illinois the committee is headed by Julius F. Smietanka, a well known lawyer, who was a Democratic leader until he felt that President Roosevelt had offended the party's fundamental principles by running for a third term. Smietanka, who has served as collector of internal revenue under President Wilson and as a member of the Chicago school board under two Democratic mayors, said he regarded President Roosevelt and his New Dealers as having deserted the party of Jefferson and Jackson, and that the fourth term candidacy was stronger reason for opposition.

Called Vehicle for All.

"Our American Democratic national committee, which is composed of old line Democrats, is a vehicle thru which all anti-fourth termers may make themselves articulate," he said.

Because the committee has its national headquarters in Chicago, at 105 S. La Salle st., there has been no intensive drive to rally insurgent Democrats in Illinois, Mr. Smietanka said. Another move to enlist anti-New Dealers among the Democrats is the Dewey-Bricker clubs started by the Republican state committee. Between them, the two groups say they have found many individual Democrats to whom the New Deal ambitions are objectionable.

Floyd E. Thompson, former chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court, who in 1940 was general chairman of the No Third Term Democrats of Illinois, said he believed there were many Democrats who would not support the party's national ticket.

"With the Communists mixed up in it, the issue is much bigger than just a fourth term," he said.

"The whole scheme of the New Dealers is to perpetuate themselves in office on one pretense or another," said Mr. Smietanka. "Now they are emphasizing the need of their war experience.

"Herds in Alien Minded."

"To gain its ends the New Deal herds all the foreign minded groups and individuals into its fold. We genuine Democrats, steeped in the political philosophies of Jefferson, Cleveland, and Wilson, cannot sit by and allow the country to go to pot without raising our voices in an effort to put a stop to this tragedy.

"It is up to the substantial people of this country to shed their fear of power, timidity or indifference, and assert themselves. We are at the crossroads of an epoch where party loyalty to the national ticket must be disregarded to save the country.

"No Washington sycophant can take credit for the military successes of our armed forces. It is the work of our soldiers and the industry of labor and management who are earning the glory. The people were humbugged into voting for a third term, but they will not fall for a fourth."

Edith Demas, holding marriage license, and John C. Carpenter.

Miss Edith Demas, 16, of 2646 Jackson blvd., and John C. Carpenter, 19, of 1125 S. Kedzie av., who recently ran away together to his home town in Kentucky, will be married today by Judge Nuncio J. Bonelli in Boys' court—they hope. Their wedding plans have been postponed six times by various technicalities. Yesterday they obtained a marriage license from County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, and said they knew no reason why their intention to be married today should be upset.

TRIBUNE PRINTER WINS D. F. C. AS FLYER IN ARMY

First Lt. Milan Maracek, who left his job as a linotype operator for THE TRIBUNE to enlist in the army air force May 8, 1942, was home from England yesterday wearing the distinguished flying cross and with a record of 30 missions as a bomber pilot over Europe.

Lt. Milan Maracek.

The D.F.C. was awarded for a heavy bombardment mission over enemy occupied Czechoslovakia last May 12. The citation related that before the mission reached the target area, enemy fighters disabled one supercharger, hit one engine and demolished the nose of the bomber, forcing Lt. Maracek to fly at a dangerously low level on the return trip. "In spite of wounded crew members and badly damaged state of the plane, this officer accomplished a successful ditching in the English channel," the citation stated. "The excellent piloting ability, firm determination, and courage displayed by Lt. Maracek were instrumental in saving the lives of the entire crew."

He was awarded an oak leaf cluster for the D.F.C. and the air medal, with three clusters. He is with his wife, Adeline, at 2511 S. Keeler av. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Maracek, live at 1811 S. Troy st.

NATIONAL JUNIOR CHAMBER BOARD CONVENES TODAY

The annual fall meeting of the board of directors of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce will convene today at national headquarters in the La Salle hotel for a three day series of discussions thru Sunday noon.

The gathering, which follows an executive committee session held yesterday, is being attended by 48 national committee officers and 108 board members representing each of the 48 states.

Among those present is J. Robert Abernethy of Gastonia, N. C., who as state president last summer was voted the "outstanding young man" of North Carolina.

ANTI-4TH TERM DEMOCRATS TO FIGHT FOR OHIO

Columbus, O., Sept. 7 [Special].—The nation-wide independent Democratic movement to solidify anti-fourth term forces and thwart the attempt of President Roosevelt to perpetuate his regime today resulted in the organization of an Ohio unit of the American Democratic National committee headed by a Cleveland Democrat, former Congressman Martin L. Sweeney.

Sweeney was named chairman of the state committee at a campaign rally attended by Dr. Gleason W. Archer, national chairman, and John Killian, executive secretary of the national committee.

Pledging support for Gov. Dewey of New York for President and Gov. Bricker of Ohio for Vice President, Sweeney told newsmen:

"As Democrats, we resent Earl Browder [former convict and communist leader], Sidney Hillman [head of the CIO political action committee] et al. crawling into the Democratic national party. We expect a good many Democrats will walk out with us. We won't permit the country to be Hillmanized. We definitely are opposed to the fourth term."

GUN STOLEN FROM HOME.

Earl Schneider, 1036 N. Dearborn st., notified police yesterday that some one stole a .38 caliber nickel plated revolver from his home.

HATTER ROBBED BY 'CUSTOMER' A SECOND TIME

Edward Gold, a hatter at 201 Lake st., moved forward with alacrity yesterday when a Negro wearing an out of season straw hat bobbed into the shop.

Then Gold observed that the "customer" had a mustache, had drawn a revolver, and was the name Negro who had robbed him of $60 on Aug. 26.

"Yes, I'm back again," confessed the gunman. He took $40 and the change from the cash register, then tied Gold to a hat rack in the basement.

DEWEY CHARGES THE NEW DEAL IS 'AFRAID OF PEACE'

Says It Would Continue War Time Curbs.

Tired Administration.

"At the very outset I want to make one thing clear. This is not merely a campaign against an individual or a political party. It is not merely a campaign to displace a tired, exhausted, quarreling, and bickering administration with a fresh and vigorous administration. It is a campaign against an administration which was conceived in defeatism, which failed for eight straight years to restore our domestic economy, which has been the most wasteful, extravagant, and incompetent administration in the history of the nation and worst of all, one which has lost faith in itself and in the American people.

"This basic issue was clearly revealed in the recent announcement by the director of selective service in Washington. He said that when Germany and Japan have been defeated it will still be necessary to demobilize the armed forces very gradually. And why? Because, he said, 'We can keep people in the army about as cheaply as we could create an agency for them when they are out.' Let me repeat. Because he said, 'We can keep people in the army about as cheaply as we could create an agency for them when they are out.'

"For six months we have been hearing statements from the New Deal underlings in Washington that this was the plan. Now it is out in the open. They have been working up to it. Because they are afraid of peace. They are afraid of a continuance of their own failures to get this country going again. They are afraid of America.

Doesn't Share Fear.

"I do not share that fear. I believe that our members of the armed forces should be transported home and released at the earliest practical moment after victory. I believe that the occupation of Germany and Japan should very soon be confined to those who voluntarily choose to remain in the army when peace comes. I am not afraid of the future of America—either immediate or distant. I am sure of our future, if we get a national administration which believes in our country.

"The New Deal was founded on the philosophy that our frontiers are behind us and all we have left to do is to quarrel over the division of what we have. Mr. Roosevelt himself said in 1932: 'Our industrial plant is built. . . . Our task is not . . . necessarily producing more goods. It is the soberer, less dramatic business of administering resources and plants already in hand.' The New Deal operated on that philosophy for seven straight peace time years with unlimited power and unlimited money. At the end of that time in 1939 the New Deal gave its own official verdict on its failure by this cold admission: 'The American economic machine is stalled on dead center.'

Saved By War.

"The administration knows that the war, with all its tragic toll of death, debt, and destruction, is the only thing that saved it. They are deadly afraid that they will go back to resumption of their own failures. That is why they are afraid to let men out of the army. That is why they say it is cheaper to keep men in the army than to let them come home.

"Now let us get another point straight for the records right here at the beginning. In the last hundred years we have had 11 periods during which business and employment were well below normal. During that period the average depression lasted two years. In the entire hundred years the longest depression of all was five years and the next longest was four years—up to the last one.

"When this administration took office the depression was already over three years old. Then what happened? In 1934 when the depression was then five years old—longer than any other in a century—we still had 12 million unemployed. By 1940 the depression was almost 11 years old. This administration had been in power for seven straight years and there were still 10 million Americans unemployed.

"It took a world war to get jobs for the American people.

Who Was President?

"Let's get one thing clear and settled. Who was President during the depression that lasted from 1933 until sometime in 1940 when war orders from all over the world began to bring us full employment again? It was the New Deal that kept this country in a continuous state of depression for seven straight years. It was the New Deal that made—that managed to make—a three year depression last eleven years—over twice as long as any other depression in a whole century.

"Now, Washington is getting all set for another depression. They intend to keep the young men in the army. The New Deal spokesmen are daily announcing that reconversion will be difficult, if not impossible. They say that relief rolls will be enormous. They drearily promise us that we will need to prepare for an army of unemployed bigger than the armies we have put in the field against the Germans and the Japanese. That's what's wrong with the New Deal. That's why it's time for a change.

"The reason for this long continued failure is twofold. First, because there never was a worse job done of running our government. When one agency fails, the New Deal just piles another on and we pay for both. When both fail, we pay for a third. When men quarrel, there is no one in authority to put a stop to it. When agencies get snarled up there is no one in authority to untangle them. Meanwhile, the people's business goes to pot and the people are the victims.

"Right in the final crisis of this war, the most critical of all war agencies—the war production board—fell apart before our eyes. This is also the board in charge of reconversion and jobs. Yet we have seen quarreling, disunity, and public recriminations day after day, as one competent man after another resigned and the head of the board was sent to China. This isn't a new experience—others have been sent to China. We have seen this happen in agency after agency. The cost of the war effort to the country can never be calculated.

"When the WPB fell apart, so did your chance under this administration for jobs after the war. For now the New Dealers have moved in, and their handiwork, their promise for America is not jobs—but the dole.

"The other reason for this long continued failure—the reason why they are now dismally preparing for another depression—is because this administration has so little faith in the defeatist philosophy that our industrial plant is built, that our task is not to produce more goods, but to fight among ourselves over what we have.

"I believe that he have not even begun to build our industrial plant. We have not exhausted our inventive genius. There can be—there must be—jobs and opportunity for all, without discrimination on account of race, creed, color, or national origin. There must be jobs in industry, in agriculture, in mines, in stores, in offices, at a high level of wages and salaries. There must be opportunity and incentive for men and women to go into business for themselves.

Cites Need of Homes.

"The New Deal prepares to keep men in the army because it is afraid of a resumption of its own depression. They can't think of anything for us to do once we stop building guns and tanks. But to those who believe in America, there's lots to do. Why just take housing, for example. If we simply build the homes the American people need in order to be decently housed, it will keep millions of men employed for years.

"We know from long experience that we will not provide jobs and restore small business by the methods of the New Deal. We cannot keep our freedom and at the same time continue experimentation with a new policy every day by the national government. We cannot succeed with a controled and regulated society under a government which destroys incentive, chokes production, fosters disunity, and discourages men with vision and imagination from creating employment and opportunity.

"The New Deal really believes that unemployment is bound to be with us permanently. It says so. They will change this 12 year old tune between now and election. They have done it every time. But they've always come back to it after election. The New Deal really believes that we cannot have good social legislation and also good jobs for all. I believe with all my heart and soul that we can have both.

"But we must also have a government which believes in enterprise and government policies which encourage enterprise. We must see to it that a man who wants to start a business is encouraged to start it, that the man who wants to expand a going business is encouraged to expand it. We cannot have jobs and opportunity if we surrender our freedom to government control.

"With the winning of the war in sight, there are two overshadowing problems. First, the making and keeping of the peace of the world so that your children and my children shall not face this tragedy all over again. This great objective to which we are all so deeply devoted I shall talk about at Louisville tomorrow night on the radio.

"The other problem is whether we shall replace the tired and quarrelsome defeatism of the present administration with a fresh and vigorous government which believes in the future of the United States, and knows how to act on that belief.

"Such action involves many things: Tax policies, regulatory policies, labor policies, opportunity for small business, the burocracies which are attempting to regulate every detail of the lives of our people—these are all of major importance. I shall discuss each of them in detail before this campaign is over.

"I am interested—desperately interested—in bringing to our country a rebirth of faith in our future. I am deeply interested in bringing a final end to the defeatism and failure of this administration in its domestic policies. I am deeply devoted to the principle that victory in this war shall mean victory for freedom and for the permanent peace of the world. Our place in a peaceful world can and will be made secure. But nothing on earth will make us secure unless we are strong, unless we are productive, and unless we have faith in ourselves.

"We can and we will recover our future and go forward in the path of freedom and security. I have unlimited faith that the American people will choose that path next November."

Memory Returns

A blonde young woman, who appeared at the Central police station early yesterday with a hunting knife and 2 cents in her pocket and said she had lost her memory, recovered later and identified herself as Mrs. Leona Carlson, 19, of Hammond. She said she had been married to Sgt. James Carlson, a paratrooper in Italy, for the last year.

She told police her mind had been a blank since Aug. 31, her birthday, when she, three other young women, and a man went for an automobile ride. She "awoke" at 4 a. m. yesterday in a loop bus depot, she said, wearing clothing different from that which she wore on Aug. 31.

When arraigned later before Judge Frank E. Donoghue in women's court on a charge of disorderly conduct, she was ordered examined by the court psychiatrist and the hearing was continued to Sept. 20. She told the court she had been living with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Elsie Carlson, at 103 Rinback st., Hammond.

LABOR VOTE CAN'T BE DELIVERED, DEWEY TELLS CIO MEETING

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP).—Labor's vote cannot be "delivered" to "the practitioners of the dole philosophy," Gov. Dewey declared today to a CIO convention.

Those serving on the war and home fronts "will not turn back to doles and raking leaves," Dewey told the New York state industrial union council in a message read to its annual convention.

The council, composed of CIO unions, will be addressed tomorrow by Sidney Hillman, chairman of the political action committee, which is supporting the fourth term candidacy of President Roosevelt.

"I refuse to believe," Dewey continued, "that the rank and file of labor is partisan to the philosophy of the dole. And I refuse to believe that the practitioners of the dole philosophy can have labor's votes delivered to them by any one at all."

LYONS TRIBUTE IS SET FOR OCT. 4 IN LIBERTYVILLE

Democrats and Republicans alike of Libertyville will turn out on Oct. 4 to pay tribute to Richard J. Lyons, Republican nominee for United States senator.

Lyons has been a resident of the Libertyville neighborhood for nearly a quarter century, being active in private business there or representing his neighbors in the state legislature at Springfield thruout that period.

William E. Webster and William E. Larsen are co-chairmen of the committee of Libertyville citizens who are making arrangements for the town celebration honoring Lyons. The committee, made up of men of both parties, includes the Rev. Glenn M. Garver, Editor Charles Miller of the Libertyville Independent Register, Marshall R. Schroeder, R. F. Rouse, Ray Lindroth, Ben Sickels, Gordon Ray, Leslie Powis, and A. H. Hagerty.

Under committee plans, Libertyville friends and neighbors will gather at Cook park and march behind a band to the Lyons home on W. Park av., where the yard will be floodlighted. The evening will be spent in visiting and talks by local leaders and visitors. A speech by Lyons is on the program.

NEW DEAL PLANS MORE CURBS ON LIFE, LYONS SAYS

Benson Says Courtney Is to Be U. S. Judge.

BY ROBERT HOWARD.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Chester, Ill., Sept. 7.—Republican candidates touring southern Illinois charged today that after the November election the New Deal intends to increase its regimentation of Americans and also to make State's Atty. Courtney a federal judge.

Richard J. Lyons, Republican nominee for senator, warned Randolph county voters of both parties that war time restrictions on production and consumption won't be released after victory if Roosevelt is reelected. A fourth term for President Roosevelt would be a more radical administration than anything attempted by the New Deal in the last 12 years, Lyons said.

"The farmers must understand that if the fourth term wins again, the Communists and theorists in Washington will devise new and more intricate rules as to what the farmers may plant.

Benson Charges Deal.

Arnold P. Benson, G. O. P. candidate for secretary of state, made the charge that Courtney, who is the Democratic candidate against Gov. Green, entered the state-wide race only with an understanding that after his defeat Nov. 7 he will be rewarded with a federal judgeship.

"This is the first time the New Deal has had the effrontery to make a political campaign in Illinois an indispensable qualification for serving in one of the highest judicial posts of the land," Benson said.

"One of the principals in consummating this odious deal was none other than the present mayor of Chicago, which should prove to the satisfaction of every one that Courtney's self-vaunted independence of the Kelly-dominated Cook county Democratic machine is just another case of campaign oratory."

Becker in Caravan.

The Chester rally this afternoon was a big event for Conrad F. [Consey] Becker, the Republican candidate for state treasurer and the third man with the Lyons-Benson caravan. Becker, operator of a milling business at near-by Red Bud, is Republican chairman of Randolph county.

To his Chester neighbors, and at other political meetings, Becker pledged that his business background would keep red tape and burocracy out of the state treasurer's office and that he would cooperate with Gov. Green's program for economy and efficiency in state government during and after the war.

COURTNEY VOWS HE'LL CUT SALES TAX IF ELECTED

Du Quoin, Ill., Sept. 7 (AP).—A governor should "really work at his job and be a governor for all the people of the state," Thomas J. Courtney, Democratic candidate for governor of Illinois, declared here today.

In an address prepared for delivery at the Du Quoin state fair, the Cook county state's attorney said:

"When I am elected governor, labor, industry, agriculture, and business, the home owner and the renter, all citizens will get fair and equal consideration from their state government."

His first act as governor, he said, would be "to request the legislature to cut the sales tax in half."

United States Sen. Lucas, Democratic nominee for reelection who with six other state office nominees appeared as Democratic day guests at the fair, also spoke.

FIFTY MILLIONS 4TH TERM SLUSH SCHEME'S GOAL

Roosevelt Bust Offered New Deal and CIO.

each state for $150 each. They, in turn, retail them out either to the organized labor locals who want to aid the Demo party, or to the industrialists holding lucrative war contracts for prices ranging from $500 up. This gets around the much discussed Smith-Connally act, which has had a lot of the boys worried, and which, as you know, provides that corporations and labor unions cannot contribute to a political party.

"The 12 western states already have taken on this deal. In some states the Demo party has it. In others we have made a direct tieup with the CIO and they are using the plan to raise their state funds for Sidney Hi'lman's PAC fund. We already have demonstrated the plan's workability and the desire of the Demos for it.

"We have decided to farm out the lucrative labor states like Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, and Pennsylvania to any live wires who know their way around and who want to join in a quick cleanup deal.

Others Do Leg Work.

"We pay you $50 per bust. Remember, please, you do not do the selling. You merely make the arrangements for distribution, either with the Demo state chieftains or with the officials of organized labor. They do the leg work. Any of the states outlined above should be good for 1,000 busts, properly organized. That's $50,000 for your end."

After explaining some distribution details, the letter went on:

"As the deal sits today, all eastern territory is open with the possible exception of Illinois. I will not know about that for a couple of days. Had a wire this morning from our man in the field, who now is in St. Louis, saying a man from Chicago had come down there to meet him with the idea of taking on Illinois."

Plenty of "Hot" Territory.

The letter closed with the advice that "there is plenty of 'hot' territory, for the play is good in any industrial state, especially the CIO states around you," and an offer of any state or states still available." The letter was signed: "Cordially, Alonzo Victor Lewis Associates, A. J. Ritchie."

The brochure contains an outline of the general plan with these statements:

"Labor unions want to aid the party, for Mr. Roosevelt has been a real friend to them. But the Smith-Connally act makes many of them hesitate. Nothing in the . . . act prevents a labor union, or any organization or corporation, from purchasing an object of art, such as this fine statue of our President and commander-in-chief.

"There is nothing in the Hatch act to prevent Democratic office holders from purchasing statues of their President, either singly or by groups.

New Channels of Finance.

"Under a plan originated by western Democrats . . . the Roosevelt statues will open up absolutely new channels of finance for the party.

"Today we are at war. Practically all industry is busy on war contracts. The money they get is Democratic money. The contracts they get are Democratic contracts. It is only logical that they should show their appreciation by purchasing and exhibiting a statue of the No. 1 man of all Democrats. Do you think they think they could afford not to?"

Another page lists "excellent outlets" for the busts as "federal office holders, federal bureau and agency heads in your territory, labor unions, industrialists holding war contracts and art lovers."

The booklet, which was sent thru the mails, outlines plans for a raffle and lottery as a means of getting up to $5,000 per bust, by ticket sales of $5 per person or more. A puff for the "outstanding" sculptor says that "The chief critic of Mr. Lewis' bust of President Roosevelt was Mrs. Anna Roosevelt Boettiger, the President's daughter."

Includes Purported Signatures.

Letters of indorsement by Democratic officials on the back page of the brochure are reproduced with the purported signatures of J. N. Harber, general chairman of the Democratic committee of Arizona; F. S. Copley, a member of the California committee, and W. B. Severyns, director of finance of the Washington state committee. The California letter says:

"You will be interested in knowing that the plan of raising campaign funds around the Alonzo Victor Lewis bust of President Roosevelt is going across in California far more successfully than even we had anticipated.

"The plan has been taken up by labor—both in the CIO locals and the Federation of Labor unions—and they are having great success. In addition, the various county committees have taken hold of the deal enthusiastically and we expect grand results all the way around.

Called 'Popular Vehicle.'

"One of the big values in the project, it seems to us, is the fact that it opens the door to an entirely new source of revenue to the party. In addition to this, of course, the busts have made a popular vehicle on which all factions and interests have been able to get together and ride toward the job of winning the election in November.

"With the setup we have here now, I am confident that we will distribute in excess of 1,000 of these busts—just how much in excess is still problematical. But the reaction to them is very fine."

The Severyns letter from the state of Washington says:

"It is my understanding that you have made an agreement with the CIO in Washington state to distribute President Roosevelt busts, as made by Alonzo Victor Lewis, and that the CIO group is anxious, in connection with this activity, to aid the Democratic state committee in the raising of its campaign funds.

$25 Each for Committee.

"It is my further understanding that the CIO group is willing to purchase these busts from the state Democratic committee as it needs them, at a price of $175, and that we can purchase these busts from your organization at $150 per bust, the balance to go to the Democratic campaign fund.

"This letter will serve as our agreement to purchase Roosevelt busts, as described above, from the Alonzo Victor Lewis Associates at $150 per bust, as and in such lots as they are ordered from the state Democratic committee at a price of $175 per bust."

The letter from Democratic headquarters at Phoenix, Ariz., reads:

"We are interested in your busts of the President of the United States, Franklin D. Roosevelt. We would like to have you send us 25 prospectuses, 25 newspaper mats, and one large cut for salesman's prospectus. Also please forward one bust.

"It will be our privilege to undertake to get an organization which will put on a sales campaign for these busts. We hope to be able to sell a minimum of 100 of these . . ."

The letters were dated July 29, July 14, and July 13, respectively.

Dear Mr. [redacted]

In San Francisco the other day, my friend [redacted] told me he thought you would be the ideal man to handle some eastern territory for a deal that is "cleaning up" here in the west. Paul was greatly intrigued, but could not spare the time to go east with it himself.

The story, in brief, is this:

We have had Alonzo Victor Lewis, one of the country's great sculptors, make a bust of President Roosevelt. It stands 22 inches high, weighs 30 pounds, and is made of Dealstone, a synthetic stone that is durable and looks like bronze.

We sell these originals to the Democratic Central Committee in each state for $150 each. They, in turn, retail them out either to the organized labor locals who want to aid the Demo party, or to the industrialists holding lucrative war contracts for prices ranging from $500 up. This gets around the much-discussed Smith-Connolly Act, which has had a lot of the boys worried, and, which, as you know, provides that corporations and labor unions cannot contribute to a political party.

BULLET VICTIM IS FINED $20 ON LICENSE CHARGE

Michael Schivorelli, 28, of 3859 Grenshaw st., was fined $20 and costs for not possessing city and state license plates by Judge William V. Daly in Felony court yesterday. Charges of tampering with an automobile and resisting arrest were dismissed. Schivorelli was shot in the left elbow July 28 by Policeman George Theise, from whom he attempted to escape after the policeman had arrested him on the lower level of Wacker dr. as he fumbled with some keys beside a parked car. Schivorelli told the court he had forgotten where he parked his own car. When it was located it was found to be without plates.

HINT F. D. R. MAY TRY TO BLANKET NEWS OF DEWEY

Report President May See Churchill Soon.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—London reports that a conference between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill is imminent tonight provoked suspicion in political circles here that the two men were conspiring to blanket the coast to coast political tour of Gov. Dewey, Republican Presidential candidate.

Dewey's acknowledged political tour got under way tonight with his speech in Philadelphia after his campaign special headed for the west coast out of New York City. His plans for a western swing had been known for weeks.

Mr. Roosevelt had announced months ago that he planned to meet soon with Churchill, whom he has not seen since the Cairo and Teheran conferences of last November and December. The meeting was not scheduled, however, until the Dewey campaign got under way.

Probably in Quebec.

London reports said the Roosevelt-Churchill meeting will be somewhere in North America, probably Quebec, where the two leaders met a year ago. It was indicated that the meeting may begin within the next few days. Mr. Roosevelt was in the White House and Churchill was in London during the day, but they can get together within a few days.

According to London dispatches the two will consider the final drive against Germany and means of throwing the heaviest possible weight against Japan as rapidly as possible after the surrender of the Nazis.

The conference may include discussion of peace terms to Germany. Churchill recently has been in Italy, where he had conferences with the Vatican, which observers here believe may have acted as a clearing house for surrender terms.

Surrender to Western Allies.

Some observers here feel that an understanding may have been reached during Churchill's stay in Rome for German surrender to the western allies, rather than to Russia. Such an arrangement, it was said, would explain why the Germans withdrew in the west while holding the Russians in the east.

Other questions which may be discussed by the President and prime minister include the determination of the Polish border, a program of occupation for Germany, the problems of small nations and minorities generally, post-war cooperation, and international peace organization.

A meeting of the allied leaders would vie for news columns with Dewey's campaign and some days of Dewey's tour might be overshadowed by joint statements from the President and the prime minister on world problems.

START MAILING SERVICE BALLOTS SATURDAY NIGHT

First mailing of Illinois ballots to Chicago men and women in the armed forces overseas will be started Saturday night within a few hours after the state certifying board in Springfield certifies the Nov. 7 ballot, John Rusch, chief clerk of the board of election commissioners, announced yesterday.

Rusch said an extra force of 300 clerks will be ready to start mailing the ballots to the 115,000 men and women in the uniformed forces who already have made applications for ballots. He said he expected this work to start Saturday night, to continue thru Sunday and until ballots have been mailed to all applicants.

County Clerk Michael J. Flynn reported that mailing of ballots will be started in his office within a few hours after the ballot has been certified. Proofs of ballots have been received, he said, and the forms are waiting only for the final official word before the printing of the ballots proceeds.

Barbados Negroes Here for Work in Wisconsin

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 7 (AP).—Arrival here of 950 Negroes, recruited in the Barbados, will help relieve labor shortages in some southeastern states and in Wisconsin. Some of the men will be employed in lumber, vegetable, and vegetable crate industries in South Carolina, Georgia, and Florida. More than 300 of them were sent by train to Wisconsin for employment in foundries. Importation of the men was arranged by the war man power commission and the British government.

CROSS ASSAILS F. D. R. POLITICAL USE OF WARSHIPS

Lueder, Barrett Hit Foe Downstate.

Mound City, Ill., Sept. 7 (AP).—Lt. Gov. Hugh W. Cross, seeking reëlection on the Republican ticket, criticized President Roosevelt today for what he termed "the use of United States naval cruisers with fighter plane convoys for political campaigning."

Speaking at a courthouse rally here, Cross, who is touring downstate with other G. O. P. candidates, said:

"The candidate for President who would occupy the White House for 16 years, or for life, said when he accepted the nomination, 'I do not do so in the usual partisan sense.'

"That statement was no doubt correct. Certainly the use of United States naval cruisers with fighter plane convoys for political campaigning is not the usual partisan way.

Cites Ration Changes.

"It begins to look like, for perhaps once, the New Deal candidate has made a statement which he expects to live by.

"Not in 'the usual partisan sense' of campaigning was the announcement yesterday of the removal from the ration list of 17 food items including baby foods. The announcement came not from the OPA but from Assistant President James Byrnes. This is plainly a bid for votes.

At a noon meeting in Vienna, Arthur C. Lueder, Republican candidate for reëlection as state auditor, who is traveling with the Cross caravan, said a free and unrestricted press with all the newsprint necessary is needed to carry the campaign of reconstruction following the war to the people.

"The press of the nation must be the hub around which our post-war plans revolve if they are to be successfully executed.

"Every shackle of New Deal burocracy which today is impeding the progress of the press of the nation must be removed, so that America's most powerful medium of molding public opinion will be free to function."

Barrett Hits Waste.

Atty. Gen. George F. Barrett, candidate for reëlection and third member of this G. O. P. caravan, addressing a meeting at Cairo, asserted that "continuation of the New Deal's reckless waste and extravagance" would result in "national bankruptcy."

He also set forth, in another caravan address: "If the American people want to preserve the value of their war bonds, of their insurance policies, and of their social security cards, then there is but one course to follow, and that is to elect Thomas E. Dewey President of the United States."

BROOKS BLAMES ROOSEVELT FOR AIR BASE LOSSES

Lend-Lease Law Gives Him Full Power.

BY WILLIAM MOORE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Sen. Brooks [R., Ill.] laid full responsibility for America's failure to obtain post-war rights to air and naval bases built with American lend-lease funds upon the shoulders of President Roosevelt today.

Brooks said congress would be powerless to prevent Mr. Roosevelt from forgiving debtor nations the 28 billion dollars the United States has spent in lend-lease operations all over the world if Mr. Roosevelt so desired.

The Illinois senator called the nation's attention again to the war department's sale of air bases built with American money in Canada to the Canadian government without any provision for American use of these bases after the war. Brooks protested this $90,683,571 sale, in which American taxpayers took a $13,872,020 financial loss, in a senate speech on Tuesday.

Lays It to Administration.

"This entire problem," Brooks said in an interview today, "is the responsibility of the present administration.

"The President himself made the agreement for the bases in the Atlantic in return for the destroyers he gave to Great Britain. All other agreements on bases have been made under his direction, mostly by the army and navy, under his orders as their 'commander in chief.'"

In not one of the agreements, Brooks said, has the United States any civilian rights now or after the war outside the western hemisphere.

"In most all of the bases other than those received in return for the destroyers," he charged, "we have no rights, written or otherwise, except to get out entirely six months after the war.

F. D. R. Alone Has Power.

"Even in the areas we received for the destroyers we had to pay for the land, plus all expenses of construction, and then we have only military and naval right to maintain them, paying all essential and incidental costs, for 99 years."

Brooks warned that the President is the only official who has the authority to negotiate a treaty which would give the United States future rights.

"Until treaties are negotiated," Brooks said, "congress is helpless except to protest, which many of us have done.

Can Yield All Rights.

"In addition, the President has the power to give away all our rights to all bases, facilities, and materials furnished or built under the lend-lease law.

Brooks said this lend-lease provision was one which many members of congress opposed in vain.

"Under this authority," Brooks said, "Mr. Roosevelt has the power to forgive and forget the 28 billion dollars in goods and services we have furnished our allies without demanding or securing any future right in any of the bases for which the American people have paid. Up to the present, he has not demanded or received future rights in any of them."

WHERE ASKED.
Pittsfield Bldg., 55 E. Washington st.

THE QUESTION.
What request from your family do you invariably refuse?

THE ANSWERS.

Raymond F. Thomas, furrier, 1445 W. 61st st.—My son has often asked me to take him to a baseball game. When I refuse him, he asks my wife to ask me and I say "No" to her, too. He keeps talking all thru the game and I don't have a chance to see what's going on. Every time something happens he comments.

Mrs. John Matanky, clerk, 3240 Leland av.—A law that I have laid down at home which is never altered is that a child who is going to school must be in bed at a certain time. My family can coax me all they want to but when it comes time to go to bed they go to bed. Sleep is important to a child.

Mrs. Fred C. Heineman, housewife, 6434 Talman av.—I'll tolerate walking around the golf course with my family, but when they try to take me on a fishing trip, that's another story. I don't see how they can sit all cramped up in a little boat all afternoon and wait for a fish to nibble.

R. W. Anderson, X-ray technician, 5530 Berteau av.—There's nothing I enjoy more by myself than a nice, long horseback ride in the country. Almost twice a week my three children ask me to take them riding, too. When you get three youngsters on horses, it's enough to make any man's hair turn gray.

W. P. Anderson, furrier, 4130 Monticello av.—Going to movies is all right if you have a lot of time and nothing else to do. When my wife and daughter ask me to take them to a movie I know just what they have in mind—a double feature and-or a musical. I prefer a short action or war picture.

OWI PAPER USE TO BE STUDIED BY HOUSE GROUP

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—An investigation of the office of war information's use of printing paper will be made by the house committee on newsprint and brand names, a subcommittee of the interstate and foreign commerce committe, Rep. Brown [R., O.] said in a statement today.

Brown said the committee will give attention to the wisdom of continuing Victory, an OWI publication going to Latin America, and will investigate reports that the OWI contemplates a health publication which would consume thousands of tons of book paper. Curtailment of the OWI's use of paper after the defeat of Germany will be sought, Brown said.

Study Cut in Pulp Uses.

The OWI's use of paper will be only one of several factors of the print paper situation to be surveyed by the committee, Brown said. He said Rep. Boren [D., Okla.], chairman of the committee has agreed with the program outlined.

Other points listed by Brown for investigation are:

1. Army and navy plans for cutting back the use of all pulp products so that printers and publishers will have more paper at the end of the war in Europe.

Scan Use of Prisoners.

2. The extent of the war production board's control over paper for government printing and its plans for abandoning war time government publications.

3. WPB programs for maximum pulpwood production in the coming cutting season, and the use of German war prisoners in the pulp industry.

4. Possible delay in returning to a free market in paper because of paper mills' reluctance to be caught with high cost pulpwood inventories.

SURVEY ORDERED ON USE OF LAKE ISLE AS AIRPORT

The city aero commission at a meeting yesterday directed its engineers to begin a survey to determine the feasibility of an airplane landing strip on Northerly Island to serve as an auxiliary to the Chicago airport and as a terminal for small planes. The survey will require from three to four weeks, said Merrill C. Meigs, chairman of the commission.

There is space on the island, which lies just south of Adler planetarium, for a main north and south landing strip. An intercepting strip, extending eastward into the lake, also is envisioned in the plan.

Mayor Kelly received the auxiliary landing field plan with enthusiasm when it was presented by the commission Aug. 31.

Northerly island, the artificial key which gained national fame during the World's Fair of 1933-'34, already belongs to the city, obviating condemnation proceedings so often a bogey in planning new air bases.

OPA CORRECTS ERROR AND LETS FIRM SELL TRAYS

World Wide Industries, Inc., of 5409 Halsted st., today should receive a price ceiling certificate which will enable it to sell a $3,000 stock of serving trays and continue in business, Rae E. Walters, regional price administrator, said yesterday.

Theodore Talalay, a member of the firm of a father and three brothers, was quoted in a story in THE TRIBUNE yesterday as saying the OPA had failed to certify a price ceiling for the company's one product, and that 30 employes had been laid off and the company would have to go out of business soon if it could not sell its trays.

"I called Washington as soon as I read the story," Walters said, "and within an hour was called back and told the missing papers had been found and were being sent to the company by registered mail immediately. I was told the certificate had been sent by error to the World Wide Wood Industries of New York."

DEMOBILIZATION PLANS.

The army's plan for selecting the soldiers who are to be demobilized after Germany's defeat appears to be an acceptable one. The details remain to be worked out, but the general idea is to let those go first who have been in service the longest, who have been overseas the longest, who have distinguished themselves the most in combat [as proved by their medals], and who have the most dependent children.

The method of scoring the various points remains to be decided, a fact which invites the suspicion that somebody saw an advantage in announcing the plan before it had been matured.

The national political campaign is about to begin. The day before Gov. Dewey started his national canvass in Philadelphia Mr. Roosevelt came out with his preparations for sending large numbers of soldiers back to their families and to civil life.

If this were the first incident of the kind Mr. Roosevelt could readily be acquitted of playing that kind of politics. Unfortunately for him, it is not. He always contrived large increases in WPA and other relief payments just before election. He customarily sent the farmers their checks at about the same time. He declared breathing spells for business and got rid of his Tugwells at the same appropriate moments. A year ago he personally announced the discontinuance of coffee rationing just in time to make an impression on the voters at a forthcoming election.

Now, in addition to raising hopes of a speedy reunion of families, the New Deal is announcing the discontinuance of many controls on business once the Germans are defeated. Likewise, the rationing of many kinds of canned goods is to be discontinued. There is no reason to suppose that these relaxations could not have been arranged weeks or months ago, but they were not. The suspicion that Mr. Roosevelt is once again playing a particularly nasty and unscrupulous kind of politics is strong because his record as a politician makes it so.

If Mr. Roosevelt were really as eager to get American boys home as this announcement suggests he is, why hasn't he been pressing the French, the Dutch, and other liberated peoples to enlist their sons for the Pacific war, once their countries have been freed? Our soldiers are liberating France and Holland. If France wants Indo-China back and a voice at the peace table, and if the Dutch want their East Indian treasure house restored, they ought to be willing to send large armies to fight for them. If that were done a lot more of our boys might go home.

PEACE THRU A FREE PRESS.

King Michael, who is heading up the new proally government in Romania, has restored the Romanian democratic constitution abolished by his father, King Carol. The young king's ministry, however, has announced that the press controls removed during the palace revolution of Aug. 27 will be reëstablished. Queen Wilhelmina's government in exile is prepared to return to Holland armed with dictatorial emergency powers which include complete domination of the press, and the same kind of autocratic regulation is planned for France, altho French newspaper men have protested it. When Gen. Charles de Gaulle was in Washington, he said that foreign correspondents in France would have the same kind of facilities there that they have in their own countries. A few days later, however, the general's committee of national liberation in Algiers set up a single French agency with exclusive right to distribute all French and foreign news within France.

Kent Cooper, general manager of the Associated Press, has been urging that guarantees of press freedom be written into the peace treaty. Such a clause would prevent any nation which is party to the treaty from setting up a press licensing system or a news monopoly that could be turned into a propaganda machine. The result should be a better understanding everywhere of national purposes. Countries preferring to embark on wars of conquest would find it difficult or impossible to conceal their purposes from their own citizens as well as their neighbors.

This is a vital and necessary step toward the establishment of a prolonged peace. The German people were led and driven into this war only because Hitler, Goering, and Goebbels got control of the German press and all sources of German news and were able to direct the thinking and restrict the knowledge of the German public. Dictators cannot rise to power where there is a free press.

We are helping to set up Gen. de Gaulle as temporary ruler of France and are helping Russia to establish King Michael in the same position in Romania, yet we are allowing both of these heads of states to create press monopolies and licensing systems which are the yeast of dictatorship. We are supposed to be restoring liberty and the rights of man in these countries, yet we are permitting new governments to withhold the right of men to be fully and truthfully informed. We are presently responsible for the conduct of the new governments we are helping to create in Europe and therefore we must insist on the immediate lifting of all press bans imposed by them.

A POLITICAL TRIAL.

Attorneys for a number of the defendants in the sedition trial in Washington have appealed to the court for protection. The prosecutor is accused of having made "inflammatory and prejudicial public utterances" against one of the men on trial and shots are said to have been fired at several of the lawyers.

What basis there may be for either or both of these charges we do not know, but this we do know: that the government's conduct of this case from its beginning constitutes a lasting blot upon the department of justice as it has been administered under Mr. Roosevelt. Not since the notorious sedition trials in the Adams administration has there been anything in this country's legal history to compare with the present proceedings in their infamous disregard of the spirit of our institutions.

The defendants are for much the most part cranks, crackpots, and ranters. They are an unlovely lot, given to hate and violent expression of their opinions and sentiments. One of the objects of their hate was communism. Another was the Jews. Another was Mr. Roosevelt. They spoke and wrote harshly and, as the vast majority of their fellow citizens believe, unreasonably, but there is no law and, under the Constitution, there can be no law to punish men in this country for the expression of political opinion.

The law under which this prosecution is being conducted makes it an offense to undermine the morale of the soldiers and sailors. If the defendants are guilty of this crime they should have been charged with it directly and the proof would not have required months. Instead, Mr. Biddle has accused them of conspiring together to commit the crime and the evidence so far has been concerned largely not with what they did but with what they wrote and said. The prosecution is expected to continue for months with the presentation of its case.

If these men and women are guilty of undermining the morale of the army and navy they should be punished, but it was not necessary to charge them with conspiracy nor to drag them to Washington for trial en masse, with all the delays and injustices which that procedure inevitably has entailed.

As matters stand, there is no escaping the conclusion that this is a political trial. This administration wants it to stand as a precedent for further efforts to punish those who dare to voice their political opposition.

RUSSIA IN THE BALKANS.

Bulgaria has been a German ally thru more than three years of war against Russia, but only now, when Bulgaria's assistance can no longer be of much value to Germany, has Russia declared war on Bulgaria. Mr. Molotov, the soviet foreign minister, explains that Russia had compassion for Bulgaria as long as the little country was helpless in the face of overwhelming German might, but now that Bulgaria is no longer under the gun she must join the war against Hitler, and lose no time in doing so.

There is more to it than that. Russia intends to control Bulgaria. The declaration of war will give the soviet spokesmen at the peace table the right to take a leading part in the determination of Bulgaria's future and the right of the conqueror to impose its will on the conquered. Russia has long sought to boss the whole Balkan peninsula as one of her spheres of influence. She is nearer the realization of her ambition today than she has ever been.

A chapter in Balkan history that began more than a hundred years ago with the Greek wars of independence is now closing. One after another, the Balkan peoples won their freedom from Turkish rule. At the same time rivalry developed among the great powers for succession to Turkey as boss of the peninsula. The chief contenders were Russia and Austria. The first World war ended with Austria's influence broken and with Russia so weakened that she was unable for the moment to assert her ambitions. Under Hitler the Germans, who had formerly backed the Austrians, once again sought Balkan leadership and for three years have had it. Under Stalin the Russians, too, have returned to the old stand and the defeat of Germany means that for the moment the Russian claim is unchallenged.

Dominance over Romania and Bulgaria advances Russia almost to Istanbul, and will increase the temptation to push the Turks from those last few miles. Control of Yugoslavia, whose borders the Russian armies have now reached, will place the Russians on an arm of the Mediterranean, just across the narrow Adriatic sea from Italy. The British cannot desire to have the strongest continental power, Russia, in control of the straits and in virtual possession of outlets on the central Mediterranean, but the English may have to accept the fact because of inability to do anything to prevent it.

It will be relatively easy for the Russians to bear down on the Romanians and Bulgars, but not quite so easy to maintain pressure on the Yugoslavs and Greeks. Tito, who is now recognized by the allied powers as the Yugoslav leader, is a Communist and pro-Russian, but it is far from certain that the Yugoslav peoples are strongly of his persuasion, and after the war they may resist Russian influence. The same attitude may be expected of the Greeks. Unless the behavior of nations after the war becomes a very different thing from their behavior over the centuries, the British will support the aspirations of these Balkan peoples for liberation from what will no doubt be called, accurately enough, the Russian yoke.

WATCH ON THE RHINE.

The Germans have done a great deal of singing about their watch on the Rhine, and no doubt there is a general feeling that the famous river has seen centuries of warfare. It is an astonishing fact, therefore, that no major battles have been fought on its shores. Invading armies have crossed the stream frequently without fighting, for until modern times the Germans were asleep on the Rhine.

* * *

Germany was overrun by foreign armies from the west, French and English, in various wars until late in 1813, when Napoleon withdrew after his defeat at Leipzig. Prussian, Austrian, and Russian armies followed him into France without resistance at the great river.

* * *

It must be remembered that until 1871 there was no unified Germany. The invaders always found many of the German principalities and petty kingdoms friendly to their purpose, which was usually to subdue the Austrian menace or to cramp the style of Prussia. France, the liveliest Rhine-crosser then, regarded the river as the least of its military problems.

* * *

In 1704 Marlborough led an English army from Holland into Germany to liberate the country from the French, who had taken over Bavaria with that state's consent. Austria, also worried, asked for this expedition "to preserve Germany from a total subversion." Marlborough crossed the Rhine quite calmly at Coblenz and marched to the Danube, where he and Prince Eugene of Savoy defeated the French in the battle of Blenheim, which is listed among the ten best.

* * *

The first recorded crossing of the Rhine was Julius Caesar's, probably near Cologne. This was an engineering exploit without bloodshed, and it has made tough, technical reading for Latin students ever since.

HAVE YOU SEEN MARIE?

The names are the same as they were, my son,
Chalons, and Reims, and Beauvais,
And I follow you well as you plunge ahead
On those trails of a far-off day.
I follow you well thru the deafening fight,
It is all so real to me
That I fancy I am with you there—
But son, have you seen Marie?

You will know her, son, by her golden hair,
And her smile, and her roguish glance,
For she is by far the loveliest
Of all the maids in France.
Her mother keeps the "Three White Swans"
On the road to Fontainebleau,
And when you have a leave, my son,
There is the place to go.

At eve when you stand in the garden there,
And hold her tiny hand,
Tell her that you knew me, my son,
And she will understand.
Yes, she will smile in the old sweet way,
Then kiss her once for me—
But perhaps you will have no interest,
For she will be—forty-three.

Earle W. Carter.

A Book He Never Finished.

The harvest moon, a great burnished copper platter against the cloudless night sky, dipped low behind the tall hedgerows of Mrs. Jerome Brunswyck Stwamhope's formal garden. It had been a brilliant and bountiful floral season. But now Jack Frost's somber shroud was stretched across the once colorful countryside.

Like gaunt ghosts, restless leaves tipfoed among the seared stalks and broken blossoms. In near-by thickets birds stirred uneasily in their dreams. The air was ominous with the chill threat of approaching winter.

In the midst of this tattered ruin of a world stood Nelsen Svjborjensen, third assistant gardener, and Claudella, Mrs. Stwamhope's young and beautiful daughter. Unconsciously he drew her soft, warm, vibrant, unresisting form close to his strong, manly bosom.

"O, Nels," Claudella sighed tremulously as she ran her slender, talented fingers thru his thick blond locks. "I am so-o-o-o-o-o sorry."

Young Nelsen, poor but proud, gazed deep into the cold blue wonder of the mysterious night sky. He could think of nothing to say.

The moon dipped low and lower . . . Hig.

WHAT'S HIS NAME?

Once we heard him demanding,
In accents harsh and cruel,
Countries, and peoples, and races—
The half of the world to rule.

But now, methinks, he is pleading
In a voice subdued and faint
For a brush, a ladder, a bucket,
And somewhere a house to paint.

Women Are Like Radios?

Women, like radios, bring music into the drab routine that is life. Like radios, they serve to cheer us when things aren't going well; they set our hearts to dancing, our minds to prancing, convert our thoughts into channels that are enhancing. Like radios, they bring drama, comedy, lightness, and love to men's hearts.

Unlike radios, however, women cannot be turned off. Guy Finamore.

Friend of Yanks' Kin

By Sally Joy Brown

[This department answers questions related to help available to relatives of service men, in the column or by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent to Sally Joy Brown.]

Mrs. D. P. writes: "I have read much about Christmas mailing to men in the armed forces, but my son is in the merchant marine, and I wonder if the same regulations apply to him."

The mailing period for members of the merchant marine and army transport service is the same as that specified for the military services, Sept. 15 to Oct. 15. The weight of ordinary parcels should not exceed 11 pounds or measure more than 18 inches in length or 42 inches in length and girth combined. If members of either service are stationed at land establishments within the United States, packages may be registered or insured, but items addressed for delivery to members of crews on board ship will not be accepted for registration or insurance.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

CHANGING PERSONALITY AND THE CIRCULATION.

THERE is a close association between mind and body. We must not blame the one who is ill most of the time if he indulges in morbid thoughts or exhibits signs of depression. The chances are that there is a physical explanation. Perhaps the circulation to the nervous system is inadequate. In other words, if nerve cells are starved they will behave badly, even tho pain is not encountered.

Take the man who is subjected to constant and abnormal stress over a long period. The influence upon vital organs is practically the same as tho he were poisoned. In consequence, blood pressure rises and he gradually becomes irritable, displays lapses of memory, and manifests a type of indifference toward affairs which is strange to his nature.

If we could look within the skull and examine the tiny channels which feed the thinking apparatus we would probably find that many of them have been blocked or reduced in caliber. Mental capacity has dropped because good nourishment cannot reach the cells.

A similar effect can be brought about by infection. Bacteria may set up sites of toxin manufacture. These products can destroy the circulating machinery, the finer conduits. It makes no difference where the lethal elements are produced. They may come from the teeth, the sinuses, or the alimentary or urinary tracts. In fact, there are scores of possible sources, as explained in yesterday's article. Thus it is that physicians urge the routing out of all pockets where germs can propagate and form injurious chemicals.

The case of a 19 year old girl has been duplicated a thousandfold. She experienced a profound melancholia and refused to eat. Life was sustained only after forced feeding had been resorted to. A careful checkup revealed that the ethmoid sinuses were packed with cheesy pus. With the removal of this material, and the establishment of good drainage, she emerged from her helpless mental state into excellent health.

What happens to our oldsters who develop cerebral sclerosis? All too frequently, they present peculiarities which border upon irresponsibility. The trouble lies in the blood supply to the brain. Arteries have become so brittle that food for the dome of thought is not available. A few will become suspicious of honest, well meaning friends and relatives. On the contrary, they may place all the confidence in the world in some designing schemer.

There is such a thing as arteriosclerotic dementia and many of these sufferers will evince tremendous energy at times, abysmal vacillation at others. Leave such a one in sole control of a business and the most perfectly dovetailed organization will fall apart.

How can we detect early indications? We should be on the alert whenever an elderly person complains of momentary loss of consciousness, especially if the tension within the arteries is known to be elevated. Brainstorms are characteristic. Changing decisions, or lack of ability to settle a problem are likewise factors.

The best work the physician can do, when confronted with such a situation, is to take an inventory of his patient. He can evaluate the work of the vital organs, particularly the blood pathways. When it comes to applying the remedy to retard destructive processes, he can insist upon relief of strain, more rest, elimination of foci of infection, and the best nutriment that the circulatory system can transport.

NO SPINACH.

Mrs. H. writes: My 9 year old girl just will not eat vegetables. She is well and strong and loves butter, eggs, milk, etc. In these circumstances, will she develop a deficiency disease?

REPLY.

If she uses fruits, there is no danger. As a rule, vitamins are more concentrated than in vegetables.

PERSPIRATION.

D. S. writes: You recently spoke of stimulating elimination via the skin. How can this be done?

REPLY.

The best method is the daily hot bath with the temperature of the water between 105 and 110 degrees F. Do not remain in the tub more than 10 minutes. This will open the pores.

BIG AND LITTLE.

R. E. S. writes: Are there different kinds of hives?

REPLY.

Yes, urticaria may present itself in many forms. The chief varieties are ordinary and giant. The lesions result from sensitivity.

The Number Is Up.

Remember that 3888 mess? Divide it by two, and you get 1944. Divide that by two, and you get 972. And so the war was going to end at 2 o'clock on Sept. 7? That was yesterday, chums.

As the Earth Moans.

The letter from the corporal overseas began humbly. "I am nobody," he wrote, "and may never be anybody. That isn't important, and I am not important, but this is important:

"The end is near, and we will forget too much that should be remembered, and remember too much that should be forgotten, but if in the forgetting and remembering we can cling to something good, we will have won the war."

So began a sensitive and provocative letter from a stranger, Corp. Scott Van Delinder Jr. All he said of himself is that he has served overseas two years. "Do what you want with this," he wrote, "or nothing. But maybe you will find an idea in it."

Then he wrote:

"It isn't the shouting of the doughboy, afraid to death and yet going on. It isn't the eternal tremor of the big guns pouring their shells into hell itself. It isn't the incredible heroism of the aid men who have only a red cross and faith in their task. These are not the important things in war.

"Alone we are nothing, and only enough of us to make divisions and armies are important in war. Alone we are less than the weapons we use and less than the trucks we ride in, and yet we alone are the cause of war.

"From nowhere to nowhere we march on, each with a moment to look and wonder and lose. That we fight for us because of us must be a mockery to that Infinity who has seen it so often.

"I saw the sunset over Rome, and the sky blushed for shame.

"I saw London rise from the ashes of a hundred fires, and I saw the British carry on with nothing but faith in their faith.

"I saw the French die ignominiously and then crawl from their holes in Africa and march thru Italy toward their own glory.

"I saw the men and women of the Balkans fight with less than hope and more than courage, and the greatest military might in the world was helpless against them.

"And yet these are not important in war. If from the rubble and dust of those who play Mars there comes just one way to be a little more man and to ease a little more pain, then only we become important in war and in peace. Then that which bred this, war itself, will have been erased, and nowhere to nowhere will have become somewhere.

"Then the world itself will be no larger than the smallest heart in it."

Sardine Life.

The subway train roared to a stop in the loop and the crowd surging to get aboard blocked the exit for those trying to get off. "Give 'em a chance! Give 'em a chance!" yelled a platform attendant as he tried to elbow the newcomers away. But the crowd stood its ground and immobilized the others. The platform attendant backed off. "Aw, give 'em half a chance," he yelled plaintively.

Total War.

A scout named Marge reports a sad drug store safari she made with a girl named Jennie. They had stopped in for a soda on their way to the beach, and Jennie had ordered a chocolate one. When the waitress delivered it, she noticed a piece of raspberry clinging to the side of the glass, a rosy memory of some other forgotten soda. "I'm sorry, miss," Jennie began, "I can't eat this. The glass is dirty." The waitress stared in brief disgust. "O, well, if you want, I'll put it in another glass," she said. She did. The girls left.

REPUBLICAN LABOR POLICY.

Chicago, Sept. 2.—Many union men will this year vote against a change in national administration, not because they do not want it but because they fear it will bring restrictive "anti-labor" legislation. Republican campaigning so far has been too silent on possible cures for the power-corrupted union. The impression is pardonable that some "regulation" of labor unions is on their program.

Let us hope that can be soon dispelled. The virtual enslavement of many workers to union bosses is not the result of too much freedom, but of not enough. In the old time voluntary unions we had no such plague. It has grown out of the unholy laws by which a "bargaining agent" can be forced upon a worker by law, following an election. Such delegations of governmental power have thrown union doors wide open to bossism, and you cannot cure oppression with more oppression. What is needed is a renewed faith in the processes of freedom. There is no remedy for a boss controled union like perfect freedom for its decent members to leave it for a cleaner union.

There is little hope for the future in Republican assurances that "labor's gains" will be undisturbed. After the perennial torrent of propaganda to convince wage workers that their only salvation lies in the making of union officials by law into a class privileged to intimidate, it may be hard to convince them again that special privilege of any kind is pretty sure to end up as just another kick in the poor man's stomach. But no truth is better evidenced in history than that one. And unless enough of the less studious voters can learn it too, the future looks dark for American freedom under any party label. HARRIS K. RANDALL.

TRIBUNE WAR MAPS.

Dubuque, Ia., Sept. 5.—A real patriotic service has been rendered by THE TRIBUNE in publishing the maps illustrating the theater of war in Europe. In the English classes of our navy V-12 unit at the University of Dubuque, these maps are made the subject of intensive study. When used with gazetteers and travel books, they have the highest value in giving reality to the news of the day. HERMANN S. FICKE.

TEASED HIS APPETITE.

Chicago, Sept. 1.—When I looked at the picture of the new Corregidor memory stamps I thought at first that the island was a T-bone steak. That would be a memory stamp de luxe. Will you please take it up with Washington? DULL.

IT'S A ONE-WAY SMEAR.

Chicago, Aug. 29.—Drew Pearson could see such a terrible wrong in John Foster Dulles' trip via auto to Washington with his sore foot, but had no comment on the 20 million dollar trip made by the President. TAXPAYER.

FROM ANOTHER OLDER SOLDIER.

Camp Breckinridge, Ky., Aug. 29.—I heartily agree with "Chicago Private" that we older men are discriminated against in every way in the army. I am in my 38th year and have had 22 months' service, with good conduct, and still am a private. Since I have physical handicaps that would not meet overseas requirements, I have never once been given an opportunity to advance in the army; rather, it seems to be the principles of the army to transfer older men from one camp to another and what do you get from these transfers?—the most menial of camp details and you soon find yourself in the so-called company or detachment labor gang and under some young noncom of half your years, but who has the authority of Hitler.

I have a better academic background than most of the younger men who are securing promotions in my detachment, but when extra technical training in this detachment was open and I applied, I was flatly refused with no reason given. Young men, some of whom might have had the benefit of six grades in school, were accepted.

If we have age and physical handicaps we should be discharged from the army at once, not made to stay in involuntary servitude which wearies the soul and dulls the mind.

A BOSTON PRIVATE.

SEES A PEACE OMEN.

Spring Valley, Ill., Sept. 1. — I was very glad to see the letter by T. R. Pelham-Thorman in the Sunday edition of THE TRIBUNE. It is most heartening because it tells the American people the one thing that they are all wondering about — namely, that the war is about over.

When the English, regardless of the particular part of the empire they happen to live in, begin to tell us that they could have, and really did, win the war without our help, it is about ended. This is the same insult and treatment given us after the last war — it merely comes a bit early this time.

WILFRED EVELYN PUTZEL.

WHO WAS DUMB.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 2.—You can imagine who was dumb at this Dumbarton Oaks pow-wow, of which New Dealers are so fond. Definitely it was not England or Russia.

INSUFFICIENT.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Can an automobile driver's license card be used as a bond when the holder is arrested for traffic violation? O. S.

No, in the sense that if the judge fixes a cash bond the card would not amount to a compliance.

LEGION SEEKING TO SAVE UNIONS FROM DICTATORS

Official Cites Perils in Hillman's Type.

Protection of labor unions and their members against "dictators of the Sidney Hillman stamp" will be on the agenda of the national defense committee of the American Legion when it meets in Chicago Sept. 18, said Atty. Philip Richard Davis, the committee secretary, yesterday. Davis also is vice chairman of the labor law committee of the Chicago Bar association.

Philip R. Davis.

"In the interest of labor generally and the national defense program," Davis said, "we will take up measures to prevent the infiltration of subversives and subversive organizations of the Fascist-Communist type.

Asserts PAC Breaks Law.

"We shall take up particularly the political action committee of the CIO, which violates the Constitution, the corrupt practices act, the Hatch act, and by indirection is doing what the New Deal can't do directly; what Jeffersonian Democrats wouldn't do.

"The PAC-CIO is infiltrated with Fascist and Communist minded leaders and Hillman, its chairman, is a dictator using all the Fascist and Communist tactics combined to accomplish his purposes. Huey Long, who had the same tendencies, certainly knew what he was talking about when he said that 'if fascism ever comes to the country, it will come in the guise of anti-fascism.'"

Sees Menace to Defense.

Davis said the whole Hillman-PAC-New Deal "line" will be discussed at the forthcoming Legion committee meeting in an endeavor to stop the combination as a danger to national defense and to lasting peace.

DIVORCE GIVEN FORMER WIFE OF A. D. WATSON JR.

Mrs. Helen Safford Williams of 1225 Marison st., Highland Park, was granted a divorce yesterday by Judge Ralph J. Dady of Lake county Circuit court, in Waukegan, when she testified that Barent W. Williams of New York deserted her in December, 1942. They were married April 8, 1939, in West Palm Beach, Fla. Mrs. Williams, represented by Atty. Francis J. Nosek, said she had to return to her parents' home in Highland Park in May, 1943, when her husband stopped supporting her. In July, 1944, Mrs. Williams was appointed guardian of two children by her first husband, Artemus De Long Watson Jr., wealthy greeting card publisher, who killed himself May 29. Mrs. Williams divorced Watson in Reno, Nev., in 1934.

QUESTION FLY'S GOLF COMPANION ON RADIO DEAL

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Lt. Comdr. George B. Storer of Detroit and Miami, owner of a string of radio stations, was persistently questioned for several hours today by the special house committee investigating charges that Chairman James L. Fly of the federal communications commission put pressure upon a radio station owner to sell his property at a bargain price to Storer.

Storer, who said his radio properties "could be" worth 3 or 4 millions, is a golf and bridge playing companion of the FCC chairman. He repeatedly denied he had asked Fly to use his influence in the radio deal.

The Florida station involved is WFTL, formerly owned by Ralph A. Horton, 66, of Fort Lauderdale, Fla. He sold it to Storer last year for $275,000. Testimony has been introduced that the value of the station was $350,000 then and its present worth was estimated at more than $500,000.

"Conspiracy" Charged.

For three days, John J. Sirica, committee counsel, has questioned Chairman Fly and the other principals in the deal, seeking an admission of what he has termed "a civil conspiracy" to force Horton into the sale.

Horton and two other witnesses have testified that he met Fly in Storer's suite in the Atlanta Biltmore hotel, Atlanta, Ga., in April, 1943, and was told by Fly that a previous contract to dispose of the station was illegal and might result in loss of his rights. He sold the property to Storer 10 days later.

Storer was questioned at length about a long distance call he made from Atlanta to Washington in April, 1943, prior to the station deal, in which he talked to Fly. Counsel Sirica sought to bring out that arrangements were made during this telephone conversation for Fly to come to Atlanta and "frighten an old man into the deal."

"I can't recall but I think that call was merely to arrange a social round of golf," Storer testified.

Called on "Priority."

Rep. Miller [R., Mo.] then brought out that the call was made on a "priority 3" designation, reserved for telephone messages essential to the national defense.

"Was this social round of golf considered by you to be in furtherance of the war effort, the national security, the safe conduct of the war, or in the interests of public health and safety?" Miller asked ironically.

"Perhaps it was for public health," jested the navy officer.

Storer denied the purchase of the radio station was an unusually profitable investment.

"Frankly," he remarked, "I bought it because I have a Miami Beach home and wanted an excuse to be there in winter. Actually I took a tremendous gamble on the deal."

The hearing will continue tomorrow with Storer still in the witness chair.

FIRE HOSE LENT OCD WILL REST IN WAREHOUSE

Fire Commissioner Michael J. Corrigan disclosed yesterday that the 150,000 feet of hose lent to Chicago by the office of civilian defense three years ago has not and will not be used by the city fire department.

The hose will be kept undisturbed in the fire department warehouse at 31st st. and Sacramento av. "because it will not stand up" to the demands of the department, Commissioner Corrigan said. Because the rubber is covered with only one jacket of woven cotton, the hose is not considered safe when carrying more than 150 pounds of water pressure.

Regulation fire department hose in Chicago is dual jacket, capable of carrying 400 pound pressure. The OCD hose would be suitable for small communities or for emergency use in buildings, Commissioner Corrigan said.

BROMFIELD RAPS 'LIBERAL' CLAIM OF NEW DEALERS

Author Calls Tag Shield for Skullduggery.

BY GLADYS PRIDDY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 7.—Louis Bromfield, author, farmer and lifelong Democrat who announced Aug. 13 he was voting Republican this November, charged here tonight the New Deal was using the word "liberal" to shield 12 years of skullduggery, cynical politics, confusion, and misgovernment. He declared America needs her house cleaned of "cranks, crooks, fools, knaves, outdated Communists, moongazers, and confusion" and that Gov. Dewey is the man to do the job.

The Lucas, O., writer spoke at the biennial meeting of the National Federation of Women's Republican clubs. The conference, which opened this afternoon, closes formally tomorrow afternoon but delegates will remain for the federation sponsored public rally tomorrow night in the Louisville Armory where Gov. Dewey will broadcast to the nation.

Many Pose as Liberals.

Describing himself as a liberal believing in democracy as the best and soundest form of government, Bromfield said he now finds Communists, extreme radicals, and advocates of paternalism and regimentation claiming the same label.

"Men as far apart as Sidney Hillman and Mayor Kelly of Chicago pose as liberals," the author stated. "In fact, the good word once applied to men of the caliber of Thomas Jefferson and Woodrow Wilson has come to mean under the New Deal very nearly the same as 'mongrel.'"

The Democratic party today, he said, is an organization "whose strongest elements are on the one hand reactionary political bosses belonging to corrupt political machines—Flynn, Kelly, Hague, and Hannegan—and on the other, the reactionary-totalitarian forces of Sidney Hillman and the Communist party" along with federal jobholders and machine politicians.

Shall People Rule Government?

"As the election grows nearer," he warned, "one issue—perhaps the greatest involved—is whether this nation is to continue as a nation in which people rule the government or whether the government, dominated by a small group of willful men surrounding the President, none of them chosen by the people—is to make slaves of the people."

His indictment of Roosevelt and the New Deal included the paternalism which exacts restrictions and regimentation for doles and then reimburses itself with heavy taxes. Bromfield attacked the Roosevelt secrecy on plans for a world state, if any, and on such conferences as Teheran and Dumbarton Oaks. The speaker met the Democrat party claim to the President's indispensability with statements that the war production effort had succeeded "despite lack of leadership and efficiency" and American generals and admirals would continue to carry on the war if Roosevelt retired tomorrow.

Chicago Woman Drafted.

Mrs. W. Glenn Suthers, Federation president followed Bromfield in an address stressing the able administration records made by Gov. Dewey in New York and by his running mate, Gov. Bricker of Ohio, Vice Presidential nominee.

Earlier in the day, Mrs. Suthers, who had come here avowedly not a candidate for reëlection, had been drafted for another term on the nominating committee's slate. Elections will be held tomorrow morning.

Republican national committee leaders are tomorrow morning's speakers. They include Werner Schroeder, vice chairman, Miss Marion E. Martin, assistant chairman and founder of the federation, and Jouett Ross Todd, treasurer.

Repeat 1898 Meeting.

Day by Day on the FARM

The FARM by Gail Compton

September 7, 1944.

FALL rains are beginning to soften the ground for plowing. Backed by many days of hot weather, the soil will take plenty of moisture before it becomes fully workable, however.

The farm rapidly is approaching the tag end of the season. There are not many more jobs left to be done. Next on the program is the cutting of the hay field south of the machinery shed. This is heavily infested with quack grass. The manager had planned to fallow the field this summer, but a heavy work schedule and lack of help made it impossible to get the job done. Now the field will be clipped and then plowed.

Seed Harvest Next.

With haying about completed, the only job of any proportion left is the harvesting of the clover and alfalfa seed. When the combining is finished, the men can get the fall plowing done leisurely before corn picking time arrives.

Size of the corn crop will enable the men to give final judgment on what kind of a farming year it has been. The first hay crop was good, spring rains were plentiful, and the oat crop was fair. On the debit side was the drouth, a short second cutting of hay, and the possibility of a reduced corn yield.

Farmers Figure Costs.

At this time of the year, the men usually begin talking about the cost of producing the various crops. A good source of information is the record kept by cost accounting farms under the guidance of the college of agriculture at the University of Illinois.

The college reports that in 1943 it cost $20.56 to grow and husk an acre of corn. The average yield on the cost accounting farms was 66⅓ bushels per acre. Thus the average cost per bushel of producing corn, including cribbing, is approximately 31 cents.

Corn Most Profitable.

This makes corn the most profitable crop for Illinois farmers. Second on the list, the college says, is soybeans. Last year it cost farmers $18.84 to produce an acre of beans. With yields averaging 25¼ bushels per acre, the production cost amounted to nearly 75 cents per bushel.

The cost of growing an acre of oats, cutting them with a combine, amounted to $13.94, or 43 cents per bushel. Winter wheat grown on the farms costs 80 cents per bushel.

Farmers may expect to find their production costs higher this year, because farm wages are up and general crop returns are down from those of last year.

The GARDEN by Ben Markland

RHUBARB, like asparagus, is greatly benefited by fall applications of fertilizers high in nitrogen. Chicken manure is the ideal plant food for rhubarb, with commercial fertilizer a second choice.

Rhubarb can be fertilized any time in the fall, altho the job can be done more easily after frost has killed the large leaves. Then the leaves can be cut off and the fertilizer applied close to the roots. A liberal covering of plant food should be placed in a two foot circle around the plants, then a spading fork should be used to dig up the top three or four inches of ground, gradually working the fertilizer into the topsoil.

Gardeners should not rake the ground around the plants after spading, but leave it in clod form. Winter frosts will penetrate the clods and leave a mellow and friable bed.

DEMANDS RISE FOR TRUTH ON HAWAII ATTACK

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Demands that the New Deal tell the public who was to blame for the Pearl Harbor disaster mounted in the house today as Republican members challenged President Roosevelt's competence to continue as commander in chief of the army and navy for four more years.

Rep. Case [R., S. D.], noting that the Democrats are making their fourth term bid on the theory that Mr. Roosevelt is the one "superman" who can win the war and make the peace, said these claims are contradicted by the President's failure to keep us out of war and by our tragic unpreparedness at Pearl Harbor.

Events Before Dec. 7.

Observing that the chief executive by virtue of his position had more knowledge than any one else of the chain of events preceding the Dec. 7, 1941, attack, Case said:

"If with vast special knowledge, the President's policy in the Pacific failed, not only to keep us out of war but brought the war to the United States not only in the Pacific but thruout the world; and brought the war to a crushing surprise attack that limited and crippled us for a year and a half, how can any one claim some other man might not have done as well, indeed might not do better in completing the war and making the peace?"

Meanwhile, Rep. Church [R., Ill.] called upon the house to make its own investigation of Pearl Harbor thru a special committee, so that Adm. Husband E. Kimmel and Maj. Gen. Walter C. Short, Pearl Harbor commanders at the time of the attack, may tell their story to the public.

Subs to Clear Name.

Expressing sorrow that Lt. Cmdr. Manning M. Kimmel, Adm. Kimmel's son, is missing on submarine duty, Church asked whether young Kimmel and thousands of others are to give "their lives for principles of justice and fairness discarded in the case of his father."

"For two and a half years Adm. Kimmel has sought to clear his name," said Church. "But that is denied him. Why? Because those at the head of our government place political expediency before justice and fairness."

Rep. Johnson [R., Ind.] in another house speech urged the people to circulate and send to President Roosevelt petitions demanding the facts about Pearl Harbor. The people have a right to know before the Nov. 7 election "who is to blame," he said.

Farm Building Destroyed by Fire; Loss Is $10,000

A steel cropping house filled with wheat, oats, seed and straw, all valued at $10,000, was destroyed by fire yesterday on the farm of Oliver M. Burton, a half mile west of Lake Forest. Fire departments of Lake Forest, Vernon township, and Lake Zurich prevented the fire from attacking 10 other structures. Burton is chairman of the board of the Burton-Dixie corporation, manufacturers of cotton felt.

CONGRESS URGED TO BACK WORLD PRESS FREEDOM

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Rep. Fulbright [D., Ark.] offered a resolution today to put congress on record as indorsing world-wide freedom of press and radio and uniform international rates for transmitting news.

The proposed measure expresses congress "as favoring international agreements which shall guarantee world-wide the right of all accredited press and radio representatives to write, transmit and publish the news without private or government interference and at uniform communication rates."

Fulbright, author of a house approved resolution indorsing United States participation in world peace machinery, said today's proposal is similar to planks indorsed by the Republicans and Democrats in their national platforms.

"If truthful news is neither suppressed at the source nor shut off or distorted in transmission," he told the house, "truth will eventually stifle the evils of prejudice."

Meet the Braising Cuts of Beef

The Beauty of Braising . . . . . It gives much of the brown of broiling, the flavor of roasting, the tenderness of simmering—and isn't the gravy good!

How to Braise Short Ribs of Beef with Vegetables. (Braising is long, slow cooking, after thorough browning, in a closely covered pan with little liquid.)

You folks who "like it lean" are certainly getting a break in beef these days. Much of the beef now coming to market is those good lean cuts, most deliciously prepared by the braising method —short ribs, pot roasts, Swiss steaks, country fried steaks—and plenty of that good meat gravy.

No matter whether braised or roasted, broiled or pan-fried or simmered in water, all beef—like all meat—contains the same good proteins. The right kind of proteins for our bodies to rebuild on and for children to grow on. The right kind to help us ward off infection and hasten convalescence. The right kind to build blood plasma, hemoglobin and hormones.

Meat, in addition, offers B vitamins (thiamine, riboflavin, niacin) and the minerals iron, copper, phosphorus.

How about taking your good proteins, vitamins and minerals "braised"—in beef?

Flour
2 tbsps. lard
2 tsps. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper
⅓ onion
½ cup water
2 carrots
½ green pepper, if desired
2 stalks celery

Cut short ribs into individual servings and flour them. Brown slowly on all sides in lard, allowing 20-30 min. for browning. Add seasonings, onion (minced), and ½ cup water. Cover closely; simmer 2 hrs. or until tender. Add vegetables cut small; continue cooking for 30-40 min. Remove meat to platter; thicken the vegetable gravy with 1 tbsp. flour stirred into ½ cup water. Serves 4 or 5.

This same basic braising method, with or without vegetables, applies to all braising cuts of meat whether they are cooked in one piece or cut into individual portions before cooking.

JOHNSON HINTS EASING OF PUPIL TRANSFER EDICT

Kelly Announces He Will Keep Hands Off.

BY JOSEPH GREEN.

City-wide protest by parents yesterday brought a statement from William H. Johnson, superintendent of the Chicago public schools, that in some extreme cases he may ease his new rule, announced Wednesday, that no elementary pupil in the first seven grades may attend any school except the one in his home district.

Johnson said that in general the rule will stand, but told 50 women who had waited thru the day in his office: "We're going to study this problem. There may be some perfectly legitimate complaints. It may take until the end of next week." He added that he will visit schools today to determine the effect of the rule.

More Pupils Ordered to Shift.

The protest began late Wednesday when pupils in some schools arrived home with notifications that they would be shifted to schools in their home districts. The protest increased yesterday as more schools gave children "transfer" slips, which actually were nullifications of former permits for pupils to attend schools out of home districts.

Yesterday's developments included the following:

1. Thousands of parents were reported keeping their children out of school in the hope that the rule voiding all transfers would be rescinded.

2. Many parents sent their children back to their old schools, but were not permitted to stay.

180 at Johnson's Office.

3. More than 100 irate parents gathered in Johnson's office in the morning and waited into the afternoon before any received an audience. By 3 p. m. Johnson had assigned four stenographers to take statements from representatives of 17 schools.

4. Arthur X. Elrod, Democratic committeeman of the 24th ward, was the only one of many politicians interested in the case to gain a hearing from Johnson. Elrod demanded to be heard "as a citizen." Afterward he advised 100 mothers and children to abide by the new rule. He said 1,000 children in six schools in and near the 24th ward were affected by the rule.

5. Aldermen were besieged with requests to "do something." Late in the day seven of them protested to Mayor Kelly and were rebuffed with the mayor's statement that the transfer question was entirely in the hands of the board of education and that he would pursue a "hands off" policy.

Asserts Aim Is Equalization.

Johnson maintained the shifts are necessary to equalize teaching loads. Present district boundaries are so old that neither Johnson nor the parents can recall when they were fixed. Whole families of children have attended schools on transfer permits and many parents reported they sent their children to schools outside their home districts without permits.

A score of aldermen declared yesterday that the voiding of transfers is unreasonable. Parent-Teacher association leaders joined the protests. Ald. Bohling [7th], a Republican, said: "This is one more example of how the people have lost control of their schools. It's another screwy deal and there's nothing the council can do about it." He declared revision of state law to allow popular election of board members is the remedy.

'LOVES HIS WIFE AND ARMY,' BUT BOTH SPURN HIM

The story of a former army sergeant whose wife allegedly was stolen by his own brother, and who quit the army in a fruitless effort to win her back, was unfolded yesterday before Judge Walter LaBuy in federal District court when the ex-soldier was arraigned on a charge of draft violation.

He is Dale Anthony Sandora, 22, of 1548 N. Leavitt st., who once studied for the priesthood. In court, he was pictured by Atty. Harry Meyers as being "still in love with both the army and his wife," and wanting to go back to both. But his wife is gone, and the army will not accept him back unless the draft charge is settled satisfactorily.

Sandora is charged with forging and altering a draft card. He denies this, but admits having a draft card which some one gave to him.

The army gave Sandora a separation from service after he returned home a year ago to attempt to win back his 17 year old wife.

Judge LaBuy will hear the case further Sept. 21.

SHAFER BLASTS FEAR CAMPAIGN AIMED AT LABOR

BY PHILIP DODD.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Predicting a post-war era of full employment if New Deal restrictions on American industry are lifted, Rep. Shafer [R., Mich.], in a house speech today charged the Roosevelt administration with creating a specter of unemployment after the war as an argument for continuing President Roosevelt in office.

Rep. Shafer.

"There is no greater campaign strategy in the world," said Shafer, "than creating fear in the minds of the people and then trying to create in their minds the thought that only one person can protect them.

"The New Deal's specter of impending unemployment will not bear the light of analysis," he continued. "It is scare psychology, designed to create panic-thinking, and to prepare the people of America for more of the same old New Deal. It is another artificial emergency to keep us in the middle of the stream. . . . We will never get across that stream while the New Deal remains in power."

Need an Even Chance.

Shafer said that if business and industry are given an even chance by labor leaders and government, they can handle their own problems of reconversion and employment. But if forced to follow the dictates of Washington burocrats, they might run into serious unemployment problems, he asserted.

"Many an employer or industrialist," Shafer went on "has told congress of plans for rapid expansion and production when peace comes. Many of them have given figures showing just how many thousands they can employ, but the New Deal has been too busy planning our economy to listen to men who have the hard, cold facts."

If all factories were to return to a 40 or 44 hour week after the war, a demand for hundreds of thousands of additional workers would be created immediately, Shafer said.

Have Backlog of Orders.

Shafer said that with the coming of peace, hundreds of industries will be able to start work on immense backlogs of civilian orders with a minimum period for reconversion and retooling. Only the scarcity of raw materials and lack of man power keeps them from production now, he said.

Industries which can give immediate employment to large numbers of returning soldiers and discharged war workers include, paper, plumbing supplies, timber, fishing, agriculture, public works, transportation, and the new electronics and plastics industries, Shafer said.

Coal and Wood Stoves Go Off Rationing on Sept. 15

The office of price administration yesterday said that coal and wood burning cooking and heating stoves will be taken off rationing Sept. 15. The announcement followed by one day a detailed report of quotas for Chicago and the metropolitan area of the same kind of stoves for September. Chicago OPA officials said they knew nothing about the Washington action.

Open lead: 10 of spades.

A lady, somewhat along in years and with matrimony in view, not long ago wrote for advice to the lovelorn department of a newspaper. The only obstacle to her happiness appeared to be the possession of false teeth and she was undecided whether to tell the prospective groom or permit him to find out for himself. "Keep your mouth shut," was the laconic advice of the editor.

This advice can appropriately be given to countless numbers of bridge players. It is unwise to tell too much, particularly when it can be used against you. There is a great tendency on the part of many players when they learn of a device known as the cue bid to use it on all possible and impossible occasions. It seems to be rather thrilling to bid the enemy's suit.

In today's hand, East's enthusiasm to make this fancy bid on a hand that did not call for it, tipped off his holding, and permitted North to make a clever play as declarer. The opening lead was the 10 of spades. West played the queen, and under ordinary circumstances the declarer should take the king, because he has apparently in sight eight club tricks, two hearts, a diamond, and a spade for six no trump.

However, having been warned by East of the void in clubs, he realized that the suit would not break. He also recognized the danger of subsequently permitting West to obtain the lead when a spade return would ruin the hand. Hoping that East held six spades, he permitted the queen to hold. The suit was returned and cleared by east. Now the queen of clubs was overtaken by the king and West was given the jack, but that was the last trick for his side, the declarer making four no trump.

It is true that the fulfilment of a five club contract would have been much easier, but since this hand was played in a tournament the additional points for no trump tricks were very vital.

Gay Blouses Prove a Foil for Dull Suits

BY REA SEEGER.

Gleaming satin blouses will peek provocatively out from the fashionable low square necklines or deep vee lines of suit jackets this fall. Strong colors, such as sulphur yellow, dublin green, gold, carbon blue, flame red, and cerise together with most effective stripes of gray and white, and shades of blue or green make these blouses a color foil for the dullest and darkest suits. Long-sleeved models are the most popular, the sleeves, smooth and fitted or shirred and gathered, ending in precise, narrow cuffs. Most of the necklines are high with soft chin bows of the same material as the blouse.

Striped satins with a few swishy taffetas are sensational. The stripes are used in contrast formation, in diagonal lines, in sharp vees, and in slanting chevron pattern. Or, the stripes are horizontal in both blouse and sleeves with chin bow and cuffs and bows at the cuffs in vertical stripes. They are bold, wide stripes, clear cut and stunning contrast against affinity background or alternate colors. Such a shimmering blouse provides a wealth of contrast for winter suits, sufficiently decorative to make a swank costume of suit-skirt and blouse with the jacket off.

If the striped satins are a bit too strong for your particular wardrobe, check the plain satins with interesting details such as applique motifs, fine tucking, and insets outlined with narrow piping of dull crepe or the printed satins. One sulphur yellow has a design of black cherries and leaves and a scarlet satin has a black design of an amusing French motif of a bolt of material on a dainty French chair.

With football games and snappy weather in the offing, thoughts turn to brightly colored wool dresses to be worn under heavy coats. Wool jersey, kasha, velveteen, and corduroys all come in for a share in the fashion spotlight.

The melon colored one piece dress of 100 per cent wool jersey, sketched at left, is an ideal contrast to a black coat, since the bracelet sleeves, shoulders, and front closing of the dress are accented with bands of rich black. Minute red buttons sparkle against the black band of the front from neck to hemline. The belt, in one with the dress in back, is loose in front and tied in a bow. Side slit pockets are fact, not fancy. An enormous monogram of melon, outlined in black, decorates the left side of the top.

Another striking wool jersey, in center, has a deep shoulder yoke with slight fullness in front and back of the bodice. Long full sleeves, caught and buttoned with a narrow cuff, lend a distinctly flattering note to one's hands. Scallops and bone buttons, accented with gold nailheads, transform an otherwise simple front closing. This model is available in melon, Kelly, aqua, and purple.

Rare combinations of color and material lend distinction to the one piecers at right, with a kasha top and velveteen skirt. Bands of corduroy trim the shoulders, three-quarter sleeves, and fly front. Two silver buttons trim the chest flaps. The color combinations in which this frock is available are beige and lime, blue with blue, lilac and purple, gold and brown, and beige and gray.

All styles are available in sizes from 9 to 17.

Sane Routine Best for Your Small Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"The party was a fizzle as far as Janet was concerned, I'm afraid," sighed a young mother. "I thought she would enjoy having one on her third birthday, and I worked for days to get everything ready. The decorations were in pink and white—tablecloth, napkins, little baskets, place cards, and even the ice cream and cake.

"We talked the party up to Janet and she seemed delighted with all the doings beforehand; but when the children began to arrive—there were 15 of them and, in most instances, their mothers accompanied them—she looked scared to death, hung on to me or her Aunt Helen, and flatly refused to coöperate in any way. She was most vociferous, however, when it was time to say good-by. She was still waving long after the last guest had departed."

I often have my doubts about parties for very little children. Of course they enjoy playing together, and when they do so under usual or very informal circumstances they get lots of fun out of it.

But watch very young children at a party. They look flushed of face, their eyes are too bright, and they seldom feel free enough to get right down to real play.

There's so much excitement, and often strange people, and usually, no matter how carefully you plan, they eat more sweets than they should and they get overtired. The next day, as a rule, shows how much it has taken out of them. Let me whisper it softly: It's mostly the grownups who enjoy the party. They like the idea of it and the pretty picture it makes!

The same thing holds true of other sorts of amusements that are planned for the children—and this is all about very little children. There is scarcely a father extant who doesn't get a thrill out of taking his children to the circus, for instance, as soon as they can toddle. But the poor babies are usually utterly bewildered and physically exhausted as a result of it.

On the whole, the best thing for little children mentally and physically is their normal routine—plenty of sleep, lots of fresh air, regular food, and play. A few simple pleasures may give variety—like the zoo or the beaches or the park.

They are much more easily thrown off their nervous balance than we realize, and this often has a distressing effect upon them. A serene, happy, regular life is the best for very young children. They thrive on it.

The Solid Side Has Advice for a Junior Miss

BY MAUREEN DALY.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Q.—"At our junior high school dances the boys often ask girls if they may walk home with them. Occasionally a boy with whom I don't want to walk home, even if he is a friend, asks me. Then I just say 'no.' But what if a second boy, one whom I like very much, should ask me? What can I say? If the first boy should see us he would know I just didn't want to be with him and he'd no longer be my friend. . . ."

A.—Unless a gal has serious reason to say "no" it is always more considerate to accept the first invitation offered. You wouldn't want to lose a good friend just because a second joe blow is slow on the pickup.

Q.—"I am 15 and my father is teaching me to bowl. The last three times we went bowling I met and talked with a boy about 17. He came over to talk to me while my father was bowling. Many times I have felt I wanted to see him again and become better acquainted, but we haven't gone bowling recently. I can't ask my father about the boy because he is very strict about such things. . . ."

A.—Why not try to re-interest your father in bowling so you can go again? Chances are 10 to 1 that your particular joe will no longer be around, but at least you and your dad can have fun together.

Q.—"I am 17 and before the war I didn't go out on dates because I was considered too young. Now I don't go out because no one asks me. I used to go with my parents on Saturday evening when they went out for dinner and to a show. But my evening was always ruined because I felt so miserable seeing girls whom I knew were my age or younger out on dates. I can't reason it out. My parents don't like to take me any more because I'm so bitter, seeing other girls. . . ."

A.—Good joes these days are few and far between simply because they have more urgent things to do than stay home to take gals out on Saturday nights. You must realize how many of the fellows you might be dating are now G. I. Those honeychiles you saw out enjoying the bright lights might be celebrating a special evening—a rare occasion for them, too—because no one's date schedule is booked solid these days. At 17 you still have a lot of good date years ahead of you. Maybe that "bitterness" shows in your face and your disposition . . . you're worrying far too soon.

Glenview Parish Plans Victory Party Tonight

A "victory" party sponsored tonight by Our Lady of Perpetual Help parish of Glenview in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel will bring as entertainers stage stars currently playing in the loop. The Rev. John J. Dussman is pastor of the Glenview church, and Mrs. Mabel Russell of Chicago is party chairman.

Thru the Looking Glass

Just for fun, the manufacturers are introducing their brand new fall lipstick shade—it's fuchsia, praise be—in a gay, tiny, hat package. We don't mean that you must wield a small bonnet when you coat your lips with this; rather, the hat is just a novelty package and tucked into it, in addition to the lipstick, are rouge in the same exciting tone, face powder in a harmonious tint, and a little bottle of blithe perfume.

The lipstick shade is vastly exciting. It's not remotely like the ghastly purples that were a vogue a few years back; it's a becoming, wearable fuchsia shade that will complement all the plums and purples and fuchsias that will be spattered on the fashion horizon this fall. And we could go for it in a big way with that old standby, black.

The charming little hat, which makes it a bright gift package or dressing table ornament, is a whim of fuchsia felt, with mauve ostrich plume cascading over the crown. It comes in a little hat box, too, and is as eye-appealing as any Victorian trifle you've ever seen.

The rouge, in the bright, clear tone of the lipstick, will be as useful a fashion accessory as the lipstick itself. The powder is fine and flattering and the perfume is the final fillip to make you feel that this season is one you'll sail thru with chic. The quality of the lipstick deserves special mention. It's acclaimed in cosmetic circles as one of the best, with a texture that is of just the right creaminess for this climate . . . smooth and soothing and never changing in color.

The package is a novelty, but the new shade is not. It's destined for as much immortality as a high fashion shade can have.

Episcopalians Plan Education Parley Sunday

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

Religious education leaders from approximately 100 churches and missions of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago will meet Sunday afternoon in St. Luke's church, Evanston, for their fall conference under the deanship of the Rev. W. Ridley Parson of Freeport. The Rev. Frederick L. Barry, rector of St. Luke's, will officiate at evensong, and Bishop Wallace E. Conkling will preach the sermon.

Among group leaders and special speakers will be the Rev. James M. Duncan of the Church of the Atonement, 5749 Kenmore av.; the Rev. John B. Hubbard of St. Mary's church, Park Ridge; the Rev. J. Rodger McColl, Wilmette; Deaconess Eleanor P. Smith, Wilmette, and Mrs. C. L. Bigler, Western Springs.

St. Luke's church also will be host Sunday to the newly formed Episcopal Men of Evanston for a corporate communion service at 7:30 a. m. Father Barry will be celebrant.

The Rev. Dr. J. L. Horace of Monumental Baptist church, 729 Oakwood blvd., was the convention preacher at the Dallas, Tex., meeting of the National [Negro] Baptist convention. The Associated Press quotes him as saying in his sermon: "Jim Crow walls must come down; Negro soldiers in the uniform of Uncle Sam are treated generally worse in being subjected to discriminatory and humiliating segregation than are Nazi prisoners whom they are assigned to guard. This is true in matters of travel and accommodations on army posts. This racism I discovered on a personal tour of inspection of army camps."

Yanks' British Brides Learn of Life in U. S.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Sept. 6.—There's going to be a new discovery of America after the war for more than 6,000 British girls who have married American service men.

Most of these marriages took place the first half of this year before the G. I. bridegrooms left England to keep an important appointment on the other side of the channel.

The move to America will be a great adventure for most of these brides, many of them Londoners whose ideas of the United States heretofore have been based chiefly on Hollywood films, not to mention the American skyscrapers, ice boxes, automobiles for ordinary folk, and time payments of which they've heard from the lips of the proud Yank visitors to these shores.

But they are being prepared by United States representatives for what lies ahead. Each new bride gets a small book, "How America Lives," which gives her a brief summary of how things go in their prospective homeland.

The American Red Cross has lectures once each month on America illustrated with lantern slides for their special benefit.

Speakers usually are from the American embassy. Their topics cover social life, housing, health, education, cooking, clothes, housekeeping, and babies. Particular pains have been taken to introduce those going to the same states so that they will not feel too much alone when they reach their new homes.

It has been found necessary to debunk much of the Hollywood theme and the British girls have been told they probably won't have flood-lit swimming pools or see singing cowboys at every crossroads. But it was learned that most of these brides do not seem much interested in such fictitious aspects of American life, their questions emphasizing the more serious side such as the cost of having babies and how one furnishes a home. The practical ones also want to know the slang for American money with its equivalent in British currency.

The most popular question is: "How can I become an American citizen?" This always requires some explaining since marriage to an American does not confer automatic citizenship upon his bride. A bride wishing to become naturalized, according to the explanation here, must live in the United States at least one year before filing an application, compared to the five years of waiting required of the usual classes of immigrants. The wives also learn that they must take an examination in American history as well as a literacy test.

When discussions get around to the cost of clothes there are happy smiles when they are told it is possible to buy an outfit, including a heavy coat, hats, shoes, and stockings for approximately $100, considerably less than English prices. They also are told that the cost of home furnishings is between 50 and 25 per cent lower in America than here. However, they are told the cost of having a baby runs a bit higher than here.

Tales of drug store lunches usually prove a revelation since there is nothing comparable in England. But if a G. I. husband satisfies his hunger at noon with a plate of chili, a sandwich, and a milk shake he certainly will want a substantial evening meal, the brides are warned. Almost all want to know how to make baking powder biscuits, explaining that their husbands raved about the products of their mothers' ovens and apparently eat them at every meal much as the British eat bread.

Those expecting to have to work often ask about wages. They are told first that their chances for a job depend upon the post-war employment situation but that wages are high by English standards. And to the question: "Will we be welcome?" the answer always is "Of course, but you will have to be friendly from the moment you arrive."

The manner in which the brides will be admitted to the United States after the war has not been entirely worked out but it is expected they will be allowed a special quota above the usual British figure. Meanwhile, many are receiving enthusiastic welcomes to their families by way of mail from their in-laws whom they have never seen. One got a wedding cake baked by her mother-in-law in America and sent here in time for the wedding in Birmingham.

White Collar GIRL

Who Is It?

She answers the calls on the switchboard
She types endless letters all day,
Her adding machine goes on and on,
And she drives pesty salesmen away.

She's the boss's right hand,
And his left hand too!
Who is it—you've guessed it,
WCG, it's YOU!

KENNETH ROBERT SANDBERG.

Filing Thoughts . . .

It's discouraging, but true, that soundly versed as we WCGs are in our alphabet, we still can manage now and then to misfile letters, and invariably they are the ones the boss wants in a hurry. It's the sort of thing that makes us feel like nitwits and paragons of inefficiency.

But the misfiled letter generally is not lost because of lack of knowledge. It's lost because we're apt to become careless about filing. Some of us do our best day dreaming over the files. As we sort the letters in alphabetical order and place them in their folders, we wander away mentally, thinking of everything but the fact that the letter from Jones & Co. belongs with the J's and not in the W's where it is found eventually, much to our discomfiture.

Some of us consider filing a fussy detail of our work rather than the important phase it actually is. We skim over it, plumping it between dictation and trips to the bank, without giving it the attention it deserves.

And if you've found yourself slipping in this respect, now is the time to put on the brakes and determine to give full thought to filing. It will help immeasurably to oil the wheels of your job.

Cross File . . .

The most efficient secretary we know tells us that early in her career she learned the efficacy of making duplicate copies of letters she writes that could be jumbled in filing, or writing the name and address of what she terms "confusing correspondence" on a sheet of paper, indicating the heading under which the original letter has been filed. The duplicates or notes are then filed in the several folders she or her boss might refer to when seeking the correspondence. She has found that the few minutes it takes to make the extra carbons or jot down notes has paid huge dividends, saving time and eliminating one of the common flaws of smooth operating procedure.

Charge It . . .

This same secretary also guards the perfection of her files by using a "charge out" system whereby any one, including the boss, who takes a letter or folder from her files gives her a note stating what they have taken and the date. In this manner, there is no hunting for something that isn't there and strayed matter can always be rounded up without undue trouble.

Vacant Place . . .

Our office has lost its sparkle and gayety since our jive talking, sweet faced office girl has left her summer job and gone back to high school. We miss her and are disconsolate.

Wheaton Garden Clubs to Have Rummage Sale

With many choice pre-war articles offered, members of the four garden clubs of Wheaton anticipate a brisk business at a rummage sale which they jointly are sponsoring tomorrow in the guild hall of Trinity church in Wheaton. Proceeds will go into a fund to provide flowers and plants for the Vaughan General hospital, which cares for hospitalized service men. The flower service for veteran's hospitals over the state is a project of the Illinois Federation of Garden clubs.

Party Provides New Wares for Rummage Shop

Every sort of article from evening dresses to a Donald Duck toy, covered the tables in the Lake Forest home of Miss Gwethalyn Jones yesterday afternoon, when the north shore contingent of the White Elephant rummage shop held its annual party to collect stock for the shop. Altho the majority of the contributions came from feminine wardrobes, Mrs. William H. Mitchell brought a maple doll bed, complete with dolls. These "white elephants," the price of admission to the party, will be sold at the shop at 27 E. Ohio st., which operates for the benefit of the Children's Memorial hospital.

Preceding a fashion show, which was the main attraction, the younger generation competed in a swimming contest in the pool, surrounded by interested spectators. Young Jeff Seitz, Grant Beadle, and John Silverthorne were winners in the intermediate contest. Douglas Kenney won the blue ribbon in senior swimming, and Nancy Cummings won the same award in the girls' competition. Virginia Hoffman, Peter McLaughlin, John Prosser, Andrea Rowley, and Ann Farnsworth were other winners.

Feminine interest ran high when an aqua and brown plaid sports dress and a cherry crepe dress were modeled by Miss Ginevra Mitchell and Miss Jean Carney. Miss Pamela Kelley, daughter of Mrs. James A. Cook, appeared in a becoming dinner dress of black and white checked taffeta with a black bodice. Also modeling a dinner dress was Miss Joyce Cummings, in white crepe. Mrs. George F. McLaughlin and her two daughters, Patricia and Hollis, won a round of applause when they appeared in a trio. Mrs. McLaughlin modeled a black crepe dinner dress; Patricia a gray flannel suit, and her sister, a green crepe jumper and white blouse.

Watching the show from the terraced lawn and on the large porch where tea was served later were Mrs. John Coleman in a gold tweed suit and Mrs. Bryan S. Reid in a blue and white striped dress over which she wore a brilliant red coat. Mrs. George A. Seaverns III., Mrs. Percy Wilson, Flight Sgt. and Mrs. Thomas Allen, and Mrs. Stanley Field also were among the spectators.

INSTALMENT XXXV.

EXTRAORDINARY REQUEST.

So Bright had got away! Bachmann was eyeing Carol with evident concern. Maybe he was afraid she would become really ill before he could question her satisfactorily. He spoke to his young aid.

"The woman is able to stand now," he said roughly. "Put her in a room upstairs and see that she gets food. See also that she makes no attempt to escape."

An hour later she was still alone in the small bedroom to which she had been taken. The food had given her strength, and her mind was clear and impatient. Nine o'clock by the little watch she wore. They had a scant three hours in which to meet the submarine, and right now she and Bright might as well have been a thousand miles apart as where they were.

She still had her own gun. Curious, the way they assumed she would be unarmed. It was a relief when she finally heard a knock on her door.

There were three men to escort her down the stairs and to the drawing room door. Evidently she was regarded as resourceful in escape. But when she opened the door itself, instead of the tribunal she had expected, there was only Bachmann.

"You may go!" he said to the soldiers.

He locked the door behind them and offered her a seat.

"I wanted to talk to you alone," he began almost hesitantly, "because I have important things to discuss. Mme., where were you when you were supposed to be in Castellaine that time?"

"That, general, is none of your business!"

"You were not in North Africa then, by any chance?"

His hitting upon the exact truth was startling. As a matter of actual fact, North Africa was of course where she had been during the first days of Lita's absence.

"Why should you have a crazy idea like that?" she countered.

"How many allied troops are there in North Africa? How many Americans?"

"Ask Rommel!"

"You think I am trying to get information out of you to use in the German interest," he said calmly. "But you are wrong. I am trying to get it purely for myself."

"And why do you think I would give it to you even if I did know?"

"But you do know. You must have a good idea of the allied strength, having been there so recently!"

"Gen. Bachmann, I don't know what you are talking about!" she said furiously and now, rather more frightened than she cared to admit to herself. "On my sacred word of honor Lita Cassard has not left France in 10 years!"

"But," he said smoothly, "you are not Lita Cassard!"

"What gives you that idea?"

"At dinner that night—the night Uhlan was killed, you said something which set me to thinking."

"What was it, I said?"

"It was not quite the manner in which Mme. Lita was accustomed to talk. I wondered a good deal, and then there were a few little things I found here when I took over after our friend Janner's unhappy end—things he obviously overlooked!"

Bachmann strolled over to the piano and picked up a framed photograph.

"This is not Mme. Cassard," said Bachmann. "You say she has not been out of France for 10 years. Why then is she wearing a bouquet of your American war stamps on her lapel?"

"They were sent me from America!" Carol said stubbornly. In reply Bachmann lifted a book. There, serving as a marker, was an old snapshot of herself and Lita with Jacques standing between them.

"It is evident that Mme. Lita has a twin. You say that twin. You came here for some purpose. You are an American spy."

Carol gave up the pretense.

"Very well, then," she said. "I guess you can shoot me for that."

"Ach! But that would not suit my plans at all!"

"I must first ask you something. Since you had a way of getting over here, you must also have planned a method of getting back. That is so?"

"Naturally."

"What is that way? What did you plan?"

"You've caught me. And that's all you need to know."

"I advise you to tell me how you planned to return to North Africa."

"I won't tell you."

"Then you'll never get the chance of leaving here. I'll see to that! The man who was with you has leaped to his death. Is there any one else in your party—any other who came over with you, or have you depended on the underground?"

"You'll never find that out!"

"But I must know. I must know how you intend going back. It is a matter of some one's life."

"Whose life?"

"Mine," he said slowly. "I want you to take me back with you!"

As Carol listened to this extraordinary request she began to realize that the man was thoroly frightened.

Even the very first time she had seen him he had been nervous, and that awful night when he and Janner and Von Kirch had tormented her with questions about the maps there had been something driving him, some fear. That he was essentially selfish and self-centered had been evident in his every action, but now this self-interest was crystalized in a genuine terror.

"You want to go with me—you?" she said. "Why, you are in power! You're a terribly important man, especially since Janner's death. Don't try and tell me you're really on the side of the allies, because I don't feel like laughing!"

"It's no laughing matter!" he said grimly. "It's true that I am here for the moment, in Janner's old place. But at any time, at any hour, I may be in the place where he is now."

"You'll have to make that clearer."

"Well, I may as well be perfectly frank. My life is in danger. The purge began with Uhlan. We have been playing with the wrong side of the party. I had suspected as much for a long while, and Janner's death has made me certain.

"What makes you think that what happened to Janner was ordered by your own people?"

"Because it was too simple, too easy to explain. That man Baroni was a plant. He has probably been whisked away—possibly back into Italy."

"But he's supposed to have been executed!"

"Bah! I don't believe it! It's a purge, I tell you."

"You certainly are interested in saving your own skin! A fine soldier you are—a fine general!"

Movie Comedy Neatly Turned, Light, and Gay

"BRIDE BY MISTAKE."

An RKO-Radio picture, directed by Richard Wallace, starring Laraine Day and Alan Marshal, and presented at the Palace.

By Mae Tinée.

Good Morning!

Here is gay and well mannered comedy, peopled with folks movie addicts cotton to.

The scenes are laid in Santa Barbara. The principals are the world's richest girl [Laraine Day] and a pilot just back from the wars [Alan Marshal] and, at the moment, quartered on an estate next door to the heroine's.

Pretty Norah, who owns a shipyard, has been afraid, since old enough to reason, that she would be married for her money. . . . Consequently she's never appeared in public, tho this the public doesn't know. You see the lady has a "stand-in" [Marsha Hunt] who performs the limelight duties and poses for photographs of Norah, to whose name she also answers. . . . SHE has a husband [Allyn Joslyn] who's jolly well fed up with the situation and has made his wife agree to give up her position. . . .

Thus matters stand when the story opens. . . . It follows a familiar pattern, but doesn't pall by reason of suave performance and direction.

I could tell you more—but if you'd hear my copy reader cuss me out when I timidly edge in an extra paragraph, you'd understand why I just sort of—er—hit and run.

See you tomorrow.

Women in War Work

By Dorothy Johnson

This is Army Nurse week on the calendar of the Illinois State Nursing Council for War Service, thru its committee of procurement and assignment, 8 S. Michigan av., and the Red Cross nurse recruitment committee, 529 S. Wabash av. Both organizations are seeking to recruit as many graduate registered nurses as possible to meet the national quota of 4,000 set by the army for Oct. 1. The navy nurse corps has a continuous quota of 500 new enlistments a month.

"We are winning great victories at a price," Miss Madeleine McConnell, chairman of the nursing council's procurement committee, said yesterday. "That price is figured in numbers of injured at the battle fronts who must have nursing care."

Miss McConnell quoted Surgeon Gen. Norman T. Kirk of the army as giving nurses much of the credit for the fact that fewer than 3 per cent of America's wounded have died in this war, as compared with approximately 8 per cent in the last conflict.

Of this fall's 2,000 graduates of schools of nursing, one-third will go into military service, Miss McConnell estimated.

Several Chicagoland army nurses are included in the roster of women of this war who have received awards and citations in battle theaters. Among the first women in this history of the army to receive the silver star for gallantry are Lt. Rita Virginia Rourke of Chicago and Lt. Elaine A. Roe of Whitewater, Wis. Last February, on the Anzio-Nettuna beachhead, they stuck to their posts during concentrated shelling of a field hospital.

Lieutenants Madonna and Agnes Nolan, Oakland, Ill., sisters were two of the first four American army nurses to receive the Purple Heart for wounds received in line of duty. Injured when their hospital ship was hit by Nazi bombers outside the Gulf of Salerno, the Nolan sisters have recovered and are back on duty in Italy.

The first woman in the South Pacific to receive the air medal for work in evacuating the wounded by air, Nurse Lt. Dorothy Shikoski of Green Lake, Wis., also has four oak leaf clusters.

More than half of the 40 young women who will enter training in the Grant hospital school of nursing Wednesday are enrolled in the United States cadet nurse corps, which finances their training and gives them uniforms and allowances, in return for which they pledge their services to essential civilian and military nursing.

Sixteen of the 40 are Chicagoans: Jean Ailsworth, Gertrude Buhr, Carol Ernsting, Helen Hoechbauer, La Verne Jorgensen, Josephine Kornfeind, Violet Mueller, Carmella Pescatore, Phyllis Pretzel, Mary Seyffer, Virginia Siewert, Dorothy Strandell, Lorraine Svodoba, June Tripp, Roberta Metsker, and Beatrice Schultz.

[This department reports on women's war activities and answers questions regarding such activities.]

Ross J. Beattys to Hold Golden Wedding Party

of honor and another sister, Rhea, as flower girl, and six bridesmaids. Mr. Hepner will have Lt. [j. g.] James L. Frey as best man, and six ushers who all are receiving their commissions today in the army or navy medical corps. After a two week stay at the Harveys' summer home in Lake Delavan, Wis., Mr. Hepner and his bride will live on the south side until he is graduated in December from the University of Chicago medical school.

Other Wedding News.

Miss Gerry Hoffman will give a bridge luncheon and linen shower Saturday at the Georgian hotel in Evanston for Miss Rita Kuipers, whose marriage to Lt. [j. g.] A. Peter Stauffacher of the naval reserve will take place at 7 p. m., Sept. 16, in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. G. Kuipers of Kenilworth. A reception will follow at the Michigan Shores club.

Lt. Stauffacher, son of Mrs. Arthur Stauffacher of Minneapolis, Minn., recently returned from more than a year's service in Alaska and he and his bride will live at his new post at the naval air base near Walnut Ridge, Ark. The night before the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Kuipers will give the bridal dinner in the Edgewater Beach hotel.

On the Calendar.

The Service club has invited new members to a tea from 4 to 6 p. m. Monday at the Racquet club. All the debutantes of the season and about 30 other young women, sponsored by members of the board, have been invited to come to the party, at which plans for a benefit will be announced. Not many of the debutantes will be present, however, as practically all of them are going back to school. The other young women who have received invitations include Mrs. Thomas Smyth, Mrs. John T. Snite, Miss Joan Van Buren, Miss Dorothy Wrigley, Mrs. John Stewart, Miss Nancy Schilling, and Miss Marilynn Morse.

Mrs. Robert Clark Altman, whose husband, Lt. [j. g.] Altman is serving in the Pacific, is entertaining at dinner and dancing at the Beverly Hills Country club tomorrow night for the Edward J. Bennans, who are here from the east, where he is studying with the army air forces. Mrs. Berman is the former Marion Riordan. Her sister, Mrs. Frank Richard Schueler Jr., and her baby are spending a month with her parents, the James K. Riordans, following a short visit from Pvt. Schueler, who now is in Maryland. Mrs. Schueler and the baby will stay with Mr. and Mrs. Schueler Sr. for the duration.

Three Service Men Send Contributions to Museum

Among recent donors to the Chicago Natural History [formerly Field] museum are three service men. From Pvt. William J. Beecher, who is serving with the army in the South Pacific, a collection of 47 birds, insects, and other animal life has been received. A wolverine skull found in Alaska has been sent by Lt. Alvin R. Cahn, U. S. N. R., and 65 specimens of marine invertebrates from the Aleutian Islands and Alaska are the gift of Pvt. S. B. Lummis.

GASOLINE ALLEY
I'VE GOT IT ALL FIGURED OUT, KIDS. SKEEZIX IS IN THE MARIANAS—ON GUAM.
CORKY AND I DOPED THAT OUT, TOO. HOW DID YOU DO IT, UNCLE WALT?
SKEEZIX SAID THAT, WITHOUT HIS ISLAND, HIS GROUP CONTAINED 245 SQUARE MILES. I ADDED THE AREA OF GUAM, 225, MAKING 740, THE AREA OF THE MARIANAS! HOW DID YOU DO IT?
SKEEZIX WROTE HED GONE ON RECONNAISSANCE TO SEE THE SUNRISE. THERE'S A MT. RECONNAISSANCE ON GUAM, STRAIGHT EAST OF THE OROTE PENINSULA. SO CORKY AND I FIGURE HE IS THERE.
AND HE DIDN'T WRITE A THING THE CENSOR OBJECTED TO.
I THINK WE'RE JUST GOOD DEDUCTERS, THAT'S ALL!

Looking at Hollywood . . . . . By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Sept. 7.—Joan Blondell will be one of Bill Bendix's wives in "Two-Faced Quilligan" which goes into production early in November. It's from a story by Herbert Clyde Lewis, about a ship captain who gives himself two names—Mike Quilligan and Tim Quilligan—and a wife for each. This gets so complicated that he decides to kill off one of the Quilligans and then is tried for murdering a man who didn't exist. One of the girls is bound to end up a widow, but I bet it won't be Joan. . . . Ketti Frings is off to New York where she and Composer Robert Stolz will work on a musical version of Ketti's book "God's Front Porch." En route, she'll stop off for a week in South Bend, Ind., to do some research on the screen play she's doing for Leo McCarey to star Bing Crosby. . . . Edith Head leaves tomorrow to check fall fashions, fabrics, etc., in New York before starting Joan Fontaine's wardrobe for "Affairs of Susan." On the same train will be Diana Lynn, who's making her first trip there and is so excited about it she can hardly speak. . . . Lee Sullivan, who just wound up in "The Great John L.," has gone east for conferences about "Murder in B-flat," the mystery musical which he wrote in collaboration with a friend. If the deal goes thru, he'll do the lead, then come back here after the first of the year for more work in pictures.

A Horseshoe 'Round His Neck.

Billy Haines is lucky enough to live in his own house in Brentwood while Cole Porter is in New York writing more hit tunes. This gives Billy time to furnish a new house which he's bought nearby. He's one of the luckiest guys in town, 'cause he's got a chef, also a holdover from Cole Porter. Ann Sothern expects her baby to be a Thanksgiving present. . . . Allen Jenkins tells about sitting in a London hotel room when a buzz bomb flew overhead and blew him right out of his chair. He was unhurt. . . . Edgar Bergen tells me he is using a new hair ointment—"Three Out of Five." Why that? I asked. "Because it takes three out of five hairs," said Edgar. . . . Helen O'Hara and Dorothy Ford have been borrowed by Twentieth Century for a specialty number in "Nob Hill."

Something for the Boys.

At Lana Turner's request, Metro will premiere her latest picture "Marriage Is a Private Affair" at the 862d bomber squadron headquarters in Europe on Sept. 23. It all started with a letter Lana received from Staff Sgt. Milton Elder, of that squadron. He said they'd named their Fortress for her, and to prove it, inclosed a photo of the ship, showing a huge picture of her painted on the side. Lana felt this called for something pretty special, so studio contacted the boys' commanding officer and the army headquarters in New York and made arrangements.

Nice Work—and She Got It.

Fifteen year old Ruth Tobey thinks she has the best job in Hollywood. As Jane Powell's chum in "High Among the Stars," Ruthie's role calls for her to eat chocolate candy all day long. . . . Lt. Col. Paul Mantz, just out of the army, has gone to work as technical adviser for "Counter Attack," teaching Paul Muni and others playing Russian guerrilla fighters how to jump out of airplanes. . . . Velos and Yolanda have canceled their fall and winter concert tour to coöperate with war work, and instead will stage their own revue in Hollywood in November. . . . Frank Ross tells me "The Robe" is now out-selling "Gone With the Wind." He's had a questionnaire included with each copy, asking readers to tell him their favorite scenes. One wrote him, "Just begin with 'because' and end with 'said.'" Those are the first and last words in the book. . . . John Garfield took time off from "Nobody Lives Forever" to escort his little daughter Katherine to school on her first day.

Slow, But Sure.

Joseph Vitale, New York stage actor at R. K. O., had his option lifted after "None But the Lonely Heart." Incidentally, Vitale came out here on the same train which brought Frank Sinatra for his first picture, and in all the whoop-te-do of that reception for The Voice, Vitale was the Forgotten Man. He wandered around the studio for two weeks before anybody knew he was there. But they know it now. . . . Speaking of Frankie, his picture will be the first one hung in the boys' ranch dining room, near Amarillo, Tex. The founder of the ranch, Cal Farley, has been out here conferring with Bob Sisk, who's going to do a picture about the ranch. His daughter, Gene, aged 17, a great admirer of Frankie, met him while here and had her picture taken with him. When she goes back, she said, Frankie's picture goes up in the dining room, whether the 50 boys living there like it or not.

Tomatoes are having their hey day in bubbling kettles of chili sauce and in canners filled with jars of the bright red vegetable. High point values on America's favorite hamburger accompaniment and possible future shortages of juice, stewed tomatoes, chili sauce, and catsup will cause today's busy canner no concern.

Tomatoes, first love of the garden, are being brought to table as often as twice a day. They're being stuffed or sliced for salads, used as sandwich "middles," and as garnishment for meat or potato salad. They're eaten "out of hand" between meals [a nutritious snack for the youngsters], and, on cooler days, stuffed and baked.

Here are a few ways to use tomatoes in the days ahead:

Sea Food Salad.
[Serves four.]

4 medium tomatoes
1 cup shredded tender spinach leaves
1¼ cups shrimp pieces [canned or fresh]
½ cup thick sour cream

Wash tomatoes, cut off tops, and scoop out centers. Sprinkle with salt and invert on plate. Chill. Combine spinach leaves, diced shrimp, and sour cream, and salt and pepper to suit taste. Arrange tomatoes on greens, fill with mixture.

Vegetable Stuffed Tomatoes.
[Serves six.]

6 medium tomatoes
1 tablespoon finely chopped onion
1½ cups soft bread crumbs
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped celery
¼ cup finely chopped cabbage

Wash tomatoes, cut off tops, remove centers and save. Cook onion slightly in hot fat, combine with remaining ingredients including chopped tomato centers. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Fill shells with mixture and bake in greased baking dish in a 375 degree oven about 30 minutes.

Cucumber Stuffed Tomatoes.
[Serves six.]

6 medium tomatoes
2 cucumbers, 6 inches long
2 teaspoons grated onion
1 tablespoon lemon juice
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup water

Peel and dice cucumbers, add onion, lemon juice, fat, and water and simmer for 5 minutes. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Remove centers from tomatoes, fill with cooked cucumber mixture, sprinkle with fine margarined bread crumbs and bake in a 375 degree F. oven about 30 minutes.

Deviled Broiled Tomatoes.
[Serves four.]

4 large tomatoes
¼ cup corn sirup
1 teaspoon worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Cut tomatoes in halves. Mix all ingredients together and spread cut sides of tomatoes with mixture. Let stand for 15 minutes, then place on broiler rack 3 inches below heating unit. Broil about 10 minutes, or until lightly browned and heated thru. Serve hot.

Hot Tamale Loaf.
[Serves six.]

2 tablespoons margarine or bacon drippings
1 cup fresh chopped tomatoes
1 pound ground beef
¾ cup whole kernel corn [or left-over corn]
½ cup chopped onion
¼ cup sliced stuffed olives
2 teaspoons chili powder
1 clove garlic, minced [may be omitted]
¾ teaspoon salt
¾ cup milk
1 cup yellow cornmeal
2 eggs, well beaten

Melt fat in large saucepan, add tomatoes, meat, corn, onion, olives, chili powder, garlic, and salt. Mix thoroly and cook, covered, for 15 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add milk, cornmeal, and well beaten eggs. Cook until thick, stirring constantly. Pour into a well greased loaf pan and bake in a 375 degree oven for 30 minutes or until well browned.

Oven Baked Croquettes Digested More Easily

Croquettes may be oven baked as well as pan fried. The oven method saves fat and gives a more easily digested product. When meat and dessert are to be baked in the oven, utilize the same heat to cook vegetable croquettes. Make them as usual, brush well with melted fat, then bake on a greased pan in a moderate oven.

Hot Rice Rinse.

Use hot water instead of cold to rinse rice before cooking. Hot water removes the surface starch more satisfactorily. Hot water does a better job, too, in rinsing the cooked rice—and it keeps the rice warm.

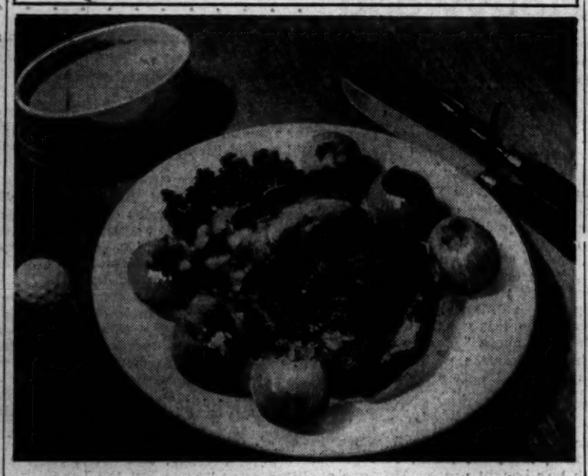
A Tender Pot Roast of Beef



Pot roast of beef with baked onions is a sure sign of cooler weather. To tenderize tough fibers of beef cut ordinarily used for pot roast, follow these rules: Brown seasoned and floured meat on all sides in small amount of fat. Add no more than ¼ cup water, wine, or tomato juice; cover, and cook at simmering temperature atop stove or in a 325 degree oven for 2½ to 3½ hours, or until tender. Add additional liquid from time to time. A teaspoon of mixed dried herbs added to liquid gives meat a pleasing flavor.

ADVANCE GIFTS SET FAST PACE FOR FUND DRIVE

Chairman Reveals Total of $1,612,000.

Advance gifts of $1,612,000 by Chicago firms to the Community and War fund were announced last night by Clarence B. Randall, chairman of the $12,980,000 1944 campaign, at a dinner attended by members of the special gifts division in the Palmer House. The drive will open officially on Oct. 2.

The larger amounts and the donors follow:

International Harvester company, $300,000; Commonwealth Edison company, $160,000; Swift & Co., and Illinois Bell Telephone company, each $150,000; Armour & Co., $120,000; Continental Illinois National Bank and Trust company, $100,000; First National bank, $80,000; William Wrigley Jr., and Montgomery Ward & Co., $75,000 each; Marshall Field & Co., $65,000; Peoples Gas, Light & Coke company, $60,000; Inland Steel company, $57,000; General American Transportation company, $50,000; Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad, $45,000; and Public Service Company of Northern Illinois, and Wilson & Co., each $40,000.

Other smaller ones will be made public later, it was announced.

Mayor Pledges His Aid.

Mayor Kelly, who for the first time takes an active working part in collection of the money, told the 300 business men present:

"I came to receive orders and go to work."

Elmer T. Stevens, head of the State st. store of Charles A. Stevens & Brother, who is president of the fund, told how Randall, vice president of the Inland Steel company, in accepting the post of drive chairman, "set the spiritual level" of the campaign.

"When I asked Randall to serve he said, 'Yes, I want to do a real job in this war for which I am not paid,'" Stevens said. "That is the spirit of every one in it. We in Chicago are going to have the biggest organization in the country for this drive—65,000. We will pile up the largest amount ever raised here.

Division's Job Outlined.

"We have listed for the first time 90,000 small businesses and business men never before solicited; each will receive a personal call from some worker.

"It will be the job of this special gifts division this year to obtain more than half of the goal set for the drive—$8,600,000—and that amount must come from 2,500 individuals and businesses on your list."

Adlai E. Stevenson, former assistant special secretary of the navy, pointed to war fund accomplishments in alleviating suffering and asserted, "Your National War fund dollars are our tangible thanks to soldiers, sailors, prisoners, and refugees in 21 countries on six continents."

27 STATES FIGHT TO KEEP RIGHTS IN WATER BILLS

One hundred representatives of 27 states met yesterday in the Stevens hotel to preserve the integrity of state rights in flood control and other water legislation. They proposed to do this by perfecting and insuring adoption of amendments to the omnibus rivers and harbors bill and flood control bills now pending before the senate.

"We are fearful of the gradual encroachment of the federal government in working out natural resource developments in an arbitrary way without consideration of the states and the people directly affected," said Judge Clifford H. Stone of Denver, chairman of the committee on preservation of integrity of state water laws of the National Reclamation association. "We propose to recall that this is a government of law, and not a government of men."

Sen. O'Mahoney of Wyoming, author of proposed amendments, told the meeting that the rights of the individual and of localities must be preserved in the post-war world. He urged that the balance between federal and local governments be as carefully measured in the flood control bill as it was when the Constitution was drawn.

URGES RETURN OF FREE TRADE AFTER THE WAR

The only basis for sound agricultural and industrial relations between the United States and other nations is a return to free trade, brought about by a gradual lessening of government intervention, Leroy D. Stinebower, adviser to the office of economic affairs in Washington, D. C., declared yesterday.

Speaking before the 20th institute of the Harris Foundation at the University of Chicago, Stinebower said. "There already are disturbing signs that war time state trading arrangements may be continued into the post-war period for other than purely emergency reasons."

Allan G. B. Fisher, professor of international economics at the Royal Institute of International Affairs, London, said: "We must within certain limits accept the world as we find it, and I cannot picture in my life time the governments, of, say the United Kingdom or the United States taking instructions from any international organization as to the policies which they should pursue in the fields of food and agriculture."

3 POLIO CASES LISTED IN CITY WITHIN ONE DAY

Three new cases of infantile paralysis, with no deaths, were reported in Chicago in the 24 hour period ended at 9 a. m. yesterday, Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, said. There have been 81 cases and two deaths this year, compared with 492 and 52 deaths last year at this time. In the 24 hours ended at 9 a. m. on Sept. 7, 1943, there were 21 new cases and three deaths.

A 16 year old Highland Park boy was listed yesterday as a polio victim, bringing to four the total of cases reported in the north shore suburb this year. The cases include one fatality.

GREEN REPEATS UNION WARNING: SHUN POLITICS

AFL President Cites Post-War Stake.

If labor unions are effectively to perform the proper function as representatives of labor they must maintain a strictly nonpartisan political policy, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared yesterday before a meeting in the Palmer House of the Distilling Rectifying Wine Workers International union.

This is particularly true, Green said, if unions are to aid in sustaining the prosperity he predicted would follow immediately after the end of war.

Nonpartisan Since Formation.

"Since its formation in 1881," Green said, "the AFL has maintained a strict nonpartisan policy because it thus can best serve the interests of labor. No union should give allegiance to any political party. The workers know who their friends and who their enemies are and can decide for themselves where their vote is best cast."

Green predicted that a period of prosperity "without precedent in the history of the United States" would follow in the wake of the war. It will have the appearance of a burst dam, he said, because of heavy demand for articles whose manufacture has been suspended during the war.

Unions can aid in maintaining this prosperity by keeping wages and buying power high, he said.

Asserts Drys are Gaining.

Another speaker, Stanley Barr, director of the Allied Liquor Industries, Inc., an organization of 20 distillers and 400 small operators, stressed the danger of the increasing strength of prohibitionists.

"The liquor industry must sell itself to the public," he said, "or the drys are going to plunge this country into another period of gangsterism like the 1920s."

Prohibitionists are gaining power, he said, because so many people who opposed them are now in uniform.

AFL CONTINUES TO BACK DAY, GREEN AVERS

The indorsement of Rep. Stephen A. Day, Illinois congressman at large seeking reelection, still stands, William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, declared here yesterday. Labor groups had urged Green to retract the indorsement given at national headquarters in Washington some time ago.

"The indorsement of Day was based on his voting record in congress," Green declared, "which still is the basis by which we judge public officials." The AFL chieftain, here to address the Distillery, Rectifying and Wine Workers' International union, added that Day would continue to receive his support.

As an example of Day's support of labor on legislative matters, Green said, he voted against the Smith-Connally anti-strike bill and in support of the President's veto.

OPA LETTING BIG PEACH CROP ROT, SAYS HOFFMAN

(Chicago Tribune Press Service.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—The OPA is letting more than 75,000 bushels of peaches go to waste daily in Michigan by refusing to release available truck tires that would permit their shipment to canners and fresh fruit markets, Rep. Hoffman [R., Mich.] told the house today.

Hoffman said he has appealed for relief to OPA headquarters here and been advised that it will "take a week" for a decision on the release of tires to filter from Washington to the OPA regional office at Grand Rapids.

"I appeal to any and all peach growers in the house," the congressman said, "to advise what can be done with hundreds of thousands of bushels of rotting peaches while OPA makes up its mind."

COURT'S ORDER HALTS REFINERY SEIZURE BY PAW

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 7 (AP).—Federal Judge William A. Atwell today issued a temporary restraining order to restrain the petroleum administration for war from taking over the refinery and butadiene plant of the Humble Oil and Refining company at Ingleside, Tex.

The Humble company, in its petition, alleged the defendants are "threatening to use their own great physical force and that of a portion of the United States army to enforce their illegal and wrongful seizure."

The company contended there was no labor trouble at their Ingleside plant, near Corpus Christi, Tex., but that the alleged threatened seizure was based on the desire of the war labor board to incorporate a maintenance of membership clause in labor contracts.

The court's order is returnable Sept. 14.

OVER $2,000,000 LEFT IN WILL BY CUDAHY OFFICIAL

Frank E. Wilhelm, first vice president of the Cudahy Packing company, who died Aug. 29, left an estate in excess of $2,000,000, it was estimated when his will was filed yesterday with Frank Lyman, clerk of the Probate court. His widow, Jean Cudahy Wilhelm, will receive the income from the estate in trust until her death, when it will revert to a son, Capt. David Wilhelm, and a daughter, Mrs. Daggett Harvey of Chicago. Wilhelm, who was 62 years old, lived at 735 Ravine av., Lake Bluff, and the will will be transferred to Probate court in Lake county, Lyman said.

BROWNS BEAT WHITE SOX, 5-4; TIE FOR LEAD

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

WELLINGTON [WIMPY] QUINN, who played third base at the University of Oregon, first base for the Los Angeles Angels, and pitched for the Cubs, is an outfielder for the San Diego marines with a .400 batting average. . . . Ceferino Garcia, the former middleweight champion, is training in Los Angeles for a comeback. . . . He expects to be ready to fight again before the holidays. . . . It costs $960 to start a horse in the Hambletonian, harness racing's Kentucky Derby. . . . Minnesota's football roster includes the names of boys from a dozen states and Hawaii. . . . President Theodore Roosevelt was a member of the Amateur Athletic union board of governors. . . . The Phillies have won more games on the road this summer than in Shibe park. . . . Who can remember 'way back when Jimmy Dykes was conceding the American league pennant to the Cleveland Indians and Lou Boudreau was equally confident that the White Sox had it in the bag? . . . George R. Gibbon, one of the most promising backs at the University of Pennsylvania, has enlisted in the navy. . . . Coach George Munger has turned over five other players to navy midshipmen's schools in the last few weeks. . . . Frankie Silva, who was a headliner in California rings in the days of the four round limit, is working in a ship yard at Stockton. . . . Byron Nelson won the All-American Open tournament at Tam o' Shanter with pre-war golf balls. . . . When George May announced early last spring that first prize in the meet would be $13,462.50, By selected nine balls from his meager pre-Pearl Harbor stock and entrusted them to Mrs. Nelson for safekeeping. . . . "That is one event I want to win," said Nelson—and he did. . . . Add to the list of sports personalities whose names are spelled wrong more often than right in the public prints the name of Chicago's Charles Bidwill, pro football and horse race magnate. . . . Out of town newspapers spell it Bidwell nine times out of 10.

Deflation.

While browsing thru an attic trunk
I came across a bit of junk
And in it found a picture of a boy—
A scrawny, puny, little runt
Whose teeth were overlapped in front
And in whose arms was tightly held a toy.

I showed the snapshot to my wife
And asked if she, in all her life,
Had ever seen an oaf as dumb as he.
She answered that she surely had
And that she long had known the lad
Whose picture so amused the likes of me.

"I fell in love with him," she said,
"And, tho the years have swiftly fled,
My love for him is greater now than then . . .
That mirth provoking photograph
At which you scoff and loudly laugh,
Was made of you, my dear, when you were 10."

The Best We Can.

Most of us do the best that we can
With the tools that we have at hand.
The bits and the pieces that make up our lives
Are not always too easily planned;
The pattern's not always perfect,
There are uneven spots here and there,
But perhaps we ran short of materials
And the means to get more weren't there.

No one ever deliberately plans
To make of his life a flop.
A wrong turn taken, a deep faith shaken
And it's sometimes too late to stop.
Yes, most of us do the best that we can
With the tools that we have at hand;
So let's judge neither triumph nor failure
Till we're sure that we understand!

BY MAURICE SHEVLIN.

Thorobred racing, which broke all state records for attendance and wagering in 70 days of action presented by Arlington and Washington Park at Washington Park, moves to Hawthorne today for a 34 day stand which promises to be one of the best in the long history of the Stickney establishment.

Purse distribution will be $499,500, an increase of $130,000 over the 1943 figure and the Chicago Business Men's Racing association, of which Charles W. Bidwill is chairman of the board and Charles Krutckoff is president and general manager, has provided for six major stake events ranging from $7,500 to $15,000 in added money.

Run Speed Handicap Tomorrow.

These races include the $7,500 Hawthorne speed handicap tomorrow and the $15,000 Hawthorne handicap on Sept. 30. Five of the races are for 3 year olds and up, while 2 year olds draw the spotlight in the 18th running of the $7,500 Hawthorne juvenile handicap, a six furlong affair, on Sept. 23.

Along with the six stakes and a $5,000 feature on Columbus day, Oct. 12, many overnight handicaps are on the program, including a $2,500 race every Wednesday. No purse will be less than $1,500 and many each day are for $1,800 and $2,000.

Nine Entered in Inaugural.

Officials for the meeting are: Stewards—William A. Hamilton, C. Bruce Head, William R. Dahlstrom, and Joseph J. Graddy. Judges—Harry B. Lindenberger, William Regan, and Robert McAuliffe, James T. Clark, William J. Shelley, Ray Hoertz, and George Molesworth. Lawrence C. Bogenschutz is racing secretary.

The $2,500 inaugural handicap tops today's card which marks the 53d anniversary of Hawthorne racing. The event, for 3 year olds and upward at a mile and 70 yards, has drawn a field of nine. Top impost of 114 pounds has been assigned the Happy Hour farm's consistent Happy Pilot, winner of three races in five starts at Washington. Happy Pilot will be coupled with Martian in the betting.

Attendance Hits 1,061,172.

Arlington-Washington Parks' coordinated meeting drew total attendance of 1,061,172, based on a crowd estimated at 11,000 for the closing program. Last season the attendance for 77 days was 790,278. The combined pari-mutuel betting was $66,656,531, an average daily handle of approximately $950,000.

Mrs. George Poulsen's Sentinel won Washington's closing feature, the $5,000 Ten Broeck marathon handicap, a two mile turf event which was placed eighth on the program. Isaroma was second and Flying Hostess third. Happy Hour farm's Starcress, winner of nine races this season and installed a 2 to 1 favorite, got off last and did not pass a horse in the field of seven.

The daily double was worth $16.20 on victories by W. W. Crenshaw's Edgar B. in the first race and Chuck Passarieu's Proud Sister in the second. Edgar B. was ridden by Billy Nichols and paid $7.60 for $2. Jackie Martin rode Proud Sister, the odds-on favorite, which returned $3.20.

WALDORF SENDS N. U. LINE THRU STIFF WORKOUT

Coach Lynn Waldorf, who has assumed the responsibilities of line coach at Northwestern since the departure of Burt Ingwersen into the service, put the Wildcat line thru a stiff blocking drill yesterday as he sought to develop players at several key positions. The biggest problems are at center and right guard, where all of the candidates are newcomers.

Jim O'Malley, who played on St. George High school's Chicago championship team last fall, has the edge at the pivot spot, where his principal competition stems from Norm Trout, navy trainee from St. Paul, and Duane Peterson, a freshman from Minot, N. D. The center ranks were strengthened yesterday by the addition of Ralph Trompeter, a freshman from Peru, Ill.

Another freshman, Gene Justak of Whiting, Ind., is currently established at right guard. The 185 pound yearling is a brother of Ray Justak, a junior, who holds down the other guard assignment. Dave Shwayder of Denver and Michael Del Camp of Maywood, both navy V-12 men, are other right guard aspirants.

ILLINI LINEUP TAKES SHAPE.

Champaign, Ill., Sept. 7 [Special].—Illinois' starting lineup for the opening game with Illinois Normal, nine days away, shaped up today with Sam Zatkoff, Hamtramck, Mich., and Lou Agase, Evanston, ends; Chuck Smith, Elgin, and Les Bingaman, Gary, Ind., tackles; Frank Hurtte, Taylorville, and Larry Forst, Chicago, guards; George Bujan, Christopher, center; Don Greenwood, Chicago, quarter back; Eddie Bray, Utica, and Paul Patterson, Aurora, half backs, and Jerry Cies, Carlinville, full back.

This team has been used constantly as a unit in scrimmage this week. Patterson, a freshman, has taken over the right half spot since Eddie McGovern, who held the post a year ago, has not reported. Sure to alternate with Patterson is Claude [Buddy] Young, N. C. A. A. spring champion. Patterson leads Young at present because he is the best forward passer on the squad.

Toughest competition is at full back, where Cies, Fred Green of Champaign, Stan Sprague of Belleville, Bob Cunz of De Kalb, and Orville Hall of Chicago are in the running.

GRAIZIGER JOINS GOPHERS.

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 7 [Special].—Bob Graiziger, veteran Minnesota football star, moved into the battle for a starting Gopher guard position upon joining the squad today. Dave Day of Brighton, Ia., and Bob Jensen, former St. Thomas college guard, have been holding down the first string guard positions, but Graiziger also was inserted into the first team in today's drill.

After two days' absence with a bad throat, Wayne Dawson returned to practice. He was used, however, only in forward passing drill. Bud Gullickson, freshman from Billings, Mont., continued to play Dawson's half back position in scrimmage.

Ohio Displays Early Season Aerial Power

Columbus, O., Sept. 7 [Special].—There was evidence of the development of a good passing attack in Ohio State football team's practice today when the first plays of the season were given to the squad.

For the passing drill Les Horvath and Tom Keane did the throwing. Following the passing period, when the regulars appeared principally on offense, the place kickers went into action with Keane, Dick Flanagan, Ollie Cline, and Jack Dugger showing to the best advantage.

The Buckeye back field had Flanagan and Bob Brugge at halves, Cline at full back, with Horvath at quarter back.

BADGERS SHIFT BACKS.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 7 [Special].—Coach Harry Stuhldreher sent his Wisconsin football squad thru another offensive drill today, making one change in his back field that sent Allen Shafer, center during the summer drills, to the quarter back post in place of Nick Holmes. No. 1 back field also had Earl Girard at left half, Joe Campbell at right half, and Jerry Thompson at full back.

HOOSIERS STRESS PASSING.

Bloomington, Ind., Sept. 7 [Special].—Passing and punting were stressed for the second straight day today as Coach Bo McMillin began polishing the Indiana university football attack for the opening game against Fort Knox on Sept. 16. Ralph Thompson, Indianapolis freshman half back, threw the passes today. Ted Kluszewski of Argo, Ill.; Bill Uecker from La Grange, Ill.; and Abe Addams of Louisville, Ky., all freshmen, received most of the attention in punting practice.

PURDUE FROSH LOOK GOOD.

Lafayette, Ind., Sept. 7 [Special].—Two freshmen half backs, Robert Pfohl of Goshen and Ted Held of Crosse Pointe, Mich., attracted attention this afternoon as the Purdue university football squad continued preparation for the season opener with Great Lakes two weeks from Saturday.

CARDINALS GET 2 IN 9TH TO WIN FROM CUBS, 3-2

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 7.—The Cubs came close tonight to dodging their 14th straight 1944 defeat at the hands of the Cardinals but wavered on what should have been the play that clinched the accomplishment. With two out in the ninth, Len Merullo erred as the tying run was sailing toward the plate and a moment later the disconcerted Bob Chipman southpawed a wild pitch to let in another runner for a final score of 3 to 2 before 6,186 revenue spectators and 6,837 women guests.

Until the Merullo crackup the Cubs thought they had devised a very simple scheme for the registering of their first victory of the season over the repeating champions. The scheme was a homer by Phil Cavarretta with a mate on base in the sixth when the Cubs paired two of a skimpy total of four hits for which they were responsible during the nine innings of battling, all four off Harry Brecheen, who retired after seven rounds of labor.

Encountered Real Trouble in 3d.

Chipman, altho annoyed by Cardinal base runners in almost every inning, dodged his enemies, prior to the ninth, in all except the third. Martin Marion opened that episode with a double to left and was quickly belted home by Emil Verban's single. Chipman escaped from the spot only by getting Stan Musial and Walker Cooper with the bases filled. He was saved from another possible jam in the seventh when Augie Bergamo and Johnny Hopp singled with one out, only to have their plan broken up by a rifle shot throw to third by Andy Pafko who was back in center for the first time since his injury Aug. 19.

The run that brought on the tie for a moment in the ninth was personally started by Chipman. He walked Marion, who led off and was bunted to second by Verban. Ray Sanders batted for Eldred Byerly, who got the decision after two innings of work, and grounded to Cavarretta. Then the crash came on Augie Bergamo's bounder which Merullo grabbed but promptly dropped back of second, Marion going in from third. Next came a single from Johnny Hopp's bat, Bergamo taking third whence he scored when Chipman's third pitch to Musial skidded off the dirt in front of the plate and rolled to the grand stand.

Scoring Bid in 7th Fails.

Don Johnson picked up a single in the first inning and this proved the Cubs' only hit until Stan Hack, back at his regular place at third, doubled to left with one out in the sixth. After Johnson had flied out, Hack got an unexpected ride to third on a wild pitch and soon thereafter Cavarretta exploded his No. 5 homer, the ball bouncing off the light tower in right field for the 2 to 1 lead. The Cubs' only other hit was a double by Merullo after Frank Secory had walked in the seventh. Dewey Williams also was walked, filling the bases with one out, but Chipman and Hack lofted to Danny Litwhiler.

Dizzy Trout, Tigers Defeat Cleveland, 3-0

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 7 (AP).—The Detroit Tigers, making hay behind Paul [Dizzy] Trout's three hit pitching, whitewashed the Cleveland Indians, 3 to 0, today to shave their distance back of the American league leading Yankees and Browns to a single game.

Trout checked the Indians all afternoon in recording his sixth shutout this year and his 24th pitching victory against 10 defeats. He fanned Lou Boudreau and Roy Cullenbine for the last two putouts in the ninth, striking out five over the distance and walking three.

Bagby is Pounded.

Detroit pounded Right Hander Jim Bagby, the Cleveland starter, for five singles in the first inning but an Indian double play cut the run production to a single tally.

It was all Trout needed, tho Detroit combined three more singles with a sacrifice for another run in the fifth and shoved across another score in the seventh. Roger Cramer led off with his second single of the game, was sacrificed to second, beat Boudreau's throw to third off Pinky Higgins' grounder, and scored after Rudy York's deep fly to center.

Joe Heving Finishes.

Bagby stayed thru to the eighth, when removed for a pinch hitter, and Joe Heving retired the Tigers in order in their last turn. Bagby was charged with his fifth setback against three victories.

The game, played in chilly temperatures, attracted 6,429 paid admissions. Score:

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 7 (AP).—Byron Nelson and Harold [Jug] McSpaden, who between them have gathered in close to $60,000 on the war bond trail, finished with two under par 69s to lead the field today in the second annual Texas Victory Open tournament's first 18 holes. McSpaden, two over par after the first nine, came home in 32 to tie Nelson.

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The St. Louis Browns scored three runs in the ninth inning last night to grab a 5 to 4 victory over the White Sox and co-tenancy of first place with the New York Yankees in the American league standings. The game was attended by the unusual spectacle of a majority of the crowd whooping it up for Luke Sewell's proteges to win.

Going into the seventh the Sox were leading 4 to 0.

Then Came the Payoff.

The Browns made two runs off Orval Grove in the seventh and the score read at 4 to 2 until the ninth. Here's what happened in the ninth:

Don Gutteridge bounced out to Ralph Hodgin. Milt Byrnes singled to left for his first hit of the game and Al Zarilla lined one into left for his third safe one, Byrnes stopping at second. Gordon Maltzberger went in and walked Vern Stephens, loading the bases. Mike Chartak singled to right, scoring Byrnes and Zarilla with the tying runs, Stephens racing to third. Gene Moore flied to Thurman Tucker, scoring Stephens with the winning run.

Al Shirley, third Brownie pitcher, who had held the Sox hitless in the eighth, retired the side in order in the home ninth. Maltzberger was charged with the defeat and Shirley was credited with the victory.

Tigers a Game Behind.

In addition to going into a tie with the Yankees, the Browns kept pace for the day with the Detroit Tigers, who beat the Cleveland Indians in the afternoon. They are a full game ahead of the third place Tigers.

The victory was the 10th for the Browns in 14 games with the Sox and the teams will play eight more matches before either engages any other team in the league. Manager Sewell, a former member of the happy little White Sox family, perhaps hates to pick on his old pals, but it is said most of his pennant hopes recently have been predicated on the nine games he had coming up with the seventh place Chicagoans.

Jimmy Actually Appears.

On the other hand, the Sox are determined to knock out the Brownies. They bore down admirably last night and Manager Jimmy Dykes became so steamed up in the seventh inning that he made his first appearance on the field in weeks. He lost a debate with the umpires, but his team still was ahead, 4 to 2.

The Sox got off to a good start last night, making two runs in the first inning with two Brownie errors and a single by Hodgin. Facing Denny Galehouse, Wally Moses, first up for Chicago, reached first when his grounder rolled between Gutteridge's heels. Wally stole second, then Hodgin singled to right, scoring him. Moore made a throw to the plate and the situation became worse for the Browns when the ball got away from Frank Mancuso and rolled to the screen, Hodgin got to third, whence he scored while Gutteridge was throwing out Hal Trosky.

Skeeter Comes Thru.

Trosky opened the fourth with a single to right, then Gutteridge fumbled Tucker's grounder, Trosky stopping at second. The pair advanced on Eddie Carnett's sacrifice, whereupon Mike Tresh was given an intentional pass, loading the bases. Skeeter Webb sent a single to right, scoring Trosky and Tucker and putting Tresh on third, where he stayed.

The Browns scored twice in the seventh. Sam Zoldak, second St. Louis pitcher, opened with a single to right and scored on Gutteridge's triple to left center. Byrnes walked and Zarilla flied to Tucker, Gutteridge scoring.

The teams will meet again this afternoon.

PREP ATHLETE WINS PLEA FOR REINSTATEMENT

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 7 (AP).—Restoration of the athletic eligibility of Albert [Alby] Plain during his senior year at Springfield High school was ordered today by Judge L. E. Stone in Sangamon county Circuit court.

The court directed the school principal, Lyman K. Davis, named as defendant in a mandamus action brought by young Plain's father, to reinstate the boy's name on the school's athletic eligibility list from which it had been stricken by Davis.

Plain's name had been removed because the Illinois High School association had declared him barred from one year of prep play on the ground he had violated an association by-law by participating in a prep all-star baseball game in Chicago last July.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST NEWSPAPER

ASKS MATERIAL TO GET CIVILIAN WORK STARTED

Will Smooth Shift, Says Maytag.

Sufficient materials and man power should be made available now to permit manufacturers to start pilot line operations to prevent excessive unemployment during the reconversion period, Fred Maytag, president of the Maytag company, Newton, Ia., said in an interview in Chicago yesterday.

Asserting that nothing should be permitted to interfere with needed war production, Maytag said he believed that cutbacks already have made some materials and man power available and that these surpluses would grow progressively as further reductions are made in war production.

Need Action—Not Promises.

"The war production board's announcement that unrestricted production would be permitted after Germany's surrender is definitely a step in the right direction, but it is not adequate to prevent widespread unemployment during the reconversion period," he said.

"We need definite action now—not merely statements of future intentions—if American industry is to provide maximum employment after the war.

"Some people cherish the illusion that we can stop building aircraft parts on V-day and start delivering finished washing machines the next. They don't realize that it takes weeks to process raw materials, retrain workers, and develop a smoothly flowing production program. During the reconversion period thousands of workers in washer plants will be idle unless there is immediate release of available raw material so they can get ready for full production after the European war."

Made War Shift Smoothly.

The Maytag company, one of the largest washing machine companies, now makes aircraft castings and other parts, employing about 3,000 persons. The company was able to convert to war work with only about 200 out of work for a few weeks, because it started producing war items long before it stopped making washing machines, Maytag said. It started on war work in June, 1941, and stopped making washing machines in April, 1942. Now it wants to reverse the process, and do a little advance work on peace goods.

"There is no possibility of accomplishing the 1942 results in reconversion under the present program," he declared. "Officials predict a 40 per cent cutback in war production when Hitler is defeated, but if we wait until that time it will be a tragic mistake. Our civilian economy will suffer as much as the army and navy would have suffered had we waited until Pearl Harbor to order our guns and ammunition."

WPB PERMITS NONPRIORITY LUMBER SALES

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7 (AP).—WPB today authorized the sale to nonpriority consumers of an estimated 300 million board feet of certain lumber stocks accumulated in distributors' yards, which are not adaptable for war uses.

The action provided that, if certified orders continue to be filled, a distributor may sell the specified lumber until Dec. 31 without priority rating or special WPB authorization. The total of such sales must be held to one-third of the distributor's Sept. 1, 1944, lumber inventory.

SMELTING $7 PREFERRED.

Among the old time $7 cumulative noncallable preferred stocks I note American Smelting and Refining preferred sells for a lower premium than some of the others. How well is the stock protected by earnings and assets? R. O.

During the last 10 years the company's earnings have averaged $26.58 a share annually as applied to the preferred stock, or 3.8 times the dividend requirements. For the first half of 1944 the profit was equal to $8.45 a preferred share, with a dividend requirement of $3.50.

The requirements were not fully earned in the depression years 1931 and 1932, and the dividends were paid only in part in 1932 and 1933. The arrearage was cleared in 1934. Otherwise the preferred dividend has been paid each year since the company was established in 1899.

With no funded debt American Smelting's current assets as of June 30, 1944, exceeded current liabilities by $79,721,756. Thus the net quick assets were equal to $159 a preferred share, altho, of course, the stock has a claim of only $100 a share. Other assets included $20,471,786 in investments, less reserve, chiefly in affiliated enterprises, and physical properties of $50,205,562 net after depreciation and depletion reserves.

Because the company's operations are based on natural resources subject to depletion, or even possible exhaustion in some instances in course of time, the long range outlook may not be as clear as in the case of certain other industries. Smelting's earnings are reported after allowances for depletion of mines, and new properties or interests in additional mining enterprises are acquired from time to time.

Bausch, Lomb Firm Accused of Aid to Nazis

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Bausch & Lomb, an American optical goods manufacturer, was accused today by Wendell Berge, assistant attorney general, of giving secret American military information to Germans both before and after Hitler came into power.

Berge testified before a senate military affairs subcommittee which is investigating international cartels or trade monopolies. His testimony dealt with Bausch & Lomb, Rochester, N. Y., and the firm of Carl Zeiss of Jena, Germany.

Gave Name to German Patents.

Berge told the subcommittee:

"1. Action was taken in 1921 to nullify the provisions of the Versailles treaty, which prohibited Germany from large scale manufacturing of military equipment.

"2. The parties caused Zeiss patents in this country to be taken out in the name of Bausch & Lomb, thus giving an appearance of American ownership and consequent protection against seizure by an alien property custodian.

"3. Secret United States military information was given by Bausch & Lomb to Germans not only before but after Hitler came into power.

Secret Commission Alleged.

"4. Unknown to the navy, a secret commission to Bausch & Lomb was included in prices paid by the navy for equipment furnished by Zeiss.

"5. Public declarations were made as to a policy of not selling military equipment to England and France for fear it might be used against this country, when the reason such policy existed was because of the provisions of a secret agreement with a German concern."

Berge told of the Zeiss company's control over manufacture of periscopes, range finders, bomb sights, and other military equipment in warning that German cartels must be destroyed if Germany is to be prevented from rearming by evasion of the peace terms after this war.

"Pact Urged by Navy."

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 7 (AP).—M. Herbert Eisenhart, president of Bausch & Lomb company, said today the company "had no intension of renewing contractual relations abroad after the war," but declared agreements made after the World war with Carl Zeiss of Germany contributed "to allied victories all over the world and will hasten the defeat of the axis."

"Our contractual relations with Zeiss were made at the behest of the United States navy which, with the war department, desired to have us obtain the Zeiss technological developments and patent rights on military optical instruments for the United States," he added.

ETHIOPIA BANS U. S. LINES, BUT GETS 4 PLANES

Grants Britain Sole Operating Rights.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Coincidental with the disclosure that the United States has begun the shipment of lend-lease planes to Ethiopia, details were learned here today concerning the 1942 agreement under which the British obtained exclusive rights to commercial flights over that restored African nation.

The aviation rights were granted in an article of an agreement and military convention between Britain and Ethiopia under which Haile Selassie was restored to full sovereignty over the country and was promised economic assistance.

Provisions for replacement of the agreement by a treaty were made. It could not be learned here whether the treaty has been drawn and signed, but it was said that the agreement is still in force.

Pressing for U. S. Aid.

The aviation clause of the agreement discloses Britain was busy obtaining post-war air rights at a time when she was pressing for lend-lease aid from the United States and during the darkest hours of this country's participation in the war as Bataan was about to fall.

The agreement, dated Jan. 31, 1942, reads:

"ARTICLE XI.

"[a] His majesty the emperor will accord freedom of passage to, in, and over Ethiopia to duly registered British civil aircraft, provided that such regulations governing air navigation as may be in force in Ethiopia are enforced.

"[b] His majesty the emperor will permit British air transport organization or organizations, to be designated by the government of the United Kingdom, to operate regular air service to, in, and over Ethiopia for the carriage of passengers, mails, and freight. For this purpose the said organizations shall be permitted to use such airdromes, ground equipment, and facilities as are available, and to provide such other airdromes, ground equipment, and facilities as may be necessary.

Foreign Planes Barred.

"[c] His majesty the emperor will not permit foreign aircraft other than British to fly to, in, or over Ethiopia without the concurrence of the government of the United Kingdom."

The first of four planes to be delivered to Ethiopia under lend-lease reached Addis Ababa, the capital, this month. The plane was handed over by Maj. Gen. B. F. Giles, commanding the United States forces in the middle east, and Livingston L. Short, director of the United States economic mission in the middle east.

The United States has asked for no concessions in return for the planes nor for the air bases which have been built by the United States in Ethiopia for military purposes.

It could not be determined whether Adolph A. Berle, assistant secretary of state, knew of the British-Ethiopian agreement when he went to London for conferences on civil aviation with William Aitken, known in England as Lord Beaverbrook, lord privy seal. At the conference Berle reportedly made various commitments, including agreement to a monopoly for British air lines over all traffic from Britain to all parts of the empire.

Firms Inquire About Units in Freed Europe

Liberation of parts of France and Belgium by the allied armies and the impending defeat of Germany have encouraged some Chicago companies to begin making inquiries about the condition of their properties on the European continent. Among them are International Harvester company, Quaker Oats company, William Wrigley Jr. company, and Swift & Co.

A spokesman for International Harvester said the company's two plants in France have been freed from German control, but that little or nothing is known of their condition. The larger is at Croix in the Lille industrial district; the other is near Paris. The company representative said Harvester also had a plant near Dusseldorf, Germany, but believed it had been largely destroyed by bombing raids.

New Foreign Division Acts.

The company's foreign division recently was reorganized, and it is this department which is taking steps to reestablish communication with the two French plants, the spokesman said.

Altho it was still uncertain whether the company would resume production in the French plants, it was recalled that operations in European factories were resumed after the first World war. Anticipating complete loss of its facilities in Europe, the company in 1941 wrote them off as a complete loss at $9,388,000.

The Quaker Oats company has three plants in Europe, one in Copenhagen, Denmark; another in Rotterdam, Holland, and a third in Germany's Ruhr valley. A company official said there was basis for the belief that the Copenhagen plant was intact, but that little reliable information was available on the other two. The company is taking steps to inquire about its Rotterdam plants, he said. Quaker Oats expects to continue European operations after the war, but is uncertain when or where, the official said.

Status of Assets Unknown.

Altho it had no continental European plants, the Wrigley company had bank balances in France, Belgium, and other countries on the continent. A company representative said he had no idea whether the assets were hidden successfully or were seized by the Nazis.

"We didn't leave too much lying around over there, but we don't expect to see much of what we did leave," he said.

Swift & Co. had selling branches in Antwerp and Paris, but no plans have been drawn for resumption of operations, the company said.

Armour & Co. reported its plant in England was bombed by the Germans during the early part of the war, has since been restored and operated by the British government. The company plans to resume normal operations when the government returns the plant.

BUYERS QUICKLY ABSORB LARGER SUPPLY OF HOGS

Buyers at the Chicago stock yards yesterday quickly absorbed a larger hog supply without easing pressure against office of price administration ceilings. Many orders on both local and shipping account were unfilled at the close. The trade believed a substantial rise in volume would be necessary to reduce prices from the ceiling and did not expect such an increase for several weeks.

Prices of most lower class steers, yearlings and heifers broke sharply, some kinds falling as much as 50 cents. The top price of $18.30, was off only 5 cents, but most steers sold at $14 to $17.50. Beef cows and bulls were off 25 cents. Canners, cutters, and calves were steady.

Lambs sold at mostly steady prices.

ANTWERP DIAMONDS EXPECTED TO AFFECT U. S. MARKET LITTLE

New York, Sept. 7 (AP).—Reopening of the Antwerp diamond market, which normally cuts the bulk of the world's supply of smaller stones, probably will not affect gem prices here, diamond merchants said today.

Prices of smaller stones have been adjusted during recent months in anticipation of resumption of Antwerp production, they said. Rising from 100 to 300 per cent since 1939, they have dropped recently 10 to 15 per cent. They said any further decline would be gradual and negligible.

Questioning whether the Belgian market will be able to reopen on its pre-war scale, merchants said if that were possible, prices still would be determined by labor costs coupled with demand. They expect demand to continue high in the United States and to be expanded in Europe as other countries are liberated.

Possible inflation in Europe would reduce the number of stones available, would increase labor costs, and would cause an unusually heavy demand for diamonds as investments, merchants said.

Pre-Planning Held Need in Terminations

War contractors were advised yesterday by Henry P. Isham, chief of purchasing, termination, and renegotiation policy for the Chicago ordnance district, to begin planning immediately for contract terminations. He spoke at the Chicago Association of Commerce's final special meeting on contract terminations in the auditorium of the Marquette building.

Isham urged contractor interviews with ordnance department negotiators as an aid in pre-determining terminations, thus shortening the time for final settlement.

Confusion Is Predicted.

He warned that after V-day the rush and confusion experienced after Pearl Harbor will be repeated and there will be no time for ordnance department education of contractors in termination; that the department would be "plenty busy" taking care of those contractors who already had made plans for termination.

The same warning was made by Maj. C. T. Everett, head of the termination section of the ordnance department's tank-automotive branch, in an earlier talk. He discussed the problems which arose in the termination of Pullman-Standard Car Manufacturing company's canceled tank contract.

Contract Half Completed.

The Pullman tank contract, which amounted to 469 million dollars, was nearly 56 per cent completed at the time of termination, with an undelivered balance of 207 millions, he explained. The cancellation was authorized July 22 last year and was to become effective in January this year. However, in August it was determined that the air corps had urgent requirements and that the principal tank building area was ideal for its purpose, he said.

"The effective date of termination therefore was revised to Oct. 1, 1943," Maj. Everett said. "There were 275 tanks to be produced in September and the final tank was completed Sept. 25."

He told of the large amount of planning necessary to get the building vacated by Oct. 1 and at the same time finish the tank schedule. The disposition of the inventory involved 2,523 transactions on material valued at $14,300,000, with a total loss of $1,800,000, he said.

INDIANA GROUP FIGHTS C. & E. I. ELECTION MOVE

Urges Retention of Qualified Men.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

Evansville, Ind., shippers and manufacturers yesterday entered the fight started by a group of stockholders to block a reported effort by Chairman Jesse Jones of the RFC to influence the election of Holly Stover, a friend, as president of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad.

They wrote the directors of the railroad urging that the present management be retained or, if some one else was desired, that one qualified by experience in the railroad industry be selected.

Directors to Meet Today.

Directors of the road are scheduled to meet in Chicago today to vote on a reported proposal to elect Stover, Washington, D. C., coal man, to succeed Charles T. O'Neal as president, with O'Neal to become chairman of the board of directors. John L. Markham, Chicago coal and oil operator, has announced that he will head a stockholder fight at the next annual meeting if Stover is elected.

The letter from the Evansville group was signed by the following: Louis Ruthenburg, president of Servel, Inc.; Thomas J. Morton Jr., president of Hoosier Lamp and Stamping corporation; J. Henry Schroeder, vice president of Sunbeam Electric Manufacturing company; Henry Bohnsack, president of International Steel company; F. B. Culley, vice president of Southern Indiana Gas and Electric company; Frank Harrison, general manager of the shipbuilding division of Missouri Valley Bridge and Iron company; J. D. Beeler, vice president of Mead Johnson Terminal corporation, and Mundy Peale, vice president of the Indiana division of Republic Aviation corporation.

Interested in Road's Welfare.

"The undersigned manufacturers and shippers of Evansville, Ind., have a very direct and continuing interest in the welfare of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois railroad and its management," the group wrote the railroad's board.

"We feel that the railroad industry will face some very serious postwar problems which can only be met by the very strongest of managements. The experience of your present management and the splendid record they have established should not be disturbed, but should be encouraged and strengthened by the selection, if, in fact, a new selection is necessary, of one who by experience and past performance is fully qualified. Such qualifications should include comprehensive experience in railway operations, finances, rates, relationships with connecting carriers and with shippers—all related to the particular area in which the C. & E. I. operates."

STOCKS EXTEND DECLINE DESPITE SOME SUPPORT

New York, Sept. 7 (AP).—The stock market today extended its decline, but a foothold on recovery was obtained when some commitments were reinstated on the belief yesterday's sharpest relapse in nearly a year had been too severe despite persistent apprehension post-war reconversion will be difficult.

Less talk was heard of a quick victory in Europe. In some quarters it was believed that recent declines had discounted expected corporate unsettlement during the return to normal operations.

Transfers of 1,477,770 shares, compared with 1,470,260 yesterday, were the largest since July 17.

RAIL BONDS DECLINE.

New York, Sept. 7 (AP). — Rail bonds extended their decline today, but the main corporate list had about as many gainers as losers. Trading expanded from recent low levels, sales totaling $10,327,200, the largest in about two months.

CHICAGO LIST LOWER.

Chicago Stock exchange prices extended their decline yesterday in turnover of 46,000 shares. Only five issues advanced, 109 declined, and 22 closed unchanged. Most heavily traded issues included Radio corporation and Chicago corporation, both unchanged.

18 Quit Jobs, Force Seized Mine to Close

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7 (AP).—The solid fuels administration said tonight 18 supervisory employes have shut down a government-seized bituminous coal mine at McIntyre, Pa., by the simple expedient of resigning their jobs.

It is against the law to strike against the government, but whether the government will consider the resignations a violation of the Smith-Connally anti-strike act was not known tonight. The situation was believed unprecedented in coal labor disputes.

Undersecretary of the Interior Fortas, acting in the absence of Secretary Ickes, telegraphed John McAlpine, president of the United Clerical, Technical, and Supervisory Employes, a newly organized group within the United Mine Workers, and asked him to request the men to return to work tomorrow. Fortas asked McAlpine for an immediate reply. He also sent telegrams to the men urging them to return to their jobs.

Five More Mines Struck.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Sept. 7 (AP).—Five more coal mines were struck today on the heels of the extended seizure order of yesterday which raised to 33 the number of soft coal pits in Pennsylvania and West Virginia under government control because of walkouts involving demands by supervisory workers for company recognition of their union.

Steel Shutdown Spreads.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 7 (AP).—Operations ceased today at the Bessemer plant of Pullman Standard Car Manufacturing company in a strike affecting nearly 1,000 employes, bringing the district's idle to almost 2,000. Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company shut down additional installations in a two day old steel production tieup.

Rolling Mills Halted.

Farrell, Pa., Sept. 7 (AP).—An unauthorized strike by nine cranemen in the open hearth department at the Carnegie-Illinois steel mill today caused the shutdown of one blast furnace and made idle the rolling mills.

Vote to End Walkout.

Detroit, Mich., Sept. 7 (AP).—About 265 striking maintenance men at Briggs Manufacturing company's Conner plant voted tonight to return to work, ending a shutdown that made 11,000 aircraft workers idle.

SHORT COVERING ENDS GRAIN DIP; WHEAT IS HIGHER

Heavy short covering and aggressive commission house buying of grain futures yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade caused a strong rally with wheat in the lead after an early break had caused a decline of more than 2 cents in rye and sent barley to new seasonal low prices.

There was little pressure when buying started late in the session and altho the best prices were not maintained wheat closed 1⅜ to 2 cents higher. Oats finished unchanged to ⅝ cent higher. Rye was ⅝ cent lower to ⅜ cent higher and barley ⅛ to 1 cent lower.

A belief that a break of about 15 cents in wheat and 17 cents in rye in about three weeks had discounted much of the favorable European war news provided the background for the short covering. Many professional traders who have been talking bearish recently are understood to have taken profits on their short lines.

Truck Gasoline Appeals Barred if Filed Too Late

Appeals by truck operators for extra gasoline will not be accepted during the last seven days of any quarter, Frank T. Corcoran, division of highway transport regional manager for the office of defense transportation, announced yesterday. He said OPA officials said they could not process appeals so filed in time to get the emergency rations to operators before the validity period expired.

CHARGES NEW DEAL IGNORES PARITY PLEDGE

Seeking Vote Crop, Says Rep. Landis.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 7.—Political agriculturists of the New Deal who are "more interested in the vote crop of 1944 than in the food crop" were charged today with depriving farmers of millions of dollars thru failure to administer properly the 90 per cent parity price guarantee foted for food producers by congress.

Rep. Landis.

Rep. Landis [R., Ind.] charged in a house speech that the New Dealers, talking about giving farmers a billion dollars in benefit payments before the November election, are taking "the role of Santa Claus at a time when the department of agriculture is not even fulfilling the legal commitments it has made to the food producers of America."

"They had better be using these millions to fulfill their promises to the poultry, egg, milk and pork producers," he said. "Of course, the New Dealers gave away mattresses and hams in 1936 and 1940 and got away with it, so they apparently think the farmers will fall for it."

Charges Law Is Ignored.

Landis charged that the office of price administration and the war food administration have never made much of an attempt to follow the spirit of the law so far as maintaining parity prices on some dairy products are concerned. He said feed subsidies in southern states were 80 per cent higher than those allowed in midwest dairy states but that despite this disparity southern states were allowed as much as $4.60 a hundred weight for milk while Wisconsin dairy cooperatives recently were fined 3 million dollars when they exceeded OPA ceiling prices and sold their milk at $2.63 a hundred weight.

"I don't think, however, that OPA will try to collect the fine before election day," he added.

Hog Producers Losing.

Considering the manner in which the law governing the pork situation has been administered it is doubtful that WFA officials ever read it, Landis said. He asserted that small packers have ruthlessly been put out of business and that hog producers have lost untold millions. Light hogs have sold for as low as 30 per cent of parity, he said.

Landis also reviewed the WFA handling of egg production, asserting that altho the parity price was set at 39 cents a dozen, eggs sold for 25 cents, and such a surplus was created that WFA did not know how to handle it, with the result that thousands of cases of eggs spoiled and others were sold for tankage at 5 cents a case.

"This situation has been somewhat remedied for the time being and many persons believe that the election is having a considerable influence in getting the bureaus to show more interest in the 90 per cent guarantee in the law and follow it," he said. "But one fact is certain, and that is that the farmers cannot expect much security from the 90 per cent parity floor in the post-war world if the present outfit remains in power."

North Western Delays Common Dividend Action

R. L. Williams, president of the Chicago and North Western railway, announced that at yesterday's director's meeting it was decided to consider payment of a dividend on common stock later in the year. The stock was issued June 19 in a reorganization.
